

Makow - New Orleans: The Strategy For World Government Devastation, Degradation, Demoralization

By Henry Makow PhD

Three of the worst catastrophes in American history have taken place during George W. Bush's watch. Is this a coincidence?

They are Sept. 11, the Iraq War and the devastation of New Orleans.

The purpose is to shock, degrade and demoralize Americans so they will accept the loss of national sovereignty.

The agent of the Illuminati bankers, the Council on Foreign Relations, is demanding "an economic union" of Canada, Mexico and the United States by 2010. This is but a stage in the Illuminati's long-term plan to impose their dictatorship upon the world.

As you know, George W. Bush is a member of one of the Illuminati's oldest chapters in America, the Skull and Bones Society.

Unbeknownst to Americans, the United States belongs to the Illuminati, a satanic secret society directing Freemasonry. Their symbol, the pyramid and "all seeing" eye, is on the U.S. one-dollar bill. So is the year 1776, which refers to May 1, their anniversary, not July 4 as people think. The symbol was put on the dollar by FDR, a 32 degree mason. Most American presidents, cabinet members and congressional leaders are Freemasons and/or members of the CFR.

Foreign bankers sponsor the Illuminati and control us through their monopoly on credit. Our money is created in the form of a debt that the government owes to them, plus interest. Taxpayers are on the hook to the tune of $140,000 for every man, woman and child. Americans are being readied for a debtors' prison i.e. the New World Order.

I appreciate that this sounds outlandish to the uninitiated. However history can be understood in terms of an all-powerful clique based in the City of London that actively seeks the degradation and enslavement of humanity through war, "revolution," sickness, starvation, depression, and now "natural" disaster.

New Orleans

I don't know how the levees were sabotaged but I do know that this fits perfectly into the Illuminati agenda. (Similarly, I didn't know how JFK Jr.'s plane was sabotaged until recently.)

<http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/PurgeTheEvil.htm>

Last weekend, I commented on how an exhibit at the London Zoo encourages people to think of themselves as animals. After the hurricane, the Drudge Report referred to New Orleans' residents Sept 2 with this main headline: "Trapped Like Animals."

Everything seems designed to deprive Americans of their sense of entitlement, and their belief in themselves, their country and government.

I'm sure you noticed how the media played up comparisons between the aftermath of devastation and "a third world country." These scenes "resemble refugee camps in Somalia or Iraq," reporters kept repeating.

In an emergency, speed is of the essence. As you know, help was very slow in coming. Thousands were drowning, stranded, hungry or sick. There were helicopters but remarkably few rescue boats which would have made a difference.

Agent provocateurs may have been planted to shoot at rescuers: Coast Guard Lieutenant Commander Cheri Ben-Iesan said, "there are people just taking pot-shots at police and at helicopters, telling them, 'You better come get my family."

Why would anyone shoot at potential rescuers? These provocateurs caused rescue efforts to be suspended and provided an excuse to declare martial law.

Governor Kathleen Blanco called them "hoodlums" and issued a warning: Hundreds of National Guard troops hardened on the battlefield in Iraq have landed in New Orleans.

"They have M-16s and they're locked and loaded," she said. "These troops know how to shoot and kill, and they are more than willing to do so, and I expect they will."

Thus a disaster is turned into a proving ground for martial law.

My Houston correspondent writes: "Houstonians I've spoken with are only concerned that looting may transfer here and affect them personally. People are locking down their houses even tighter, and I've heard at least one man remark, 'I've got my Smith and Wesson .44 in my truck.' Stupid Americans are primed to demand martial law!"

He continues: "My next prediction: burglaries, lootings, shootings, and/or arson incidents will happen in Houston and Atlanta. The media will attribute it to New Orleans refugees, and the "shoot to kill" order will extend to these cities police and special police, if not be accompanied by the arrival of Federal (Storm)Troops."

Looting would have been limited by a strong rescue response. Americans rightly expect to be protected in times of emergency. But even some local police were seen looting or simply quit.

