Israeli settlers stab to death Palestinian child

7/21/2005 3:59:00 PM GMT

Two Israeli settlers stabbed to death a 12-year-old Palestinian boy near the West Bank city of Nablus, Palestinian sources said.

The Palestinian Interior Ministry said in a statement that Yazan Mohamed Mussa, 12, was killed due to an atrocious crime committed by two Israeli settlers.

The incident took place late Wednesday in a Palestinian town next to the Jewish settlement of Shiloh in the northern West Bank.

Witnesses reported the stabbing to the Police, and Mussa was rushed to a hospital in Nablus, where he died.

Doctors said Mussa was stabbed 12 times.

Witnesses reported that the boy was stabbed during a clash with Israeli settlers.

Mussa's father said he was unable to identify the attackers.

But another Palestinian boy who was with Mussa at the time of the stabbing said the victim was attacked by two bearded settlers.

Israeli Police claimed that the boy may have been killed in a feud between rival families in Mussa's village.

However, Police spokesman Shlomi Sagi said they are still investigating the case.

The Palestinian Interior Minister blamed the Israeli authorities for such horrible crimes against innocent civilians, and accused them of not providing enough protection for the Palestinians in accordance to international law and pacts.

Knesset rejects delaying Gaza withdrawal

In another development, the Israeli Parliament rejected on Wednesday three bills aimed at delaying the Gaza pullout plan.

Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon said the vote in the Knesset showed that a majority of the Israelis support the disengagement plan, due in mid-August.

"The disengagement plan will be implemented on time, as planned," he said. "But I want to say to the settlers: I understand your suffering, I feel the same pain. I love all of you."

Sharon has already won approval from his government and the Legislature to withdraw from all 21 settlements in the occupied Gaza Strip and four other enclaves in the northern West Bank.

Meanwhile, Israeli security forces prevented rightist settlers from marching on Gaza for a third straight day.

Thousands of Jewish settlers gathered on Monday in the village of Kfar Maimon, in southern Israel, to march to the Gaza settlements. But Police said Thursday that less than 10,000 protesters remained out of an estimated 30,000 who initially gathered in the area.

Police said the protesters are allowed to stay in Kfar Maimon, but they would be banned from approaching Gaza, which has been closed to non-residents.

In Gaza City, the Palestinian Authority and the resistance movement Hamas reached a deal to end a week of clashes that left two dead and 30 injured.

"We are emphasizing our national unity and we are against internal fighting," Ismail Haniya, a top Hamas leader, told a press conference.

the only person who claimed that "two bearded settlers" stabbed the boy was one other boy who claimed he witnessed the murder. note how vague the description is. he has no idea what the killers looked like, because they were "bearded", but he is sure they were settlers. it is far more likely possible that the other boy falsely blamed the killing on "settlers" because he is either afraid of the killers a rival gang or clan in the village or was involved in the killing himself. this story is nothing more than an invitation to kill innocent people of israel. it similar to the false "blood libel" stories used to whip up hatred against the people of israel in europe during the dark ages 1,000 years ago.

to all, this page will not retract the article or apologise because they do not need to. their job is not to report facts, but to spread propa . they are aware of the fact that those who base their opinions on religion and emotion rather than logic will always believe what they want to believe, rather than what the facts point to regardless of the strength of the evidence. they know that those whose minds they poison, are not well informed, so once the accusation is made, the damage is done. in the minds of the brainwashed, it will always be the "evil zionists" who killed this child, even after all involved admit that it was the work of a family feud. mark my words, in future stories, they will often refer to this child "murdered by settlers," along with other false stories of palestinian children supposedly targeted by the idf or settlers.

adam, the antisemite remark that i made was geared more towards river from bank than you. still, if you are implying that ashkenazis are not semites then you seek to deny an ethnic groups heritage and can only be considered an antisemite. i dont know if that was what you are implying, but i have seen many people here try to make that claim. i know that there is a distinct difference between antisemitism and antizionism, but i expect that people who make that distinction refer to israelis as israelis as opposed to goose. genetic testing has shown that ashkenazi and sephardi goos are more closely related to each other than europeans or arabs respectively. there are also a number of ashkenazis who can trace their lineage to the second kingdom of israel, before the khazars made their conversion. the romans also sent thousands of israelites throughout europe, this also before the khazars.

indeed natasha, i also invite people to visit your phoney article. there they will find no post were i said you were from russia or any other insult. you obviously have me confused with someone else. no surprise. incidently, just why would you be insulted if someone said you were from russia anyway? what do you have against the russians? i find them to be wonderful people, but i see it is you that has just insulted them with that remark.

im sorry but this story is untrue.routers already reported that the palestinian police arrested a palestinian suspect in the murder.and the boy witness said in the interogation that the attackers werent settlers.search in google news for the term palestinian boy. its the first hit.i just wanted you to know that even if this story was true we would still condemn it and make justice with the assailants.however the story is not true.

