

Two Undercover Agents Rescued by British May Have Been Israelis

Iraqi Judge has issued an arrest warrant because police say they weren't British

Their Car Was Loaded With Sophisticated Detonators

There Has Always Been Something Odd To The Basra Rescue

You have two SAS undercover agents, disguised as Medhi army, roaming around Basra, during a religious festival, with a car wired as a massive car bomb. They were stopped at a checkpoint, and if they were really SAS, all they needed to do was show an ID.

Something happened, and they decided to try an escape. They killed two policeman, were involved in a firefight, and captured.

Why Did These Two Panic?

If these were two SAS commandos, and on a undercover mission, why did they panic? The story is that they approached a checkpoint, were stopped, and suddenly there was a shootout.

These two needed to be rescued before they could be made to talk.

First Rescue Was An APC

Within minutes the first attempt, a single armored APC, arrived on scene to gather up the the undercover team. But a furious crowd firebombed the vehicle, and they had to retreat.

Why Did A Mob Want To Lynch The Commandos

The commandoes were discovered with information, that suggested a massive car bomb at a nearby religious festival.

Brigadier John Lorimer

After the first attempt failed the British commander ordered an all out assault on Jamiat prison.

Iraqi Police Commander

Why would he resist an attack of ten tanks, a company of soldiers, and helicopter support? Reports are now surfacing they were carrying Canadian passports, and they may not have been British.

Colonel Nick Henderson

He led the second assault with ten tanks and a helicopter. The statement released was the Iraqis turned the prisoners over to the Militias, but they were found in the Jamiat prison compound.

What Was So Important?

The British decided to take immediate action. There was a confrontation and more Iraqis were killed.

Basra Judge Issues Arrest Warrant

These could be civilian contractors, presumably Israeli, and a Judge Raghیب al-Mudhafar, has issued an arrest warrant.

Whoever They Were - The British Will Receive The Backlash

The British and Americans installed these police, so what made this event escalate to a battle? Why shootouts at checkpoints, two assaults on police stations, arrest warrants, and numerous versions of what really happened.

Everything points to these 'SAS' as being Israeli commandos, and the Mossad was petrified they would talk. British now say they can't find the operatives.

The trouble is, because of this fiasco, the ordinary Iraqis believe it's the British that are behind the various bombings.

Judicial Index

00001503