

There are no posts below your current threshold: -1 | Favorite! | Print Threadbluegrass(well of great wisdom)

12/03/05 08:03 AM

 A frightening "Strategy for Israel" Post [294201400]Category: News & Opinion (General) Topic: Philosophy & ReligionSynopsis: Remember that Yinon's paper was penned in 1982.Source: onlinejournal.comPublished: November 30, 2005 Author: Linda S. HeardFor Education and Discussion Only. Not for Commercial Use.

The other day I was handed the translation of a paper written by Israeli journalist Oded Yinon as far back as 1982. Ah! Old news, I thought. I'll get around to browsing through it one of these days. When later, the person who proffered the document, asked me about my conclusions, I grabbed my spectacles and sat down for what I thought would be a dull read. How wrong I was!

Yinon, who was attached to Israel's Foreign Ministry, published his paper, titled "A Strategy for Israel in the 1980s," in Kivunim (Directions) a "journal for Judaism and Zionism," and if the Association of Arab-American University graduates hadn't widely distributed the article, it might have disappeared down the memory hole.

Unfortunately, as the document is 11 pages long, I can only give you the gist but it can be found in its entirety on the Internet.

The basic premises of the plan are these: In order to survive Israel must become an imperial regional power and must also ensure the break-up of all Arab countries so that the region may be carved up into small ineffectual states unequipped to stand up to Israeli military might.

Yinon described the Arab-Muslim world as "a temporary house of cards put together by foreigners and arbitrarily divided into states, all made up of combinations of minorities and ethnic groups which are hostile to one another."

He then goes on to predict that some of these states face ethnic social destruction from within "and in some a civil war is already raging."

The writer goes on to bemoan Israel's relinquishment of the Sinai to Egypt under the Camp David Peace Treaty due to that area's "oil, gas and other natural resources."

"Regaining the Sinai Peninsula is therefore a political priority which is obstructed by Camp David . . . , he writes . . ."and we will have to act in order to return the situation to the status quo which existed in Sinai prior to Sadat's visit and the mistaken peace agreement signed with him in March 1979."

Yinon then predicts that if Egypt is divided and torn apart some other Arab countries will cease to exist in their present form and a Christian Coptic state would be founded in Upper Egypt. (I always wondered why Egypt was referred to as 'the prize' in a 2002 Rand presentation to the Pentagon at the behest of chief neo-conservative and friend of Israel Richard Perle)

Now how about this?

"The dissolution of Syria and Iraq later on into ethnically or religiously unique areas such as in Lebanon is Israel's primary target in the long run, while the dissolution of the military power of those states serves as the primary short term target," he writes.

"Iraq, rich in oil on the one hand and internally torn on the other, is guaranteed as a candidate for Israel's targets," says Yinon. Its dissolution is even more important for us than that of Syria. In the short run it is Iraqi power which constitutes the greatest threat to Israel."

"Every kind of inter-Arab confrontation will assist us in the short run and will shorten the way to the more important aim of breaking up Iraq into denominations as in Syria and Lebanon. In Iraq, three or more states will exist around the three major cities: Basra, Baghdad and Mosul."

Remember that Yinon's paper was penned in 1982.

But the writer also makes grave mistakes of judgment. For instance, he felt certain that both Jordan and Egypt would revert to Nasser-style Pan-Arab philosophies and break their treaties with Israel, which was what Yinon hoped they would do. But it didn't happen.

Yinon further predicted "there is no chance that Jordan will continue to exist in its present structure for a long time and Israel's policy both in war and in peace, ought to be directed at the liquidation of Jordan."

This was because Yinon wanted to see the transfer of Palestinian Arabs from the West Bank into Jordan. "It is not possible to go on living in this country in the present situation without separating the two nations, the Arabs to Jordan and the Jews to the areas west of the river," he says.

Was Yinon's paper the precursor of the 1996 "Clean Break: A new strategy for securing the realm" document authored by current and former Bush administration leading lights, such as Richard Perle, Douglas Feith as well as David and Meyrav Wurmser on behalf of Benjamin Netanyahu?

"Clean Break" advised the Israeli government to "publicly question Syria's legitimacy," contain Syria and strike selected targets, and "reject" the land for peace concept related to the Golan Heights.

It was also proposed that Syria should be isolated and surrounded by a friendly regime in Iraq, while Arab states should be challenged as "police states" lacking legitimacy. Isn't this exactly what is happening today as part of Bush's democratization policy?

Richard Perle -- who journalist and film-maker John Pilger describes as one of George W. Bush's thinkers -- later pops up again in the 2000 Project for the New American Century document, which lays out the neocon vision for US domination of the land, seas, skies and space.

Pilger writes in December 2002: "I interviewed Perle when he was advising Reagan; and when he spoke about 'total war', I mistakenly dismissed him as mad. He recently used the term again in describing America's 'war on terror'. 'No stages,' he said. 'This is total war. We are fighting a variety of enemies. There are lots of them out there.