nobody in their right mind believes this atrocious made up story here, everyone knows that only palestinians are capable of these like attacks, even on their own people. typical arab, trying to blame someone else for what they do, co.w.he.ards.

the israeli jews are not human beings they are degenerated mutated predators without a human heart and soul"when the sounds of laments die and the silent cry all prayers said her child is washed and dressed and the tiny body in a casket laid to rest her childs eyes are closed forever and she have kissed with tears small folded hands soft with her fingertips she touched the eyebrows she loved like wings of a beautiful bird and she have kissed the last farewell smile on her sons mouth the earth stood still"

why do u doubt the killing of a boy by settlers. had they not done this type of crime in the past. is it new for isrealis to waste civilin lifes including children. even the polise and the army vented thier anger by killing girls , boys and women. i a missiel fired to avoid civilian casualty or intended to kill anyone in the vicinity? have we not seen abu graib? i bet a lot of us would not believe the torture and killing committed by the usa if it was not for the pictures. if you did it ones in the past and admit it after the pictures, then who will believe you again? did we not do it to the black americans, native indians? we are still doing it because we think they are below us and are not worth as much as we are. don't fight here for nothing. just prey for god that god will solve all problems by eliminating war mongers and civilian killers as well as all ma made wepons made for the sole purpose of destroying life.

when an israeli citizen or an israeli soldier murders a palestinian citizen then that israeli is arrested and put in jail. the law is upheld in every case and the press is open to find the truth. this article has gone to press without proper investigation and only serves as propo .

israel is just as guilty of creating false flag operations, in fact they probably invented them. look at the crucifixion. they framed and had him murdered. if anything the settlers in the west bank are not going to leave without a huge fight. israel has been in violation of un sanctions for decades. i think bush is putting the s to sharon so that he will have something that does not scream miserable failure for the history books. but you have to wonder what kind of deal sharon cut, we'll find out soon enough.may justice prevail in the israeli spy scandal that is never mentioned mainstream but has a very broad brush.

it's a shame that people resort to killing each others, even when they are neighbors. i hope that soon palestine will have control of its territory and that they effectivley deal with the militants within those territories. it is difficult for israel to say, here, have your land back, when that same land will be used by illegitimate terrorist organizations to attack israel. it is a very difficult position for both sides. only time will tell.

i will try this one more time. check out a well known service starting with r. it says this was clan related, and pal security has arrested a pal man for the crime. this example of the me fifth estate doesn't want to correct this piece of wishful thinking. they might as well say isr soldiers stabbed the boy. that is what they want to report. a lie is a lie. you can't condem them while using them.

shame on al . once again, this source's agenda is clear. it calls hamas a "resistence movement", ignoring the fact that hamas was founded in 1987 with the sole purpose of destroying israel. this makes it per se a terrorist organization.

why doesn't everyone just mind their own business and live their lives without worrying about what everyone else is doing? the world would be a much better place to live in if people would just mind their own business. let there be peace for once and stop all the bickering and arguing. what i see are adults acting like children. intelligent people use their minds ignorant or people use their fists.

for anyone that reads this know that if you were a and you defended the zionist and agreed with what they do then i should tell that deep inside my heart i hope you die and in hell because you have just defended the people who have killed thousands of your brothers through out the ages and if you are not a or have not lived in the middle east i would like to tell you that unfortunately you have been mislead by your media especially if it was something concerning that topic. whether this poor innocent soul was killed by a pal or a zionist it doesn't stop us from saying that zionist have killed many many pals and as for the subject of those who are so called the terrorist suicidebombers let me tell you that those people have tried to find many ways to free their land and country all failed but this way was the only way that worked. any one who reads this and thinks i am racist know that i am not and all i wanted to do is to show the evils of zionist.

it has now become apparent that israeli settlers did not kill this child. rather he was killed in a fight between clans. moreover, qassam rockets that were misfired killed a 12 year palestinian youth in khan younis and injured a seven year old boy. unfortunately because of shoddy reporting these events are blamed on israel and whip up anti israel and anti semitic feelings. in fact, there are several disturbing posts above that indicate a deep hatred that is beyond rationality and leave me fearful as to what my fellow believers are thinking.

well the media did its job so well again it is keeping all the mindless peoples views in check. you could do a poll from this to see who is pro this or anti that. the murder has become secondary and the truth is mired in falsehoods as the war between all factions fighting around the world. we are the sheeple's blindly following the headlines and not understanding that it is a controlled environment for us to be led into. i agree with some of your opinions and disagree with others but to flag one for the other does nothing to bring back the child. this is a senseless act in a conflict of ideas and religion.
