Israeli children sign their missiles 'with love'

Never have I witnessed such an appalling display of utter contempt for human life. And they're not even ashamed to beam it across the globe, for all the world to see.

THIS is who our tax dollars support - an arrogant, war-like people who indoctrinate their children in the art of murderous and cavalier warfare.

Dear Lebanese/ Palestinian/ Canadian/ American/ Muslim/
Christian/ Australian/ or Anyone else who stands in our way,

DIE.

In fact, I searched for those very images on AP. The Israeli children were signing shells, not missiles. As in, shells that were recovered that HIT Israel.

Okay, I may be wrong. They could be outgoing shells - I looked it up and it didn't say either way whether it was an incoming or outgoing shell. I still see no proof that the children wrote that everyone must die. I looked this up on the AP and even Al Jazeera.

There is zippo proof that either a) the shells are outgoing shells; and b) that messages of hate were written on them.

well, golly, disaffected youth, aka Miss "R",

Just make things up, instead!

THE "PROOF" IS IN THE PUDDING.

Those darling little Israeli children are at a HEAVY ARTILLERY POSITION on the border with Lebanon and there's a fucking tank behind them.

They are not "decorating" dead shells. They are writing "MESSAGES." In the plain meaning of the word, MESSAGES are FOR SENDING.

Can it possibly be more crystal clear to your Zionist-programmed brain?

Those shells are landing on the heads of Lebanese families, and children in southern Lebanon.

And, furthermore, even if you wrote a love song on a shell, it would still KILL the recipient. The "HATE" is in the fucking explosive.

You are so intent on defending Israel that you have lost touch with reality.

Even if they are live shells, so what?

It's no worse than the way Palestinians "car swarm" around dead bodies - tearing apart the body limb from limb, and taking pictures of it all.

War is hell. It brings out the worst in people. I don't defend signing missiles (assuming they are live missiles), but I fail to see how it's any worse than what typically goes on on your average day in the Palestinian territories. This doesn't involve taking apart bodies limb from limb. And the war in Lebanon is being fought to protect Israel's right to exist.

Here's another question, whow in their right mind would be running around collecting dead shells in a war zone just so a stupid kid could sign it with anything?

Staffers at Santa Barbara Paper Join Large Protest

Published: July 15, 2006 10:00 AM ET

SANTA BARBARA Dressed in black and their mouths taped shut, reporters and staff of the Santa Barbara News-Press staged a protest Friday over a recent wave of resignations at the newspaper.

More than 300 supporters roared with applause and shouts when about 25 News-Press employees emerged from the newspaper's Spanish-style landmark building and walked to a microphone in an adjacent park.

Reporter Melinda Burns said newspaper staffers have been ordered not to speak about internal operations and were threatened with dismissal if they did.

"We are very sorry we can't speak, but thank you for coming," she said, stepping away from the microphone as members of the group put duct tape over their mouths. Many in the crowd hoisted signs, including ones that read: "Free the News" and "No More News Suppress."

The protest was the latest public display of newsroom tension that began when staff accused the daily's owner of meddling in news coverage. Six top editors and two writers have resigned, and a copy editor quit Friday.

One of those who resigned, reporter Scott Hadly, said a list of demands was presented to management Thursday. He said they want restoration of journalistic ethics, reinstatement of editors who were forced to resign, new contract negotiations and recognition of the Teamsters union as their exclusive bargaining unit.

Interim publisher Travis Armstrong said he blamed the protest partly on the paper's enemies, among them developers and politicians.

Armstrong said employees who protested would not be disciplined, adding he was disappointed by how the newspaper's order not to discuss internal operations had been portrayed.

Those who quit have said owner Wendy McCaw killed a story about Armstrong's recent sentencing for drunken driving. The newspaper had previously reported on his arrest.

She has said the resignations were prompted by her unwillingness to let editors and reporters "flavor the news with their personal opinions."

The News-Press, founded in 1855, is locally owned and published by McCaw's Ampersand Publishing LLC, which bought the paper in 2000 from the New York Times Co. It has a 57-person editorial staff, publishes seven days a week and has a daily circulation of about 41,000.

Hijack 'suspects' alive and well

Waleed Al Shehri

Waleed Al Shehri left the US a year ago, he says

Another of the men named by the FBI as a hijacker in the suicide attacks on Washington and New York has turned up alive and well.

