U.S. warns China on energy ties to Iran

By: Carol Giacomo on: 07.09.2005 [06:28] (1087 reads)

(3599 bytes)

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - China will be increasingly in conflict with the United States if it continues to pursue energy deals with countries like Iran and is unlikely to gain the energy security it seeks, a senior U.S. official said on Tuesday.

Deputy Secretary of State Robert Zoellick said he was not sure how much of Beijing's energy drive was propelled by new Chinese oil companies or by a government "strategic plan."

But he told a group of reporters it was unlikely that Beijing could guarantee its own energy security through contracts with countries which Washington and other states consider troublesome "because you can't lock up energy resources" in a global marketplace.

Instead, the Bush administration was encouraging China to adopt a broader definition of energy that included cooperative efforts with Washington and others to develop energy sources beyond oil and gas, expanding sources of oil and gas and improving energy efficiency, he said.

Zoellick, in charge of what Washington calls a new U.S. strategic dialogue with Beijing, discussed key issues facing the two powers ahead of Chinese President Hu Jintao's attendance at the United Nations summit in New York next week.

Hu had been due to make his first official visit to the White House on Wednesday but it was canceled so President George W. Bush could focus on the Hurricane Katrina aftermath.

The two are still expected to meet on the fringes of the U.N. summit. Cooperation on trying to end the North Korean and Iranian nuclear programs will be on the U.S. agenda.

Zoellick launched the strategic dialogue on a trip to Beijing last month amid rising U.S. concern over China's growing economic and military clout. Washington aims to foster greater cooperation and avoid dangerous miscalculation by examining Sino-American relations in a larger framework.

Zoellick acknowledged "there are questions that are being asked not only in the U.S. but other parts of Asia and Europe about how China will use this growing power."

CHINA AS WORLD POWER

China became the world's third largest importer of oil in 2003. It sought energy and mineral deals with Iran, whom the United States and Europe accuse of pursuing nuclear weapons, with Sudan, accused of genocide in the Darfur region, and Venezuela, where the president has allied with Cuba, a U.S. adversary.

Zoellick said he told Chinese officials that from a U.S. perspective "it looked like Chinese companies had been unleashed to try to lock up energy resources."

This is an elusive goal because even when governments think they "own" the resources of another country, that country could nationalize the assets, he said.

He said Beijing's ties to what the United States considered troublesome states — the list also included Burma and Zimbabwe — were "going to have repercussions elsewhere" and the Chinese would have to decide if they wanted to pay the price.

China must choose whether to work with the United States to ameliorate problems posed by these states — while still protecting Beijing's energy interests — or whether it "want(ed) to be against us and perhaps others in the international system as well," Zoellick said.

The State Department's former chief China official, Randall Schriver, told Reuters last week he feared the two powers were on a "collision course" over the ties Beijing is forging in its search for energy to feed its growing economy.

Some U.S. experts worry Beijing is gobbling up energy assets to secure control over vital resources that would allow it eventually to supplant the United States as the world's dominant power. China this year made a bid for a U.S.-owned oil giant but withdrew after a torrent of criticism from the U.S. Congress.

I tried to Explain

by profile on 07.09.2005 [09:37]

I tried to Explain to people the situation for a very long time, Before any of the Media reported anything regarding CHINA.

Look at the situation Virtually Every day information is coming out regarding China.

People have been Unaware that a Massive War has been going on Under the scenes Economically/Politically/Militarily(Indirectly), between a group known as the NWO and CHINA. and Every Geo-Political event over the last 3 years has been part of this war between these 2 parties.

Countries such as Israel, Iraq, Iran, Syria, Venezuela, Sudan, Korea, Zimbabwe etc have all been Pawns in this war used by either the NWO or China.

The War has Now been Won. China became victorious. The New World Order cannot be achieved. China has become the Super-Power premier position on the planet.

The situation we are in today is how bad a loser the NWO are. For it is their actions that will bring it to the brink of Nuclear war.

I will point out that China knows who its enemy/opponent is (NWO). China does not look at the U.S as its enemy China looks at the NWO as being its enemy.

