A Disgrace To The FBI

One of the FBI's dirtiest secrets is that Dwayne Fuselier the FBI agent in charge of the Columbine investigation, had at least one son in the Trench Coat Mafia. When a Denver news reporter questioned him, he refused to even discuss it.

Fuselier's Conclusions

As the investigation unfolded, Fuselier came to the conclusion that Dylan Klebold was the victim of Eric Harris, there was no third shooter, and that no one else was involved. Fuselier also wants the public to believe that the victims were not singled out for being Blacks and/or Christians, and that the Trench Coat Mafia was not involved.

Go watch the video of the library, at the link below. Listen how Klebold calmly walked in, asked Cassie Bernall if she believed in God, and then shot her as she clutched her Bible.

There Were Others Involved. What is never discussed is the amount of explosives, 95 bombs, that were placed around the school, and who did it.

The other buried item is the 52 witnesses that saw a third shooter. ...
