Columbine's Third Shooter

There Were Others Involved

What is never discussed is the amount of explosives, 95 bombs, that were placed around the school, and who did it. The other buried item is the 52 witnesses that saw a third shooter.

A quick look at Klebold's videos show that this was a tight knit group of 12 kids. Some were buying guns, and others were building bombs, and they all starred in five videos. Besides the 52 witnesses, there were two Trench Coat Mafia (TCM) members describing details.

What Happened?

Stone

Fuselier

It appears that there was a power struggle between the FBI's Dwayne Fuselier and Jefferson County Sheriff John Stone. For all the carnage and intrigue, the investigation consisted of 12 short interviews with Chris Morris, Nathan Dykeman, Brooks Brown, and nine others. These people destroyed their hard-drives and bluffed Sheriff Stone's staff on lie detector tests.

Third Shooter Resurfaces

As the investigation dragged on, and some of the TCM members started to crack, their families were threatened. One TCM member's father had a bizarre lab accident, but the most serious was the execution of Stephanie Hart, who could identify the third shooter with the mask on. On Feb 15, 2000, at 10:55(AM OR PM?) TCM members stalked out a sub sandwich shop where Stephanie picked up her boyfriend, then a shooter executed the two with a bullet to the back of each of their heads.

Sheriff Stone

When Sheriff Stone arrived at the scene and saw the bodies, with the cash register untouched and the video surveillance tapes missing, he went into a rage shouting - "Enough is enough". I think at that point that Stone decided to let Columbine die.

Columbine has never made any sense. On a close examination of eyewitnesses, and events, one can easily see that there were at least seven people involved, and maybe a third shooter. Basically, there were 100 bombs found that day, ...
