

ARTICLE | posted August 15, 2002 (September 2, 2002 issue)

The Men From JINSA and CSP

JASON VEST

Almost thirty years ago, a prominent group of neoconservative hawks found an effective vehicle for advocating their views via the Committee on the Present Danger, a group that fervently believed the United States was a hair away from being militarily surpassed by the Soviet Union, and whose raison d'être was strident advocacy of bigger military budgets, near-fanatical opposition to any form of arms control and zealous championing of a Likudnik Israel. Considered a marginal group in its nascent days during the Carter Administration, with the election of Ronald Reagan in 1980 CPD went from the margins to the center of power.

Just as the right-wing defense intellectuals made CPD a cornerstone of a shadow defense establishment during the Carter Administration, so, too, did the right during the Clinton years, in part through two organizations: the Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs (JINSA) and the Center for Security Policy (CSP). And just as was the case two decades ago, dozens of their members have ascended to powerful government posts, where their advocacy in support of the same agenda continues, abetted by the out-of-government adjuncts from which they came. Industrious and persistent, they've managed to weave a number of issues--support for national missile defense, opposition to arms control treaties, championing of wasteful weapons systems, arms aid to Turkey and American unilateralism in general--into a hard line, with support for the Israeli right at its core.

On no issue is the JINSA/CSP hard line more evident than in its relentless campaign for war--not just with Iraq, but "total war," as Michael Ledeen, one of the most influential JINSAans in Washington, put it last year. For this crew, "regime change" by any means necessary in Iraq, Iran, Syria, Saudi Arabia and the Palestinian Authority is an urgent imperative. Anyone who dissents--be it Colin Powell's State Department, the CIA or career military officers--is committing heresy against articles of faith that effectively hold there is no difference between US and Israeli national security interests, and that the only way to

PRINT THIS ARTICLE

EMAIL THIS ARTICLE

WRITE TO THE EDITORS

TAKE ACTION NOW

DELICIOUS BOOKMARK

SUBSCRIBE TO THE NATION

JINSA/CSP advisers Richard Perle and Douglas Feith have spent the past fifteen years working quietly to keep the US arms sluice to Turkey open. Click here.

about

JASON VEST

Jason Vest writes on national security affairs for The Nation

more...

also by

JASON VEST

PNAC's Happy Warriors

JASON VEST | The neocon think tank's recent call for an increase in troop strength is myopic.
02/21/2005 (web)

Destabilizing the CIA

JASON VEST | Porter Goss is undermining the CIA.
12/13/2004 issue

Implausible Denial II

JASON VEST | Seymour Herst has been much more right than not in his reporting on the current Administration.
05/31/2004 (web)

more...

related articles

PUBLIC POLICY GROUPS

An Idea Factory for the Democrats

ROBERT DREYFUSS | The Center for American Progress was conceived as the Democratic answer to the Heritage Foundation... SUB
03/1/2004 issue

The Crawford Conundrum

THEODORE HAMM SUB
03/17/2003 issue

Taking (Back) the Initiative

DAVID SARASOHN SUB
06/18/2001 issue

more...

assure continued safety and prosperity for both countries is through hegemony in the Middle East--a hegemony achieved with the traditional cold war recipe of feints, force, clientism and covert action.

CONTINUED

For example, the Pentagon's Defense Policy Board--chaired by JINSA/CSP adviser and former Reagan Administration Defense Department official Richard Perle, and stacked with advisers from both groups--recently made news by listening to a briefing that cast Saudi Arabia as an enemy to be brought to heel through a number of potential mechanisms, many of which mirror JINSA's recommendations, and which reflect the JINSA/CSP crowd's preoccupation with Egypt. (The final slide of the Defense Policy Board presentation proposed that "Grand Strategy for the Middle East" should concentrate on "Iraq as the tactical pivot, Saudi Arabia as the strategic pivot [and] Egypt as the prize.") Ledeen has been leading the charge for regime change in Iran, while old comrades like Andrew Marshall and Harold Rhode in the Pentagon's Office of Net Assessment actively tinker with ways to re-engineer both the Iranian and Saudi governments. JINSA is also cheering the US military on as it tries to secure basing rights in the strategic Red Sea country of Eritrea, happily failing to mention that the once-promising secular regime of President Isaiias Afewerki continues to slide into the kind of repressive authoritarianism practiced by the "axis of evil" and its adjuncts.