When China stood up 3 years ago against the NWO. It would never have done that unless it thought it could win in all areas, Economically/politically/militarily either conventionally or unconventionally, For that is not the Chinese way. Therefore China believed it could win. In order for it to win China would need 4 things. (1) To know its true Enemy, All of them. (2) Relevant Alliances. (3) Relevant Strategies/strategems. (4) Necessary Weaponary to do the job. Without those 4 items in that order China would never have gone directly against this NWO group. The First on that list is the most important. (To know its true enemy, all of them). China knows who they are. (It would be impossible for China NOT to know).

I have been watching China very closely these last 3 years and they have proven Masterfull with strategies/tactics. Every Strategy they have put in place has worked for China. Every time the NWO went for an area/target China has blocked it with countermeasures and in some instances such as Sudan/Venezuela China has placed Countermeasures in anticipation of NWO measures before the NWO has acted. I was astounded, because that shows an awfull lot of Awareness and insight from China. They not only know who the NWO are they know how they think, what tactics they use, how they behave. China has been studying them, watching them.

From these news articles it seems that the NWO are preparing to tackle China militarily, which will be the biggest mistake they could ever make. China is prepared for war, not in 5 years or 3 or 2 or in 6 months or a month, China is prepared for War TODAY this instant. They can take it too that plain.

Lets pray this NWO group dont tackle China,because China knows its enemy is not the U.S but this NWO Group and if it goes to war China will Hit every NWO controlled area.

Wild theories and lack of evidence

Yes, you talk a lot about this "NWO group" profile, but can you back up your theories with evidence?

Stuff that will be convincing:

Minutes of meetings by chinese officials discussing about the "NWO group".

Quotes by chinese officials on the "NWO group".

documents and studies on the "NWO group".

... I tried to Explain to people the situation for a very long time,Before any of the Media reported anything regarding CHINA....

Nobody here remembers you saying anything new, except commenting media reports on China. You show very litte intelligence pretending to be a prophet rather than just a rather simple minded commentator.

...I will point out that China knows who its enemy/opponent is (NWO).China does not look at the U.S as its enemy China looks at the NWO as being its enemy. ..

You totally ignore what Chna knows, and everybody else for that matter. You insult the intelligence of the readers claiming your speculations are information.

We don't see any NWO sending nuclear submarines to intimidate China, we see the USA sending nuclear submarines to intimidate China. The same USA that used to send nuclear submarines to inimidate Russia, is now diverting some to intimidate China as well. So we have here the old USA trying to intimidate both.

It seems that it is mainly Xuma100 and me who spends effort in refuting profile's odd and crackpot ideas.

What to other readers and poster have to say on profile's consistent NWO theories and anti-china bashing?

Does profile have a hidden agenda in propagating ideas that redirects the blame away from the USA and others?

What is the agenda of profile?

IMHO the NWO is a set of empire

by picard-fortune-500 on 07.09.2005 [11:36]

expanding policies under the leadership of the british royal family aided and abetted by their continetal counterparts (prince bernhardt). the goal is a one world government whose seat will be in western europe. Since the availability of the world's mineral wealth is constantly being used up the NWO primary goal is complete monopoly control over the world's mineral. The Chinese leaders know their country will lose its independence and be reduced to a large province in this world wide empire if the NWO's plans come to fruition. The US president whoever he is is merely a local representative of the NWO in North America and provides the cover for the british royal family as well as the military forces for world conquest. This conquest (to be done country by country with China as the last piece) has run into serious difficulties in Iraq and Iran. China is not waiting around to be the last to be conquered but is going on a counter offensive primarily a military build up in east asia to open up a second front and economically trying to lock in energy resources BEFORE the NWO can.

China is not going to listen to the USA's silly plans

by Iranian-Shi'ite on 07.09.2005 [11:49]

China has serious energy needs that can not be met by adopting the USA's plans. The USA can barely meet its own energy needs; and they want China to cooperate with them? That's a laugh.

China is making energy deals with Iran and Venezuela. It is making other commodities deals with Cuba and many other countries.

