

Time To Change Tactics To Stop Iraq War

By Karin Friedemann
ummyakoub@yahoo.com
8-12-5

Getting Americans and the politicians to understand that invading Iraq is bad for US is probably the only way to get this movement into the mainstream and away from the leftist progressive fringes of society.

I advocate a turn-around in rhetoric. The group of people responsible for the Iraq war are the Israel-Firsters.

Instead of trying to make Americans care about Arabs - too hard - we need to increase their awareness that the Zionist Jewish Lobby is the enemy of all traditional Americans. Since activists can destroy the movement if they dwell upon who the good guys are (there are various opinions), we should concentrate on what we can all agree on:

The Zionist Jewish Lobby is undermining American democracy.

The Zionist Jewish Lobby needs to be stopped.

That's the only way to stop the wars.

I would suggest a public rhetoric campaign against all

Zionist lobbyists.

On campus, target the Israel advocacy groups. Make it socially unacceptable to participate with pro-Israel student organizations training these future Israel-first lobbyists.

The pro-Israel lobby operates on every level of American society.

This year, they are introducing Holocaust lore in the public school curriculum starting in Pre-Kindergarten.

There are plenty of ways to address this problem in PTA meetings, parent-teacher conferences, and other mundane ways. Causing a huge stir at an "MLK" school assembly will create a lot more word-of-mouth grassroots pressure than a protest in DC - which doesn't even get discussed.

In each small town, pro-peace people need to identify the Zionist individuals who are pushing Holocaust curriculum in the local schools. As soon as you start circulating a petition, all their Zionist supporters will come out of the woodwork. Every town has a web of groups that work together to undermine American democracy to promote their personal interests. Once you know who the participating individuals are, then you will be able to protest directly to these local people who are personally responsible for pushing Americans to die for Israeli interests.

If Americans started talking to their neighbors, we could stop this war.

Disclaimer

Email This Article

---

MainPage

<http://www.rense.com>

This Site Served by TheHostPros