"They indicated that they had lost everything and didn't feel that it was worth them going back to take fire from looters and losing their lives," Colonel Henry Whitehorn said.

Whether it's Iraq, (a gratuitous war America is predestined to lose,) or Sept. 11 or New Orleans, Americans are betrayed by their leaders, abandoned, humiliated and even killed.

This is not an accident. It is part of a relentless process of demoralization designed to make them accept world government.

Hollywood plays a part of this relentless attack on the American psyche. The scenes in New Orleans resemble those in the film "Day After Tomorrow" where the country freezes over and Americans rush the Mexican borders pleading to be allowed in.

CONCLUSION

Wars, depressions and "natural" disasters are going to continue as long as foreign bankers control America's finances, and with it her political and cultural institutions.

They need to destroy, degrade and demoralize us so we will accept their world government. They have to subjugate us because otherwise we will repudiate the debt, money (credit) they created out of nothing.

They weaken us by corrupting us. The stock market keeps millions focused on money while the media bombards us with sex, violence, social engineering and propaganda.

America cries out to purge the organized evil that lurks within.

What can we do? We must refuse to be demoralized or degraded. Let's make an extra effort to be kind and encouraging, to treat each other like brothers and sisters.

Nothing aggravates the Illuminati more than Jesus' admonition: "Love thy neighbor."

It is difficult to believe that Bush was responsible for all three events. However you are entitled to your own opinion. Even though you are not an American. You are Canadian.

"The agent of the Illuminati bankers, the Council on Foreign Relations, is demanding "an economic union" of Canada, Mexico and the United States by 2010. This is but a stage in the Illuminati's long-term plan to impose their dictatorship upon the world."

Which is likely why this administration is allowing the crossing of it's borders, having locked in a deal with Vincent on exactly the above. What however, is in this for Canada?

"As you know, George W. Bush is a member of one of the Illuminati's oldest chapters in merica, the Skull and Bones Society."

As I recall, so was Clinton.

"New Orleans - I don't know how the levees were sabotaged but I do know that this fits perfectly into the Illuminati agenda. (Similarly, I didn't know how JFK Jr.'s plane was sabotaged until recently.)

<http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/PurgeTheEvil.htm>"

Perhaps I can answer this question. Let's see, the levees were about 15 to 20 feet high and as old as dirt. The water in the Gulf, also as old as dirt, was about 25 to 30 feet high.

Cogito, ergo, "Gulp!"

"Last weekend, I commented on how an exhibit at the London Zoo encourages people to think of themselves as animals. After the hurricane, the Drudge Report referred to New Orleans' residents Sept 2 with this main headline: "Trapped Like Animals." "

Uh, allow me another observations. We are animals. And often, we act like animals in the wild. We kill, murder, rape and maim. We ... shall I continue or do you get the message? Frankly speaking, we do not have to see ourselves in a place especially dedicated to show us as animals. All which is necessary is to observe the actions of certain individuals in N'Orleans.

Cogito, ergo ...

"Everything seems designed to deprive Americans of their sense of entitlement, and their belief in themselves, their country and government. "

Beg to differ. It is we ourselves who deprive ourselves of a sense of entitlement and belief in self. It is one of the most difficult problems we face. Blame whomever you wish on our rotten government and thieves for representatives, but it is We the People who elected them and we the people who allow them to take from us everything they can steal.

"I'm sure you noticed how the media played up comparisons between the aftermath of devastation and "a third world country." These scenes "resemble refugee camps in Somalia or Iraq," reporters kept repeating."

As we all know, reporters have the Motts, eh? You may always trust the media for truth. And by the by, these camps are refugee camps. Cogito, ergo ...

"In an emergency, speed is of the essence. As you know, help was very slow in coming. Thousands were drowning, stranded, hungry or sick. There were helicopters but remarkably few rescue boats which would have made a difference."

The opinion of this writer is that the main reason for this was N'Orleans being unprepared for such an earthshaking event. Blame Congress for waiting what, four days before they acted on a bill providing funding for this emergency?