Zoelick says that China will have to "pay the price" if it deals with countries like Burma and Zimbabwe.

On the contrary, China will be unwise to stand back and allow the U.S. to snatch those countries' resources, which is exactly what the U.S. is trying to get China to do.

China cooperates peacefully while the U.S. attempts to control forcefully.
So, countries will prefer to do business with a respectful and polite China.

The U.S. is ridiculous and arrogant suggest that China adopts a plan of subservience to U.S. energy needs. China is just going to laugh at the USA's suggestions and just keep on doing what it is doing.

who cares.

India has been warned too regarding this, it has ignored and gone ahead with its plan to import oil as well as support Iran on the nuclear issue.

What does US intend to do with the warning, does China or even India care?

China opposed to forwarding Iran's nuclear dossier to UNSC

China's Ambassador to Tehran, Leo Jen Tung said here Monday, "Beijing is opposed to the idea of forwarding Iran's nuclear dossier to the UN Security Council."

"China defends Iran's legitimate right to take advantage of its nuclear energy for peaceful purposes."

"Some thirty million Chinese tourists visit various parts of the world annually, out of which a noticeable portion can visit Iran's numerous tourism attractions."

The Iranian cultural official at the end appreciated Beijing's support for Iran's peaceful nuclear activities, adding, "At any rate, Iran is ready for broader cooperation with China in all possible fields."

The NWO are making Strategic blunders one after the other. (Thats what happens when corrupt incompetant people like Putin,Bush,Blair,Chirac,Schroeder are placed in power.

The NWOs plan to counter Chinas strength in the area is too Build up India as a counterbalance power.This can only be acheived by building up the economy of India.The NWO outsourced most of its industrial base too the Pacific rim (China)then allowed China entrance too the WTO,which gave Chinas state owned companies open access to previous closed markets.Once China was inside the WTO,China had the NWO Over a Barrell.

Therefore India is being built up by outsourcing Service industries to it.Which require less energy.This enables India to grow economically and from that Militarily.Which acts as a Counterbalance to China (This is those NWO idiots thinking).Once India is built up the NWO will then try and get India to do what it wants,if India refuses the NWO contract the Service Industry in India which causes Economic problems.Its like twisting somebodys arm behind their back.

India needs energy to grow and India will be getting the majority of its Energy supply from Iran (Which China is very happy about).China and Iran are Rock-solid allied.If in future the NWO ask India to do things for it,by using the service industry and India newly built economy as a leverage and that goes against China or China doesnt agree with it.

What China does is pick up the phone to its best friend Iran and get them to constrict the Energy supply to India.

India is caught between a rock and a hard place.If it doesnt do what the NWO want.Then the NWO will use the economy as a leverage to twist its arm.If India doesnt do what China wants then China cuts off the Energy supply to India.Either way it is screwed in the long term.

All this effort from the NWO in trying to build up India as a counterbalance is a waste of Time,because in the future India will align itself with CHINA.the reason being is that directly West of India is ISLAM which is aligned with China and Directly East of India is the Pacific Rim of which is all aligned with China.

With Iran being where it is and Iran aligned with China.China is not only putting the Thumb screws on the NWO,it is positively making them pull their trousers down and bend over.

...The NWOs plan to counter Chinas strength in the area is too Build up India as a counterbalance power. This can only be acheived by building up the economy of India...

This is from the same fool that said the "NWO" built up the economy of China, to build China as a counterbalance of itself in the area I suppose. Profile makes as much sense as a an octopus does in a tool shed.

...India is caught between a rock and a hard place. If it doesnt do what the NWO want. Then the NWO will use the economy as a leverage to twist its arm...

That is pure horse manure. US depends on India, if someone is caught between rock and.. is the USA. US corporations and profit-driven government need the cheap but qualified Indian labour, without it, those corporations would go the way of the dinosaurs. Besides, China and Russia are India's largest trading partners, India does not need crumbs from the US table in order to thrive.

To all our readers: what profile calls NWO must be understood as the ionist entity USA/Israel, which this individual insist in portraying as innocent and manipulated by the evil EU... but if you follow the money, you will see that it is the USA/Israel that consume 30% of the world's resources while just having 5% of the world's population, this is how innocent the Zionist Entity is.