The identities of four of the 19 suspects accused of having carried out the attacks are now in doubt.

Saudi Arabian pilot Waleed Al Shehri was one of five men that the FBI said had deliberately crashed American Airlines flight 11 into the World Trade Centre on 11 September.

His photograph was released, and has since appeared in newspapers and on television around the world.

Hijacking suspects

Flight 175: Marwan Al-Shehhi, Fayez Ahmed, Mohald Alshehri, Hamza Alghamdi and Ahmed Alghamdi

Flight 11: Waleed M Alshehri, Wail Alshehri, Mohamed Atta, Abdulaziz Alomari and Satam Al Suqami

Flight 77: Khalid Al-Midhar, Majed Moqed, Nawaq Alhamzi, Salem Alhamzi and Hani Hanjour

Flight 93: Ahmed Alhaznawi, Ahmed Alnami, Ziad Jarrahi and Saeed Alghamdi
Now he is protesting his innocence from Casablanca, Morocco.

He told journalists there that he had nothing to do with the attacks on New York and Washington, and had been in Morocco when they happened. He has contacted both the Saudi and American authorities, according to Saudi press reports.

He acknowledges that he attended flight training school at Daytona Beach in the United States, and is indeed the same Waleed Al Shehri to whom the FBI has been referring.

But, he says, he left the United States in September last year, became a pilot with Saudi Arabian airlines and is currently on a further training course in Morocco.

Mistaken identity

Abdulaziz Al Omari, another of the Flight 11 hijack suspects, has also been quoted in Arab news reports.

Abdelaziz Al Omari

Abdelaziz Al Omari 'lost his passport in Denver'

He says he is an engineer with Saudi Telecoms, and that he lost his passport while studying in Denver.

Another man with exactly the same name surfaced on the pages of the English-language Arab News.

The second Abdulaziz Al Omari is a pilot for Saudi Arabian Airlines, the report says.

Meanwhile, Asharq Al Awsat newspaper, a London-based Arabic daily, says it has interviewed Saeed Alghamdi.

Khalid Al-Midhar

Khalid Al-Midhar may also be alive

He was listed by the FBI as a hijacker in the United flight that crashed in Pennsylvania.

And there are suggestions that another suspect, Khalid Al Midhar, may also be alive.

FBI Director Robert Mueller acknowledged on Thursday that the identity of several of the suicide hijackers is in doubt.

I've been noticing substantially fewer .mil visits lately. Actually, I'm not getting any visits at all from .mil, that I can ID as .mil. Cryptogon used to get hundreds per day. It's probably safe to assume that Full Spectrum Dominance applies to the brains of military personnel, and hence the firewall 'approved access' list.

Here's a free (but check out their paid offerings), easy-to-setup tool for folks who are trying to use the web from behind restrictive firewalls: logmein.com.

If you can reach logmein.com from your browser, you can take remote control of any computer that has free access to the Internet; your home computer, for example. Then you will be able to browse cryptogon.com and any other sites that are blocked from work. (Until the donkeys wake up and block logmein.com, of course.) This was an excellent solution for me when I worked for a criminal Wall Street bank that had restrictive firewall policies.

Lebanon civilian deaths morally not same as terror victims -- Bolton

Mon Jul 17, 4:47 PM ET

UNITED NATIONS (AFP) - US Ambassador John Bolton said there was no moral equivalence between the civilian casualties from the Israeli raids in Lebanon and those killed in Israel from "malicious terrorist acts".

ADVERTISEMENT

Asked to comment on the deaths in an Israeli air strike of eight Canadian citizens in southern Lebanon Sunday, he said: "it is a matter of great concern to us ...that these civilian deaths are occurring. It's a tragedy."

"I think it would be a mistake to ascribe moral equivalence to civilians who die as the direct result of malicious terrorist acts," he added, while defending as "self-defense" Israel's military action, which has had "the tragic and unfortunate consequence of civilian deaths".

The eight dead Canadians were a Lebanese-Canadian couple, their four children, his mother and an uncle, said relatives in Montreal.

The Montreal pharmacist and his family had arrived in Lebanon 10 days earlier for a vacation in his parents' home village and to introduce his children to relatives, they said.