"Agent provocateurs may have been planted to shoot at rescuers: Coast Guard Lieutenant Commander Cheri

Ben-Iesan said, "there are people just taking pot-shots at police and at helicopters, telling them, 'You better come get my family.'"

According to the three or four State Police volunteers I know, people there, on the scene, also ham operators (no interference that I know of ... and speaking of interference, one of the main reasons for the excessive radio 'noise' was transformers which crapped out as a result of the storm) ... these police volunteers with whom I spoke told me that several of the 'agent provocateurs' as you call them, were those who looted stores to steal the damned firearm they were shooting.

Now there was a great quote. A man shoots at the people who were to rescue them, in the hopes that they would rescue them. Good thinking, eh? I try to make you feel at home with the frequent use of the word, "eh?!"

"Governor Kathleen Blanco called them "hoodlums" and issued a warning: Hundreds of National Guard troops hardened on the battlefield in Iraq have landed in New Orleans."

Those apprehended _were_ hoodlums! Sheesh!
"They have M-16s and they're locked and loaded," she said. "These troops know how to shoot and kill, and they are more than willing to do so, and I expect they will."
"Thus a disaster is turned into a proving ground for martial law."

Absolutely. What other course should have been taken? In a situation such as is extant in this disaster, martial law is probably the only course of action. Lawlessness, even if some was from "agent provocateurs," is unacceptable.

"My Houston correspondent writes: "Houstonians I've spoken with are only concerned that looting may transfer here and affect them personally. People are locking down their houses even tighter, and I've heard at least one man remark, 'I've got my Smith and Wesson .44 in my truck.' Stupid Americans are primed to demand martial law!"

STUPID AMERICANS? Thank you, "doctor," for your evaluation of our culture. And pray tell, who the hell are you to judge U.S.? Where is the help this time around, from Canada, from ANY European nation? Your judgment of Americans and America is often terribly incorrect. In fact, it is opinions such as yours, which continue to divide an already divided nation. The fact that you are not even an American, makes your value judgments suspect. The denouement is the opinion itself. I've seen better opines from my Down's Syndrome cousin.

"He continues: "My next prediction: burglaries, lootings, shootings, and/or arson incidents will happen in Houston and Atlanta. The media will attribute it to New Orleans refugees, and the "shoot to kill" order will extend to these cities police and special police, if not be accompanied by the arrival of Federal (Storm)Troops."

Storm troops? I doubt that. State Police, local authority and men and women in uniform are not storm troopers. But then, it's a good two words with which to engender a greater authority in your own propagandizing. In'tit, eh?

"Looting would have been limited by a strong rescue response. Americans rightly expect to be protected in times of emergency. But even some local police were seen looting or simply quit."

Presumably you have witness other than your own vivid imagination to prove this allegation? One would certainly hope so.

"Whether it's Iraq, (a gratuitous war America is predestined to lose,) or Sept. 11 or New Orleans, Americans are betrayed by their leaders, abandoned, humiliated and even killed."

At least in this sentence, any American with half the intellect of a self appointed intellectual would tend to agree. That we the people do nothing about it, is another most heinous crime. But that's another story.

"CONCLUSION

Wars, depressions and "natural" disasters are going to continue as long as foreign bankers control America's finances, and with it her political and cultural institutions.

They need to destroy, degrade and demoralize us so we will accept their world government. They have to subjugate us because otherwise we will repudiate the debt, money (credit) they created out of nothing.

Actually there is much, much more we can do. We can elect leaders who will do our will and not the will of the selfish politician enacting legislation which ultimately favors the politician, and not the American citizen.

"Nothing aggravates the Illuminati more than Jesus'

admonition: "Love thy neighbor."

This is the most fundamental truth. But Jesus did not admonish us to love our neighbor. Jesus told us to love our neighbor as we would love ourselves. Unfortunately, we do not love ourselves. More's the pity.