Lack of response from other posters as to profile's views, is a sign of complacance or quassi agreement, not a sign of disagreement. China is far more subtle at advancing it's global position to secure (maintain) its sovereign independance, agian, ignore them at your peril.

Nice to see Canuckistan's Defence Minister disscussing with his Russian counterpart, further military cooperation between the two countries, nations are polarizing and choosing sides diplomatically, these are overt signals for those paying attention.

It is a USA/Israel thing: Full Spectrum Dominance

by Xuma100 on 07.09.2005 [13:17]

...the NWO and their attempts to solidify their dominance for generations to come...

"Full Spectrum Dominance" is a USA/Israel theory exposed in the PNAC. I didn't come from any obscure "NWO", Russia or the EU, it came from USA/Israel:

This PNAC document (Project for the New American Century) describes the "America Preeminence" plan to be achieved through "Full Spectrum Dominance"

PNAC Document - Rebuilding America's Defenses. Strategy, Forces and Resources For a New Century

The goal of the USA/Israel is "Full Spectrum Dominance" - an unchallenged America sitting astride the world - controlling its natural resources and reshaping or replacing governments that don't go along with the program, and even controlling allies (with something akin to economic blackmail) in order to prevent the development of opposition as an equal force in Europe.

The "not NWO but USA/Israel" Full Spectrum Dominance doctrine

by Xuma100 on 07.09.2005 [13:23]

Doctrine of the 'Big Enchilada'

excerpt: "...The United States spends more on its military than the next dozen or so nations combined. This has bought unparalleled strength in every facet of warfare — full-spectrum dominance, in Pentagon lingo — that far surpasses the capabilities of such previous would-be hegemonies as Rome, Britain and Napoleonic France..."

The PNAC is a road map to a New Imperial Order under the USA, with a high-tech mega-army ruling "an increasingly chaotic world" with shock and awe interventions and slash and burn techniques.

China is an Atheist Country, it holds No religious precepts. China doesn't look at Zionism or anti Zionism or French Gaul race or German Aryan or Anglosaxon in the same way that you do. What China sees is "White European Colonialists terrorizing the world again" that is the way it classifies it.

That's not all, your speculation about how China sees Israel tries to make China look racist. The issue is not whether Israel is Black or White, the issue is its colonialism - as you say - which in the case of Israel receives the name of Zionism.

..China doesn't look at Zionism or anti Zionism or French Gaul race or German Aryan or Anglosaxon in the same way that you do..

Certainly you are a very un-intelligent individual if you see Zionism as anything different to Colonialism

Zionism is Colonialism, but you pretend it is religion or race. You are now trying to separate Zionism from Colonialism, hogwashing the people of your sect again.

Profile knows China's values and classifications just like you and I do, he has no authority to claim knowing better.

The important thing to profile is removing the terms USA and Israel when talking about China's enemies, and replacing them by the word EUROPE (White European Colonialists) profile uses every dialectical trick in the book to shift the blame of a giant, devastating resource and meat grinding machine (USA/Israel) to Europe, so that USA/Israel come out looking innocent of their crimes against humanity.

Some like the U.S-Israel play the Bad guy which is open to China and others play the Good guy like EU and Russia. Blatant US Threat!!

by pdove on 07.09.2005 [13:56]

US tried to instigate fear of "China Threat" around the world, especially the nations surround China. That call mostly unanswered by nations. Through the bilateral dealings, those nation know what China means to them, whether it is "Threat" or "Opportunity".

Now US is issuing this Blatant Threat. That vividly shows who is the real threat to the world and normal trading among nations. US is now blowing its cover. The world see the "US Threat", not "China Threat".

Of course, those threat will be ignored by China. The time to push China here and there is long gone. China has every right and will defend those rights to trade with every nation around the world.

Re: U.S-Israel-EU-Russia NWO destroy China and kill of the Chinese

by pdove on 07.09.2005 [14:11]

No worry profile, China has stood on our own for thousands of years. In times of crisis, every Chinese will answer the call mother China.