Three of his Lebanese relatives died too, a family member told AFP.

"It's simply not the same thing to say that it's the same act to deliberately target innocent civilians, to desire their deaths, to fire rockets and use explosive devices or kidnapping versus the sad and highly unfortunate consequences of self-defense," Bolton noted.

The overall civilian death toll from the Israeli onslaught in Lebanon since last Wednesday reached 195, in addition to 12 soldiers, officials said. Twenty-four Israelis have also been killed since fighting began last Wednesday, including 12 civilians in a barrage of Hezbollah rocket fire across the border.

Tsunami sets off panic in southern Java

by Mathias Hariyadi

A underground quake triggers big wave that strikes Cilacap and Pangandaran on Java's south coast. Buildings collapse; 37 are dead. Fleeing local residents relive the 2004 nightmare all over again.

Jakarta (AsiaNews) - Thousands of residents of the southern Indonesian provinces of Central Java and Java West are fleeing after a tsunami was triggered by an underwater quake off the coast of Jakarta. So far 37 people have been reported killed, but in a public statement Indonesian President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono said the death toll is only provisional. Search and rescue operations are still underway.

The seaquake was set off by an earthquake that measured 7.2 on the Richter scale some 355 kilometres south of Jakarta at the bottom of the Indian Ocean.

A two-metre wave hit the coastal region near Cilacap, a tourist resort where state-owned Pertamina Oil Company has important facilities, and the beach town of Pangandaran, which is State-owned TV was able to broadcast eyewitness accounts of the disaster from the affected area. Teddy, a survivor, said that "people panicked right away. Waves wiped out all the food stands and houses along the beach".

In both resorts traffic is heavy and in one direction: out. People are fleeing for higher and safer ground leaving everything behind.

"Everyone in Pangandaran is scared to death," said Iwan, a local resident. "Hotels, bungalows, villas, bars have been swept away by the sea. People are running away unconcerned about their property, running for their lives."

Today's tsunami is a reminder of the December 26, 2004, tragedy that struck several countries around the Indian Ocean, especially Indonesia which suffered more than 140,000 dead.

PLEASE OBSERVE THE PHOTOS ----- Building Collapses. Death from building collapse, NOT the 'tsunami' (which is a little ripple, 2 m high at most by the sea shore, nothing, NOTHING compared to Dec 2004). Also note the people displaced, 23,000, is FROM LINGERING FEAR of what happened in Dec 2004. Nothing more.

And that, boys and girls is the key ----- Archimedes principle: "To cause water to be displaced, and equal volume must occupy its previous location." -----

A very simple PHYSICAL LAW/CONCEPT, but none-the-less VERY REVEALING. Just like the "molten steel" that was quickly removed from the wreckage scene of 9/11 ---- to cause HIGH-GRADE reinforced steel to MELT, would require VERY HIGH TEMPERATURES.

Toll rises from Indonesia tsunami

Tuesday 18 July 2006, 7:34 Makka Time, 4:34 GMT

Indonesia sits along a belt of volcanic and seismic activity

At least 201 people have died and 125 are missing after a tsunami struck Indonesia's Java island, the head of the crisis centre at the health ministry says.

Nearly 300 people were reported injured on Tuesday and over 23,000 people have been displaced in the tsunami that followed an earthquake.

A French national was among the dead, and two Dutch and four Japanese were among the injured.

Two Swedish children were reported missing on Monday, a diplomatic source said.

At least three other districts were affected by the waves but Ciamis was the worst-hit by Monday's tsunami.

Waves 2 metres high crashed into beach resorts and fishing villages on Indonesia's Java island on Monday.

Regional agencies had sent out tsunami warnings after an undersea earthquake struck 180km off Pangandaran.

But the alerts did not reach the victims because Java - which only seven weeks ago was rocked by a powerful quake that killed thousands and left a million homeless - does not have a tsunami warning system.

The hardest-hit area appeared to be Pangandaran, a beach resort 270km southeast of Jakarta popular with local and foreign tourists.

Witnesses said people shouted "tsunami! tsunami!" and climbed trees or crowded inland mosques as the wave approached.

The 7.2 magnitude quake, whose epicentre was more than 40km under the Indian Ocean, hit at 0819 GMT.