"All this talk we are going to do Afghanistan, then we will do Iraq . . . this is entirely the wrong way to go about it. If we just let our vision of the world go forth, and we embrace it entirely and we don't try to piece together clever diplomacy, but just wage a total war . . . our children will sing great songs about us years from now'."

Those children that survive, maybe, but I'll bet that Perle and gang are far more likely to go down in the annals of history alongside mankind's most brutal, ruthless and self-serving.

Linda S. Heard is a British specialist writer on Middle East affairs. She welcomes feedback and can be contacted by email at heardonthegrapevines@yahoo.co.uk.

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass

(well of great wisdom)

12/03/05 08:07 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201413, reply to 294201400]
(Score: 2)

Flag to: RidinShotgun, Polak, Fletch, D_Joyce, BlackVeil, laonas, NOLAJBS, BlondGermanNight, JRadcliffe, plumz, ratcat, hoplophile, ExiledInTaiwan, askel5, E_T, oakie69, INRI, Tet, PatrickHenry, mugwort, clayman, cyte

A Strategy for Israel in the Nineteen Eighties by Oded Yinon, February 1982

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass

(well of great wisdom)

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201432, reply to 294201400]
(Score: 2)

12/03/05 08:10 AM

Flag to: FerricWebCaesar, ATR, rottenjohnh, KingKangaroo, angle, wadosy, thomaspain, BinkyClowner, Sovereign, wolfrim, Prevail, M_Theory, RebelX, RRBum, Zoroaster, babbitt, FREE_ZUNDEL_NOW, NewsWatcher, captainquint

Quote:

Iraq, rich in oil on the one hand and internally torn on the other, is guaranteed as a candidate for Israel's targets. Its dissolution is even more important for us than that of Syria. Iraq is stronger than Syria. In the short run it is Iraqi power which constitutes the greatest threat to Israel.

-Oded Yinon

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

Emperor Junior
(insurgent)
12/03/05 08:19 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201465, reply to 294201432]
(Score: 2)

The Turks won't be idle while a radical Kurdistan forms in (the former) northern Iraq...this is a wild card nobody discusses.

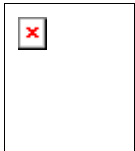

Galleons of Spain off Jersey Coast!!

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass
(well of great wisdom)
12/03/05 08:25 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [Emperor Junior | Post 294201490, reply to 294201465] (Score: 2)

Oded Yinon takes the Kurds into account:

Quote:

Half of Iran's population is comprised of a Persian speaking group and the other half of an ethnically Turkish group. Turkey's population comprises a Turkish Sunni Moslem majority, some 50%, and two large minorities, 12 million Shi'ite Alawis and 6 million Sunni Kurds. In Afghanistan there are 5 million Shi'ites who constitute one third of the population. In Sunni Pakistan there are 15 million Shi'ites who endanger the existence of that state.

This national ethnic minority picture extending from Morocco to India and from Somalia to Turkey points to the absence of stability and a rapid degeneration in the entire region. When this picture is added to the economic one, we see how the entire region is built like a house of cards, unable to withstand its severe problems.

Zionists have become very adept at manipulating tribal and national minorities.

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

Tet
(freedom fighter)
12/03/05 08:26 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201493, reply to 294201490]
(Score: 2)

Rome sure liked knocking off City States. Peace.

"No man's life, liberty, or property are safe while the legislature is in session. --Mark Twain (1866)"

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

Emperor Junior
(insurgent)
12/03/05 08:28 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201499, reply to 294201490]
(Score: 2)

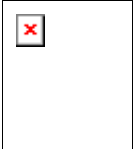

That Brit/Roman style "divide and conquer" approach eventually awakens a "unite and defy" spirit among the colonized.

Galleons of Spain off Jersey Coast!!

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass
(well of great wisdom)
12/03/05 08:34 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [Tet | Post 294201519, reply to 294201493]
(Score: 2)

Roem used its own military. Zionists are good at hiring mercenaries with other people' money.

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

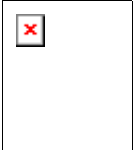

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass
(well of great wisdom)
12/03/05 08:36 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [Emperor Junior | Post 294201526, reply to 294201499] (Score: 2)

That Brit/Roman style "divide and conquer" approach eventually awakens a "unite and defy" spirit among the colonized.

Which is why job #1 of The Wrecking Crew has always been to subvert the dominant elite of every tribal and national interest.

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

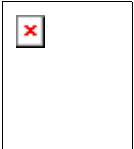

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

petewagner33
(extremist)
12/03/05 09:38 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201719, reply to 294201400]
(Score: 2)

Quote:

In order to survive Israel must become an imperial regional power and must also ensure the break-up of all Arab countries so that the region may be carved up into small ineffectual states unequipped to stand up to Israeli military might.