Russia is selling weaponry to China, mainly to gain Cash and sustain its military manufacturing capability, in their efforts to revitalize Russia. China will gain the knowledge and weapon to defend US/Japan possible intervention in Taiwan Strait or Korea Peninsula. If you drop Russia in NWO, you may gain a little credence.

I do have doubt on the true nature of EU, as they are closely following lines of US. Most apparent is EU arms embargo on China. Lifting the sanctions will be most beneficial to EU, as EU has no substantial conflict with China. Lifting of Sanctions is mostly a bait of EU to gain more interests from China.

What I am seeing is that you are trying to define a U.S-Israel-EU-Russia NWO against China. To me, it is more like All Western against China or all Whites against Chinese. This is what you want, but will not be achieved.

You can try elsewhere, but not here, as visitors are more intelligent, and capable of thinking.

To Pdove.

by profile on 07.09.2005 [14:51]

China is being set up to be taken down militarily. The U.S-EU-Russia-Israel all work together. The NWO orchestrate a war that involves China pitted against the U.S both of those go head to head, which ultimately leads to WMDs being used. The U.S is taken out but it also leaves China crippled, whilst China is on its knees trying to get up, Russia is the One who puts the death blow into China. Russia stabs China in the back and kills off China. What arises from that is the EU which takes premier position on the planet.

This is what is unfolding at the minute. Look at the press and how the U.S is being antagonistic towards China. And Russia coming along and saying we are with you China. That Whole scenario is being set up.

Your Government in particular Jiang Zemin, knows about it. He is the power that has been orchestraing China behind the scenes in all its counter defensive measures. Zemin knows about the NWO and who they all are.

by cron on 07.09.2005 [14:53]

ok, first word or two about nwo. i see people have wrong idea what nwo is. in the matter of fact, in short, nwo is a movement with goal to protect interests of "rich" nations (which are declining in every aspect) against "third world" nations (which experience big boom in every aspect - economy is booming, corruption is low, etics is high, etc). nwo is nothing new or secret - it's going at least from middle 60's, and visible by any kind of protectionism developed countries use to slow developing countries. nafta, cafta, european union, mmf, wb, unfair tariffs, etc. ARE nwo. Simply as that. So, nwo is not some conspiracy or something, but way in which by political and economic means developing countries protect demself (and in a process they rob developing countries. Simple as that.

To cron

by profile on 07.09.2005 [14:59]

nwo does not place any interes in jerusalem or israel. israel is country for 58 years now, and there's good bet that israel will not exist after next 58 years. israel is founded by us to advance us interests in very significant geo-political region. So that's what they do. Granted, they're payed well for garbage-collection job they're doing, but israhelites are even today what they have always been - slaves. And behind the scene, there's not niceties going between the boss and slave - you could expect some surprises soon.

profile's pro-US stand just too obvious

by Xuma100 on 07.09.2005 [15:09]

profile again portrays the U.S. army as an innocent victim manipulated by Europe into threatening China. It is incredibly stupid to believe the U.S. army can be tricked by the EU into a nuclear confrontation with China, but then again, profile's job is hogwashing USA/Israel no matter how laughable his theories may sound.

Profile intentionally overlooks the fact that China and the U.S.A. are confronted because they are competing for energy resources, U.S.A. as a disproportionate consumer of oil, and China as a rising consumer of the same commodity. U.S.A. and China compete for resources, U.S.A. already consumes 30% of all world's output, therefore it is their own greed and not the EU's command that is taking the U.S.A. to possibly nuclear confrontation with the countries that most need those wasted resources.

Evidence ? Look at the article posted, look at the One below it regarding U.S nuclear subs being moved into the area. Are you blind ?

Look at India Economy being revived look at the Iran/India oil pipeline. All of these are Events/actual facts. It's for you to piece them together. If you are unable to piece them together then I feel for you.

Because if you are expecting World leaders to come on T.V and hold their hands up and say look this is what we are doing, then you'll be waiting a long time. Because that is not the way the game is played.