Refinery unaffected

The 7.2 magnitude quake struck at 0819 GMT

A woman told Jakarta-based Radio Elshinta that the waves had come several hundred metres inland at Pangandaran beach.

"Waves suddenly came and we ran to the hills. Four people from my group are still missing. Many small hotels were destroyed and boats have been thrown into hotels," she said.

Tremors were felt in high-rise buildings in Jakarta for at least one minute, prompting many to flee their offices.

The nearby Cilacap refinery owned by state oil company Pertamina was unaffected.

"The refinery is operating as usual. There were rising waves, but now the water has receded," said a Pertamina official.

In May, an earthquake near the central Java city of Yogyakarta killed more than 5,700 people.

Indonesia's 17,000 islands sprawl along a belt of intense volcanic and seismic activity, part of what is called the "Pacific Ring of Fire".

The country was the worst hit by the December 26, 2004 tsunami that killed 220,000 across Asia.

Cease Fire, Soldier - Israel Supernaturally Protected!

That's right: the solution to the current crisis has been found, right in our very own Bible. The Rapture Ready Team is with us to interpret the relevant passages of G*D's LOVE for us. Bless them.

You will learn of Israel's SECRET WEAPON: Israel is supernaturally protected! His heavenly all-powerful mightyness who, through his son on Earth, George W. Bush, has a plan to save us all. Israel can disarm, scrap its nukes, dismantle Dimona, destroy its chemical weapons, free its prisoners, and befriend former foes. Why? Because Israel is supernaturally protected!

We continue now with G*D's peace plan, as interpreted by the Rapture Ready (TM) Team, why peace is upon us, Israel can ceasefire, and both sides can disarm for good. The actual, uncensored virtual roundtable dialogue follows. Listen carefully to G*D's LOVE:

I dont know where I have come up with this but for some reason I keep thinking Israel is supposed to be supernaturally protected from being destroyed. Any scriptures or comments please. It may be just because of the Left Behind 2nd movie who knows. Surely Israel isnt going to be destroyed with WMD, chemical or biological right?

"um, no"

1, Try Ezekiel 38 - 39.

2, NO, of course not. Where would Jesus go to set up the Millenium Kingdom?

[clapping while she types] GOD's chosen ppl, his land that he gave them, I hink not. Big daddy will take care of anyone who makes war against them if it's not in his plan..

No, isn't there a verse in the Bible that says that either 1/3 or 2/3 of Jerusalem will be destroyed during the Tribulation?

They will suffer through the tribulation Jerusalem especially. Here is the verse.

The city shall be attacked, it won't be good.

Zech. 13:7-14:3 (KJV)

Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. [8] And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. [9] And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

[14:1] Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. [2] For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. [3] Then shall the Lord go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

What is your question? That the land won't be destroyed, the buildings, Israel as a nation, are that the people won't never suffer harm. I think that Israel won't be destroyed as a nation. that was part of his promise to bring them back. I do not think this promise includes divine protection on the whole pop.

Right happy day, they will never cease to be a nation again and they will be protected by God. On the other hand, they will suffer judgement, the entire tribulation is for Israel, to bring them back to God.

They will also not come out of these wars unscathed. They will be seriously hurt, but not to death.

I think they could get hit with a WMD that would cause them to destroy Damascus, but this would not destroy Israel but may cause a great deal of casualties. I do think in the future wars with Russia and Iran, God will supernaturally protect Israel, I say this because as I watch, I think what if those missiles that are hitting were nukes or bio weapons.

we know that they were supernaturally protected during the 6 day war...angels..and when they were bombed the gas lines or something like that had been drained...for repair....that was big...sooo but God still has to get their attention....that is what it is all about....and that is what i keep praying for..

And there you have it folks. Peace on Earth. Thanks, G*D!

The world would be a rather terrible place without Israel. You just don't see it. Israel is protecting YOUR freedom - and you don't see it.

Hamas, Hezbollah, al queda - it's all from one source. Iran. Israel is fighting a war the US is unwilling to fight. You are too blind to see it.