This strategy (and the subsequent reality it has led to) really demonstrates how different the Jewish thought process is. One, Jews are greedy and non-productive at the same time, and therefore they see Israel as being in a zero-sum game with the Arab states, whereby Israeli success necessitates Arab failure. Two, they assume Arabs think like Jews do, without considering that Arabs have maintained separate societies in relatively peaceful coexistence over a long history, whereas Jews have so such track record.

Help Wanted: Hangman, Wash DC area, steady work, multiple openings, will train, equal opportunity employer.

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

E T
(revolutionary)
12/03/05 10:24 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201864, reply to 294201400]
(Score: 2)

Quote:

The basic premises of the plan are these: In order to survive Israel must become an imperial regional power and must also ensure the break-up of all Arab countries so that the region may be carved up into small ineffectual states unequipped to stand up to Israeli military might.

Yinon described the Arab-Muslim world as "a temporary house of cards put together by foreigners and arbitrarily divided into states, all made up of combinations of minorities and ethnic groups which are hostile to one another."

He then goes on to predict that some of these states face ethnic social destruction from within "and in some a civil war is already raging."

Excellent find BG. Yes, after we suffered their 9/11 false-flag attack, their plans are being achieved right now with more of our blood and money and reputation. We are hated more than ever and our future generations are at risk for retaliational blowbacks.

And it is a shame that more people cannot see this for their own survival and futures.

If you want to know who rules, just find out whom you cannot criticize.

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

E T
(revolutionary)
12/03/05 10:27 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [E T | Post 294201867, reply to 294201864]
(Score: 2)

(Compare the following to recent news from UPI below excerpt)

"The Zionist Plan for the Middle East (Translated and edited by Israel Shahak)" Israel Shahak June 13, 1982

Iraq, rich in oil on the one hand and internally torn on the other, is guaranteed as a candidate for Israel's targets. Its dissolution is even more important for us than that of Syria. Iraq is stronger than Syria. In the short run it is Iraqi power which constitutes the greatest threat to Israel. An Iraqi-Iranian war will tear Iraq apart and cause its downfall at home even before it is able to organize a struggle on a wide front against us. Every kind of inter-Arab confrontation will assist us in the short run and will shorten the way to the more important aim of breaking up Iraq into denominations as in Syria and in Lebanon. In Iraq, a division into provinces along ethnic/religious lines as in Syria during Ottoman times is possible. So, three (or more) states will exist around the three major cities: Basra, Baghdad and Mosul, and Shi'ite areas in the south will separate from the Sunni and Kurdish north. It is possible that the present Iranian-Iraqi confrontation will deepen this polarization.15<<< source: The Zionist Plan for the Middle East (Translated and edited by Israel Shahak)

Recent News:

Pentagon: Iraq to be split into 3 sectors
By Pamela Hess
UPI Pentagon Correspondent
From the International Desk
Published 3/7/2003 6:11 PM
View printer-friendly version

WASHINGTON, March 7 (UPI) -- U.S. Central Command chief Gen. Tommy Franks will be in total charge of Iraq immediately after the war, but will be supported shortly thereafter by three civilian administrators, each in charge of a different geographic sector of the country, Pentagon officials said Friday.

Iraq would be divided into thirds for administrative purposes -- northern, southern and central sectors. The borders of those areas have not been established, according to the Pentagon officials, but the southern sector is expected to be demographically dominated by Shiites and the northern sector by Kurds. Boundary lines would be determined by existing major roads, terrain features and population centers.

<http://www.upi.com/view.cfm?StoryID=20030307-043844-5481r>

If you want to know who rules, just find out whom you cannot criticize.

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

CWI
(radical)
12/03/05 10:46 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [bluegrass | Post 294201903, reply to 294201490]
(Score: 2)

Quote:

Zionists have become very adept at manipulating tribal and national minorities.

They`re not too shabby at manipulating majorities, either - just look to the US as an example!

In a democracy, two wolves and a sheep take a majority vote on what's for supper, whereas in a republic, the wolves are forbidden on voting on what's for supper and the sheep are well armed.

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

bluegrass
(well of great wisdom)
12/03/05 10:47 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [CWI | Post 294201907, reply to 294201903]
(Score: 2)

They manipulate the majority by owning the dominant minorities. The idea of controlling large corporations through small holding companies is the analogous tactic in the business world.

<http://www.nolajbs.net>

"...the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude..."

"There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative..."

Reply | Private Reply | Flag | First | Last | Context

Post Extras:

Murgatroyd
(radical)
12/03/05 11:08 AM

Re: A frightening "Strategy for Israel" To: [CWI | Post 294201949, reply to 294201903]
(Score: 1)

The vast majority of people in the US fall into at least one federally-designated category consisting of