Indeed, there are some in military and intelligence circles who have taken to using "axis of evil" in reference to JINSA and CSP, along with venerable repositories of hawkish thinking like the American Enterprise Institute and the Hudson Institute, as well as defense contractors, conservative foundations and public relations entities underwritten by far-right American Zionists (all of which help to underwrite JINSA and CSP). It's a milieu where ideology and money seamlessly blend: "Whenever you see someone identified in print or on TV as being with the Center for Security Policy or JINSA championing a position on the grounds of ideology or principle--which they are unquestionably doing with conviction--you are, nonetheless, not informed that they're also providing a sort of cover

related articles
CONSERVATIVES & THE AMERICAN RIGHT

Burning Cole

PHILIP WEISS | Politics trumped academic integrity when a neocon network torpedoed the appointment of Mideast scholar and blogger Juan Cole to a faculty position at Yale.
07/3/2006 issue

Target Ford

SCOTT SHERMAN | When the Ford Foundation came under pressure, it revised its grant-making standards, restricting the political activities of its grantees.
06/5/2006 issue

Inside Man

PERRY ANDERSON | In America at the Crossroads, Francis Fukuyama critiques the neoconservative movement and its disastrous defense of the Iraq War. But he remains fully committed to the unchecked use of American power.
04/24/2006 issue

more...

related articles
ARMS SPENDING & PROLIFERATION

US Arms for Terrorists?

FRANK SMYTH | Two US officers are caught delivering weapons to a Colombian paramilitary group.
06/13/2005 issue

Fiddling While Crucial Programs Starve

ROBERT SCHEER | Has the United States become like ancient Rome, in love with costly conquest?
05/9/2005 (web)

A Con Job by Pakistan's Pal George Bush

ROBERT SCHEER | Trying to follow the US policy on the proliferation of nuclear weapons is like watching a three-card monte game.
04/11/2005 (web)

more...

related articles
US FOREIGN POLICY

The New American Cold

for other ideologues who just happen to stand to profit from hewing to the Likudnik and Pax Americana lines," says a veteran intelligence officer. He notes that while the United States has begun a phaseout of civilian aid to Israel that will end by 2007, government policy is to increase military aid by half the amount of civilian aid that's cut each year-- which is not only a boon to both the US and Israeli weapons industries but is also crucial to realizing the far right's vision for missile defense and the Middle East.

Blog Back!

Blog conversation on this article.

There are no links to this story yet. Do you blog? You could be the first! Just post a link to this story and your blog could appear here. Become a Technorati member to add your photo and byline!

POWERED BY  Technorati

CONTINUED ►

PAGE 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 NEXT

Get The Nation at home (and online!) for 75 cents a week!

If you like this article, consider making a donation to The Nation.

PRINT THIS ARTICLE | EMAIL THIS ARTICLE | WRITE TO THE EDITORS | TAKE ACTION NOW

Get Firefox with Google Toolbar for better browsing.

Ads By Google

what's this?

Stuff Happens

a play by David Hare about the lead up to the Iraq war.

www.newint.com.au

Should Christians War?

Should Christians go to War? What does the Bible say?

www.TheRCG.org

Iraq War

Did the media get the story wrong? See our award winning documentary

www.confrontingiraq.net

See the video

Torture & forced confessions alleged at Guantanamo!

www.kuwaitifreedom.org

War

STEPHEN F. COHEN | The cold war never really ended: Russia's continuing instability and weapons of mass destruction, combined with Washington's triumphalist foreign policies and US/NATO military buildup, are creating an even more dangerous situation.

07/10/2006 issue

Say Goodbye to Bolton

IAN WILLIAMS | Selection of a new UN Secretary General is too important to be engineered by the whims and prejudices of John Bolton. It's time for saner voices in the Administration to tell the UN ambassador his time is up.

07/10/2006 (web)

We Are the World

DAVID RIEFF | When liberals and conservatives discuss the United States' role in the world, they are really talking about the narcissism of small differences. Two new books show how both sides share a conviction in American exceptionalism.

07/3/2006 issue

more...

Ads by Goooooogle

100 Middle East Myths

surprising & enlightening book Buy now from New Internationalist
www.newint.com.au

Emirates Economist

Economic analysis of events in the United Arab Emirates and the Gulf
emirateseconomist.blogspot.com

Control the arms trade

Award-winning independent magazine
New Internationalist:ideas
& action
www.newint.org

Iraq War -Do you Agree?

Read an insiders view on the War on Iraq -
Independent Media
Reviews
Crikey.com.au/Politics

The Coming World War

Find out what Nostradamus says about the years 2006 - 2012.
www.NostradamusOnline.com

---

MOBILE | ABOUT US | CONTACT | MEDIA KIT | PRIVACY POLICY |

Copyright © 2006 The Nation

Video player designed by Jeroen Wijering.