Given pretty much every single thing you write is a total and utter lie or manipulation, I admit I jumped too quickly in judgment that the shells were 100% dead shells. I admit now that I was hasty to jumping to that conclusion. But that still is nothing compared to the disgusting way the Palestinians dress their children up as martyrs and send them to their death. Or the way they tear apart dead bodies of Israelis they find on the street, and take pictures. I find that a thousand times deplorable. And I have yet to see you post a single picture of any of that, or get upset with any of that. Jewish life doesn't matter, right? Who cares, it's just a dead Jew, or just a dead Israeli, no big deal, right? Oh, right...you also fail to get upset about Muslim terrorism against fellow Muslims. Like the fact that a suicide bomber in Iraq killed 24 people the other day. That was a Muslim killing another Muslim, so who gives a shit, right? It's only of significance when Israel or the US is involved, huh?

War is hell. Israel is a great place to be if you are Arab Israeli (no matter what you think - it is - given the alternatives in the Middle East to say the VERY least), and it WOULD be a great place to be during times of peace for the Palestinians in the territories. (Well, Neo-Palestinians. In fact, Jews have a longer and more continuous land claim than the so-called "Palestinians, who should really be called Trans-Jordanians, but that is a different story)

The Palestinians brought this on themselves. Hamas kidnapped an Israeli soldier, and has fired missiles into Israel for months now. Same with Hezbollah. Those are acts of WAR. Israel has a right to defend itself. It's so easy for you to say Israel should just lay down and die, being Arab (and hating Israel, of course), and being in the US.

Ever think, though, what life is like as even an Arab Israeli near Haifa? They have to deal with a constant barrage of rockets from Hezbollah, just as the Jewish Israelis have to deal with it. When you deny Israel the right to defend itself, you also deny it the right to defend the Arab Israelis.

Without Israel, most of the Middle East would erupt into utter chaos. Hatred of the one Jewish state is the one thing that unifies the Middle East. Hatred of the state that has the highest human rights standard (by far) in the Middle East is the one thing that keeps civil war from breaking out.

There is a saying "The enemy of my enemy is my friend."

That's how the Middle East works. Israel is ironically keeping the peace just by its very existence.

Now that makes a lot of sense.

If Israel disappeared, Iran wouldn't take its place by bullying the countries around it.

The biggest liar here is the western media. Qrswave brings credible evidence for everything that's written here. You're living in denial.

"War is hell. Israel is a great place to be if you are Arab Israeli (no matter what you think - it is - given the alternatives in the Middle East to say the VERY least), and it WOULD be a great place to be during times of peace for the Palestinians in the territories."

That doesn't justify anything.

The Palestinians brought this on themselves. Hamas kidnapped an Israeli soldier .."

.. after Israel shelled a beach, killing 8 innocent people and blatantly lying and saying it could've been a palestinian mine (WTF!!).

"Israel has a right to defend itself.."

.. against retaliation against what it has done first. Yes of course, how dare those arab idiots strike back.. Shame on them.

"Ever think, though, what life is like as even an Arab Israeli near Haifa?"

Ever think what life is like as an Arab in Gaza, at this very moment? Think about that for a second.

"They have to deal with a constant barrage of rockets from Hezbollah, just as the Jewish Israelis have to deal with it."

What came first, Hezbollah rockets, or the Israeli raids on Gaza and Lebanon, hm?

"When you deny Israel the right to defend itself, you also deny it the right to defend the Arab Israelis."

You just denied the Arabs the right of defending themselves further up.

You are aware of how dumb that sounds aren't you? In the late 90s, before the Intifada started, there was no fighting in this region, and the Middle east didn't go down in chaos. If Israel disappears, Arab countries would rejoice, there wouldn't be any civil war. You make it sound like Israel is the middle eastern police or something, trying to sought peace between the Arab countries that absolutely detest each other and would love to tear each other apart. Please tell me that, I beg you, so I can have a really good reason to label you a dimwit.0

The Palestinians were offered MANY peace deals - and turn them down each time, opting instead for violence.

I believe I speak for most of Israelis when I say that I am all for a Palestinian state, but only under the following conditions:

1) A formal recognition of Israel's right to exist; 2) Laying down of arms; 3) Pledge to end terror; 4) Evidence that the Palestinians can actually be peace partners.

Until all four conditions are met, I am wholly against giving away even a single centimeter of Israeli land to the Palestinians. They have proven to only use their land as a launch pad for terror.