In the last 4 Years. This is what has happened in terms of Geo-political events. 911-Invasion of Afghanistan by U.S Occupation by NATO. Invasion Iraq by U.S occupation by a coalition. Patriot acts and Anti-terrorism laws come into effect throughout U.S. EU. Russia. Israel. Flower revolutions in Ex-Soviet states. EU Grows in accession to 25 states. EU Constitution fails placed on back burner. Israel Removes Settlements from Gaza. China becomes the fastest growing economy with the largest trade and current account surpluses of any country in history. India's Economy gets revitalised and much much more. Those are just some of what has happened the last 4 years.

All of those are Evidence actual facts and events. Piece them together in whatever way you want. Because I do which is why I pointed out 1 year back a massive alliance between Iran-China when nobody including the media was talking about it and only now are people starting to talk about Iran-China alliance as EVIDENCED by the above article. If I remember correctly you were saying What evidence back then.

Garner what happens around the world and put them into analysis.

How China is exploiting US imperial failures

by Econ on 07.09.2005 [16:04]

"...Deputy Secretary of State Robert Zoellick said he was not sure how much of Beijing's energy drive was propelled by new Chinese oil companies or by a government "strategic plan..."

This ignorant Jew should be able to figure the Chinese out on this one.
It is not that difficult to do.

Zoellick's job as a diplomat is to convince gullible and functional illiterates in the US media that the US is somehow playing by altruistic rules while the Chinese are cunning.

The Chinese are doing exactly what the US has done. It is either this stupid Jew doesn't recognize it or he is being disingenuous.

The Chinese are using the US playbook on imperialism.

China is the new rising industrial power and the US is a fading industrial power with the need to borrow $2 billion a day mostly from the Chinese bankers to prop up a collapsed economy. The US is now desperate to remain relevant since it lacks the economic clout that would provide the leverage it needs.

The US turned itself into a country of last resort (through debt consumption) for every other nation's exports so that it could continue with the worthless dollar as the international reserve currency and provide the means for expanding its imperial footprint.

The Chinese government is pursuing its strategic goals through its oil companies, just like the US pursues its imperial goals through multinational front groups like GE, Haliburton and stupid Jewish groups like PNAC.

The moronic neocon-Jews can only get away with their ridiculous propaganda because it advances US imperial goals.

As usual the stupid Jews will become the well-deserved scapegoats for US imperial failures as they are about to be blamed for two catastrophic events unfolding in the US: The collapse of the US economy from the staggering Allan Greenspan debt policies and the defeat of the US in their ill-fated Iraq war.

The Chinese government goals are even more transparent where the government itself is providing low cost loans under favorable conditions (as opposed to the World Bank/ IMF loans that impoverished these nations) to the Third World. Since the Chinese government is more interested in advancing its strategic goals, they don't have to worry about profits or propping up a share price.

The Chinese government can afford to absorb losses because its central bank is loaded with billions and billions of worthless US treasury bills as they enjoy a trade surplus which must be spent before the dollar is rendered worthless.

"... But he told a group of reporters it was unlikely that Beijing could guarantee its own energy security through contracts with countries which Washington and other states consider troublesome "because you can't lock up energy resources" in a global marketplace.."

This is exactly why the US invaded Iraq and that was to lock up Iraq's energy resources in the US favor.

Iran and Russia are effectively blocking US access to the Caspian Sea.

The problem for the US is that its bloated, ineffective and inefficient military has been unable to control Iraq and Iraq has now turned into the biggest US strategic imperial failure in which the US can never recover.

The US used its military, its last source of waning influence and failed.

The Iraq war has now exposed all of the US military, financial, economic, political, diplomatic and moral failures and China is now exploiting all of these weaknesses.

It is going to require a constant military draft in the US just to keep control of Iraq, something that General Shimseki warned about.

With the Iraq war failure, the US attempt to control Persian Gulf and Caspian oil resources are now a complete failure. The US does not have the troops nor the financial resources for such an undertaking when it is already borrowing $2 billion a day and its $450 billion a year military is just about worthless.

