Olmert orders army to 'use all force - spare no one'

The Israeli prime minister has given his army the order to use all its force to rescue the soldier captured by Palestinian militants last week.

Meeting with his cabinet, Ehud Olmert said that no one would be spared, adding that the Israeli government had no intention of giving in to blackmail.

Just what this means for the 1.4 million people who live in Gaza is unclear.

Sounds crystal clear to me. They intend to commit genocide.

Israeli tanks have massed at both ends of the Strip, despite pleas from the Red Cross for them to pull back to allow essential supplies to reach the Palestinians.

Strikes on Gaza's main power plant last week knocked out electricity to nearly half the population. Now fuel for generators has virtually run dry and the UN emergency coordinator says if power is not restored the Palestinians are heading for the abyss.

Last night Israel struck at the heart of the Palestinian Hamas government, attacking the office of the prime minister.

Ismail Haniyeh was not there at the time, although three security guards were allegedly injured. Afterwards he appealed to the international community and the Arab League to intervene and bring an end to the aggression.

While expressing hope that an agreement could still be reached on releasing the soldier, Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas said life in Gaza was becoming intolerable.

"Our people are living in harsh conditions under the shelling and the airstrikes and the bombs," he said. "But what is to come may be more difficult."

The US finances and supports this cruelty. Enough is enough. Spread the word. Come November, all those spineless worms in Congress that support this aggression must go.

Israel is the criminal.

bush is the accomplice.

Your last statement is right on. In November, vote against anyone of any party who does not call for impeachment of bush.

We have to turn the tide.

Is it a revolution when you are taking your country back from those who stole it?

Or are we counter-revolutionaries?

I find it completely hilarious that people actually think they have any control over the bought off puppets in Congress.

I find it completely hilarious that people actually think that anything is happening while they are endlessly gathering evidence that is so damning, that even the stupidest moose on the planet could understand it.

I mean, it should have been an obvious "go arrest your government" exercise when they endorsed this position:

1 airplane crash in NY
+ 1 airplane crash in NY

3 NY buildings falling straight down

The fact that no one has done anything about it yet simply shows how corrupt the whole institution of government actually is at this point in time.

Almost 5 years later no less. All of those innocent people dead, and no one cares enough to put a stop to these monsters.

Give your head a shake and go arrest your government, or forget about it and live with the consequences of being an idiot in a new age Hitler society.

This 'New age Hitler society' as the previous poster put it, has been building for some time now. This is a country built on slave labor. So I wouldn't be so fast to put the US above Hitler.

As in all societies, we are softer on ourselves than other, perhaps more objective folks might be.

All that is happening now has been building for some time and is little more than the natural progression of our century long aggression towards, first the natives, then the kidnapped Africans (both of which continue to this day). I believe it instrumental for us to understand who we are and who we have been, as we attempt to extricate ourselves from what seems to be a continued destiny as genocidal oppressors.

But understanding and admitting who/what we are has never been an American strong suit, just as it wasn't a German strong suit.

WWIII has begun. Do not expect the US gov't to do anything about it. Their too busy caging protestors, pressuring Amazon to not stock books like "America Deceived" by E.A. Blayre III, spying on all Americans by tapping your phones and starting 2 of our own illegal wars on Arabs. So Israel is free to kill as many Arabs as they wish. This is going to end badly.

Yup, the US "government" is too busy arresting pot smokers and non-white people looking for food in order to survive to go after the white male corporate terrorists in Congress or for that matter the white male corporate terrorists outside of Congress. In fact the reason the pigs exist is too protect the evil corrupt murderous corporate terrorists.