Ironically, this blog's continued support for violence against Israel, it guarantees the Palestinians will NOT have their own state anytime soon. It is clear that unless those four conditions are met, the Palestinians WILL NOT get their own state.

And what do the oppressive regimes have anything to do with this? Yes we have oppressive regimes, and yes, we want them gone. So friggin what? That has absolutely squat to do with this Israeli conflict. We've had oppressive governments since 1952. So we have to thank Israel because they're preventing us from fighting against those regimes and getting into trouble? I really don't see any logic in that. Sooner or later they'll have to go anyway, regardless of whether we are fighting a common enemy or not.

Seeing what Israel has been doing for quite a while, I strongly DOUBT that Israel would stop its crimes straight after the violence from the Palestinian side stops. Don't think that stopping that violence is the magic card for peace around the area. And for your information, the Palestinians are thinking EXACTLY the same towards Israel. LOL...you really are clueless.

Since 1967, when Israel conquered these areas (the final 22 percent of mandatory Palestine), Palestinians have been living under Israeli military occupation. While in some parts Israel has allowed a Palestinian "autonomous" entity to take on such municipal functions as education, health care, infrastructure and policing, Israel retains overall power.

According to international law, an occupying force is responsible for the protection of the civilian population living under its control. Israel, however, ignores this requirement, routinely committing violations of the Geneva Conventions, a set of principles instituted after World War II to ensure that civilians would "never again" suffer as they had under Nazi occupation. Israel is one of the leading violators of these conventions today.

Israeli forces regularly confiscate private land; imprison individuals without process - including children - and physically abuse them under incarceration; demolish family homes; bulldoze orchards and crops; place entire towns under curfew; destroy shops and businesses; shoot, maim, and kill civilians - and Palestinians are without power to stop any of it.

Get a clue.

Those are live shells. If they were incoming rockets from Lebanon they would be dented, unreadable, or would have been most likely totally destroyed upon impact. If they were duds they would have been buried in the ground and also dented and unreadable. These show no signs of having been buried in the dirt.

No, those are more than likely tank rounds to be used by that Israeli tank sitting in the background. I would say HE/DP rounds or similar as I double that tank is firing smoke or something.

At Tue Jul 18, 01:48:00 PM EDT, Anonymous said...

Folks,

The shells are almost certainly 155mm artillery shells which will be fired by the M109 155mm Self Propelled Howitzer (the 'tank' you see in the background), see <http://www.fas.org/man/dod-101/sys/land/m109.htm> . The tip of the shells (that green cone) is the fuse for the shell (probably air burst with contact back up). These round are ABSOLUTELY/POSITIVELY not used (i.e. they have yet to be fired). The reason for this are simple; they are stacked in a neat row and show no damage. Any artillery round which has been fired and landed as a dud will be bent and distorted, these shells are pristine and unfired.

At Tue Jul 18, 01:50:13 PM EDT, Anonymous said...

No one in their right mind would let a child near a shell that had failed to explode. The fuzing state of an unexploded shell is unknown and therefore extremely dangerous. Militaries maintain highly trained teams to deal with unexploded ordnance. It is deadly and demanding work. And under NO circumstance would multiple pieces of unexploded ordnance be stacked together as in this photo; that would multiply the risk.

Also, these are artillery shells. Hezbollah uses rockets.

I can say with 100% certainty that these are Israeli artillery shells that have yet to be fired.

According to AFP -

http://news.yahoo.com/s/afp/20060717/pl_afp/mideastconflictlebanon_060717204728

"The overall civilian death toll from the Israeli onslaught in Lebanon since last Wednesday reached 195, in addition to 12 soldiers, officials said. Twenty-four Israelis have also been killed since fighting began last Wednesday, including 12 civilians in a barrage of Hezbollah rocket fire across the border."

So according to these numbers, the Lebanese offensive has a civilian collateral death rate of a whopping 50%!! That's pretty high, even considering that many of their rockets are quite primitive.

What do the Israeli numbers say... hmmm, 207 kills, 195 of them civilian...er... wtf??? 94% of those killed by Israelis have been civilians? Even with their laser guided smart bombs and other precision munitions? How can this possibly be? What's happening is obvious... collective punishment with no regard for civilians. Who are the terrorists?