The Iraqis have shown how to defeat a super power. First you let the dumb morons of the Super Imperial Army in your gates then you close off their exit routes trapping them in a long, costly, bloody guerilla war of attrition using low cost IEDs and RPGs.

Saddam's brilliant strategy will be repeated everywhere the US now attempts to invade, if there is a next time.

Yet another reason why the US invaded Iraq and is thinking about Iran. These countries nationalized their oil putting it beyond the reach of US firms for exploitation.

While the US was bogged down in Iraq, Russia renationalized its own putting it beyond the reach of US oil firms.

The story is the same in Venezuela, where the rapid rise in oil windfall profits means Chavez now has the resources to reverse US hegemony in the region.

Reversing the trend of oil rich countries nationalizing their oil resources has been the US strategic goal since the end of WWII.

This is why Israel has been allowed to destabilize the Middle East in the hopes (and in the era of cheap oil) it would provide an excuse for the US to place military bases in these countries to control their oil.

All this has now failed miserably for the US as it watches its hegemony implode as the worthless dollars (the sources of US hegemony) crashes.

Now that oil is $70 a barrel the miserable jews in Israel are no longer useful to the US as a source of destabilization since the high cost of oil has now wrecked the US economy and the failing war in Iraq has been economically self-defeating.

The entire US transportation industry is now on the verge of bankruptcy.

With no resources of its own, the Jewish parasites in Israel have now become a crippling economic burden that the US can no longer afford.

The US has realized its greatest strategic blunder in supporting the nefarious Jews in their colonization, ethnic cleansing and genocide in Palestine.

All the cheap oil is now in countries in which the US allowed Israel to create enemies and those countries are now looking to China for trade.

The US has nothing left to export except intermediate goods, the worthless dollar and useless military junk that most countries do not need or can be supplied from others on a cheaper basis.

China has foreseen these and other US strategic blunders and are exploiting it.

The central problem for the US is that it needs to import 30% of the world's oil output for a population that is barely 5% with its own domestic oil output dwindling even as it is apparent that the US is an economic and military failure.

The US has been totally deindustrialized with an economy propped by asset bubbles.

This has NOT been lost on the Chinese.

"China must choose whether to work with the United States to ameliorate problems posed by these states — while still protecting Beijing's energy interests — or whether it "want(ed) to be against us and perhaps others in the international system as well," Zoellick said..."

The 'shock and awe' propaganda from the Iraq war was intended to intimidate China and Iran into going along with US imperial goals.

But after the dreadful failure of the US military in Iraq in which they were defeated by Third-World Islamists with no army, air force, navy and even after the UN disarmed Iraq, the Chinese know that the US can never win a war with China or with Iran.

First, how is the US going to finance a long and costly war with China when China is the US banker propping up the housing bubble with low interest rates in the US (with the purchases of worthless treasury bills)?

Second, the US has already fought a proxy war with China, the Korean war that ended in a stalemate at the DMZ. The US lost this war in its failure to impose its hegemony on North Korea.

Realizing its failures, the US is now attempting diplomacy as though it thinks this can now work.

Why the US and Europe are in a state of panic over China

by Econ on 07.09.2005 [16:12]

China and Japan have both left the Europeans and Americans wondering how it was possible for China and Japan to become industrial giants practically overnight when it took centuries in Europe and America.

China is going through the same criticisms that Japan faced in the 1980's.

In both Japan and China, they seem to have taken the best of capitalism, the best of socialism and the best of oriental culture and made it work.

HOW? Some of it is now coming to light.

Japan's interlocking cross-industry and cross-company alliance systems have more less prevented the wholesale looting of Japanese firms since it made it virtually impossible to determine ownership for those wanting to buy a single company.

Americans could only invest in these companies, they could never own them.

It has been truly amazing how the Japanese a relatively small country was able to surpass the US that is the size of a continent.

Japan's MITI also was heavily involved in what seems to be central planning of their economy. This resulted in Japan maintaining his MANUFACTURING capabilities (and the technological innovations that it brings) as the US and Britain became what they call a "post industrial-services" economy built on credit bubbles.

In other words, the US and Britain are nothing but hollowed out financial shells that produce nothing they consume and must rely on financial products (paper-profits) in which nothing tangible is produced to survive.

You can see the US and Britain's desperation in propping up the worthless dollar. Once the dollar is extinct and can no longer function as a international reserve currency, it will be the end of the US as we know it.

Britain will be caught in the same trap. There is a reason why Britain is America's lapdog. Britain can't survive without the US. Britain is totally dependent on the US. American tourism is a BIG factor.

Tony Blair's primary role is to make sure that Britain never converts to the EURO.

Lifetime employment in Japan roundly denounced in the West also serves a purpose in that it promotes social stability and avoids the social problem of unemployment. There is very little street crime in Japan.

This means anyone would be safe even in run down parts of town and you don't see the 'inner city' problem in Japan.

What is worrying to both the Americans and the Europeans is that a new economic model has emerged in which there is some state planning, some socialism, some barter deal and some capitalism in which the standard of living can be raised without causing the tremendous social disruptions that plague America and Europe.

The terrifying part is that this new system will replace the favored capitalism model where the usual neoclassical assumptions are not always relevant and the dollar plays no role.

This is the new system that the US fears will be used as the US economy implodes under its enormous debt. The last thing the US wants is their capitalist model discredited and discarded into the dustbin of history, just the like the Soviet Union's model was discarded and discredited when the Soviet empire imploded.

The NWO and all that nonsense are just US propaganda.

by Econ on 07.09.2005 [16:24]

The NWO and all that nonsense are just US propaganda.

The US is desperate to find a scapegoat for its self-created economic failure.

The US should be asking itself why it allowed Allan Greenscam to flood the US market with so much excess liquidity (debt) in the years he has been Fed Chairman than in all the years the US has existed?

The US has realized that it can never regain its former prosperity using debt, as it watches China becomes the new industrial power using manufacturing.

It is interesting what you have written. Are you aware that Europe has followed the exact same course as the U.S. Outsourced industry created a service and tourist orientated economy. That the EU bank is debt ridden and China holds a quantity of Europes debt. Europe is heading towards bankruptcy where they cant afford either the pensions or Social benefits. Europe has 2% Credit interest rates with below 1% growth and is unable to stimulate the economy.

China has beaten the lot of them. It is like a very big race between the U.S and Europe on which one can dig their own grave first, The U.S is winning that race, closely followed by Europe.

Yes, a case of alliance can be argued. But a case of NWO in relation to this? The evidence of NWO involvement? This is the main problem.

The evidence that events are related through NWO manipulation is not given.

Pre and post Sept 11 2001

Pre Sept 11, year 1998/2000 assessment people's republic of china (PRC) is to become superpower in the at least 20 years and military threat to the arm wing of fr and uk. Year 2020... conditioned on china could maintain political stability (absence of regime change) big factor is the economy security and war avoidance "China is not yet powerful enough to be a challenger to the American empire, and the goal of the United States is to prevent that challenge from emerging. China will be a major economic and military power in a generation, if it does not collapse into internal disorder as a consequence of economic, political, and religious grievances now clearly visible"

"In 1997 yet another dod Office of Net Assessment- ONA-sponsored study ominously concluded that China viewed the United States as a declining superpower and was scheming to exploit America's military weakness.

"Such conclusions are highly dubious. China's military capabilities are modest. The country's ground-troop strength has been cut in half--to 2 million--since the seventies, and most of its soldiers field weapons that are a quarter-century old. Beijing's air force doesn't have a single long-range bomber, and according to a story in Time this past June, its entire nuclear arsenal 'packs about as much explosive power as what the U.S. stuffs into one Trident submarine.' "

Afghan war no change.. literally greedy us was met with wreaths and flowers.. so it was tricked by greed to Iraq to be met with rpg and shoes lol

Then assessment changed to 2-5 years people's republic of china (PRC) is to become superpower in very near future period 2005.. An annual CIA global intelligence assessment has for the first time since 9/11 characterized China's military buildup as a threat to the United States.

"Improved Chinese capabilities threaten U.S. forces in the region," CIA director Porter Goss told a hearing of the Senate Intelligence Committee Wednesday.