Let's examine the ways you are wrong...

1) Arab Israelis in fact are allowed to marry Jewish Israelis. They were always allowed civil unions, but a recent Israeli Supreme Court opinion also gives them the right to marry.

2) You are flat out wrong re: . They did the exact opposite.

3) Irgun/Stern attacked British military installations, and I don't defend all they did. However, they did that because the Brits were siding with the Palestinians at the time and they were trying to apply pressure to the Brits. I don't think it's okay, what they did. But that is not the same as helping Hitler. Irgun/Stern did not help Hitler. The Palestinians helped Hitler. It's called BOOKS. READ THEM. LOOK UP THE FACTS.

4) There is no apartheid in Israel. I bet you don't even know what apartheid means."

It is apparent that are in need of educating yourself as to the facts of history. First off start with The Transfer Agreement by Edwin Black, then move onto 51 Documents; Zionist Collaboration with the Nazis, then Perfidy by Ben Hecht, then you can pick up The Life and Times of Menachem Begin by Amos Perlmutter.

I guarantee you by the time you finish those books, whether or not you're an 'atheist' you'll change your mind about your support of 'israel'.

Israel's "Demographic Demon" in Court

A low-key but injudicious war of words briefly broke out between Israel's two most senior judges in the wake of the May 2006 decision by the Supreme Court to uphold the constitutionality of the Nationality and Entry into Israel Law. A temporary measure passed by the Knesset in July 2003, the law effectively bans marriages between Palestinians in the Occupied Territories and Israeli citizens.

PLEASE NOTE THAT MARRIAGES ARE BANNED. I even supplied the link so you can check it out yourself.

Your platform continues to shrink. If you build your house on sand you don't stand a chance when the rains come.

disaffected youth,

CAN YOU READ?

"He was referring to failed attempts by Israeli political leaders to legislate some form of marriage or "civil union" for those who don't want or can't have Orthodox weddings."

He is talking about 'civil unions' between 'israelis'. NOW compare3 that statement with this one:

"May 2006 decision by the Supreme Court to uphold the constitutionality of the Nationality and Entry into Israel Law. A temporary measure passed by the Knesset in July 2003, the law effectively bans marriages between Palestinians in the Occupied Territories and Israeli citizens."

WHICH BANS PALESTINIANS AND 'israelis' FROM MARRYING. If that isn't racism and apartheid then I don't know the meaning of the word.

Israel has always allowed civil unions between Jews and nonJews - with full marriage benefits. That is a qualification that is quite significant.

The recent Supreme Court decision requires marriage, not just civil unions.

But the only difference between the civil union and marriage is a name.

I never said I approved of such practices, but hey, most places in the Middle East Jews are forbidden from marrying nonJews outright - no allowance for civil unions.

If you are a non-Jew in Israel your car must have a different colored license plate. If you are a Palestinian and you marry an Israeli you can not live in Israel. You are disillusioned to think Israel is a peaceful free state. Much paranoia reigns. There will never be peace. It is the everlasting tragedy created by man by his pride emotions and beliefs. We are all one race the human race and until Israeli leaders start thinking this way and making statements to this effect the region will never see peace.

The Israelis should require the death of Nasrallah as the first condition to any cease-fire. Letting Arafat die of AIDS instead of a bullet between the eyes was a grievous mistake.

Correct. IDF should be shot on sight when intruding in another nation. What that said, I say the whole kidnapping caper is STAGED by MOSSAD elements within "Hamas" and even "Hezbollah." MOSSAD infiltrates these groups and makes them commit COINTEL type operations.

The current "operations" were in planning stages for the past 6 years. How do these so called "kidnappings" even factor into that? The bullshit smells something awful.

The only thing that I can say here first: Diaffected youth the world was pretty pleasant place to be without Israel for a very long time. Israel creates many problems and solves none. Encouraging this kind of sickness in children is MADNESS. Only a mentally disturbed person would not be able to see that. Israel is an arrogant, ignorant, exclusionistic and RACIST nation. It has given very little to the world and has taken much. One day you may awaken to this fact and find it is too late. Then you will forever be haunted by the madness that grips you now.

Save yourself, save your soul for there is no reward in Sheol for the mindless arrogance and wickedness that you support.
