Screw the Photos: Bush, Abramoff Smoking Gun is W Removing Prosecutor Twice

Filed under: headline news, Impeach — ben @ 10:32 am

Twice now, Bush has removed the prosecutor in the Abramoff case. Twice!

From the LA Times, Aug 8, 2005 via Bellacio:

WASHINGTON — A US grand jury in Guam opened an investigation of controversial lobbyist Jack Abramoff more than two years ago, but President Bush removed the supervising federal prosecutor, and the probe ended soon after.

SF Chronicle, Jan 27, 2006:

The investigation into Jack Abramoff, the disgraced Republican lobbyist, took a provocative new turn Thursday when the Justice Department said the chief prosecutor in the inquiry would step down next week because he had been nominated to a federal judgeship by President Bush.

How can Bush remove Abramoff's prosecutor twice and get away with it?

I'm utterly speechless. Do I need to explain this... ? I mean, why isn't this a major scandal that every politician and news network isn't breaking. This is 24/7 headline news... but the corporate media buries it, while calling bloggers 'irresponsible'.

What could be worse... how bout this? Bush says he doesn't really know Abramoff, but in May 2001, Abramoff charged his clients, the Coshatta Tribe, $25,000 to have lunch with Bush, The Texas Observer even has a copy of the check. This arrangement would make Abramoff the pimp, and Bush the whore. To me it is unbelievable that the President of the US would do this, to make his buddy rich. Why wouldn't he just have lunch with the tribe because he's the President and he cares!

Give it a day, there will be a talking point excuse for this.

Probably something like the White House promoting and demoting prosecutors all the time and that they'll look into it. Then in 3 weeks they'll say that there's no impropriety but that this kind of prosecutor management isn't done by Bush personally and it's all SOP.

You're gonna need photos of Bush tossing Abramoff's salad in the Oval office before the media actually takes any WH/Abramoff connections seriously.

Sorry, just the way it is.

The main stream media has become irrelevant. They are owned and operated by the zionist freaks. An absolute boycott is necessary. Yesterday, I was at the checkout stand and the NY Post headline: “TERRORIST WINS!” made me break out in a loud laughter. Needless to say, the other people on the line had no idea what I thought so funny. Very few realize that Hamas is Israel's child. Very few see the Israelis as the terrorist. Very few know that Israel murdered 179 Palestinian children in 2005 alone. The 10 Israeli children that died in the same time frame got front page news. So yes, the terrorist Israel did win as this is exactly what the Israelis wanted.

Problems are—the democrats want Jackoff SILENTIA! Have you forgotten that he is Jewish and so is Libby. These are the untouchables. How do you think Jews get their wealth?...Bribes!

If you own the media you control the country.

Question—Most Jews change their Russian Names for what reasons and why does the government allow them.

Note; I tried to change my long name and got refused—no good reason, BUT! the Jews can and why is that?—Could it be to account for the 6 million missing!

The problem is-Americans don't know their enemy and has infested all areas of government and media. What can we do about it? Nothing-cause the host is almost DEAD!

Does it surprise anyone anymore that Bush does whatever he wants to? Bush has to, and will, go down. We just have to make sure we don't go down first.

Is there EVEN one American that thinks the USA can afford to pay the DEBT and still be the USA? the hell that comes from preventing collapse will in the end be far worse than just sucking it up and getting your house in order whatever it takes. Instead you WAR to protect your WASTEFULL ways and maintain some weird Status quo nonsense. You let your NEWS get totaly out of hand. You fail to see that the house you live in is fake and perverted. You allow your leaders to lie.

is it there fault or is it yours?

i think it's YOUR TIME TO DO SOMETHING

DO IT, DO IT NOW

I'm not stunned, just used to it. Just because the public fails to react does not mean we aren't getting it, and that we aren't pissed.

We are. It's just, well, where, other than this space here, am I able to get my voice out.

Protests don't work anymore, because they aren't covered.

CPB head Cheryl F. Halpern

CHERYL F. Halpern, a major Republican fundraiser, has been elected the new chairwoman of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB). The private, nonprofit corporation, created by Congress in 1967, describes itself as “the largest single source of funding for public television and radio programming.”

Halpern has served on the CPB board since 2002, and has criticized National Public Radio's Middle East coverage, calling it biased against Israel. She has overseen such U.S. government-funded media projects as Voice of America, Radio Marti in Cuba and Radio Free Iraq. Formerly chairwoman for the Republican Jewish Coalition, Halpern currently sits on the board of the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, a spinoff of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee, Israel's Washington, DC lobby. In 2001 she used her own personal funds to commission a review of anti-Semitism in Syrian textbooks.

Halpern was a delegate from the Coordinating Board of Jewish Organizations to the 4th United Nations World Conference on Women's Rights in 1995 in Beijing, and from 1998 to 2002 chaired the United Nations Advisory Council of B'nai B'rith International. Halpern's selection as CPB chair, warned the citizens' group Common Cause, may "mean more politicizing for public broadcasting."

Perhaps not surprisingly, Halpern's family has business interests in Israel. She is married to Fredrick Michael Halpern, a real estate developer born in Bayreuth, Bavaria, who is a member of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith as well as of AIPAC. The couple has three children.

In her new role Halpern will oversee distribution of the $400 million in funds for public radio and television stations that CPB receives from Congress. In mid-October, conservative House Republicans proposed that taxpayer support for CPB be eliminated as part of a cost-cutting effort to pay for repairing the damage from Hurricane Katrina. Indeed, for many years some Republicans have sought to permanently eliminate CPB's public funding.

At her 2002 confirmation hearing for a position on the CPB board of directors, Halpern suggested that journalists in public broadcasting need to be punished for editorializing in programs.

A spokeswoman for National Public Radio, Andi Sporkin, criticized the corporation under the chairmanship of Kenneth Y. Tomlinson, Halpern's predecessor, who conceived, but did not implement, a plan to monitor NPR for anti-Israel bias: The Sept. 27 Los Angeles Times quoted Sporkin as saying, "The events at CPB over the last six months have been disappointing for public radio as we've watched an organization that has supported public broadcasting for four decades, and through all administrations, become an instrument of ideology and agenda. Our hope is that the new leadership acknowledges the value Congress and millions of Americans have placed on public broadcasting's service and integrity, restores the vital fire wall, and rights the course of CPB."

For people who have generally supported NPR, Halpern's appointment will come as a shock. Some people may shift their voluntary contributions to such alternatives as Pacifica Radio. Others may withhold their contributions from their local public television and radio stations as long as Halpern is in charge of who gets CPB funding and hope for a better day in the next year or two.

Excellent PBS Documentary

“Elusive Peace: Israel and the Palestinians” is an excellent 150-minute PBS documentary covering the entire history of the Arab-Israeli conflict. For those new to the subject as well as for those who just want to review it, there are few better resources. While people on all sides of the issue will wish that some elements had been included, given the fact that the imbroglio has gone on for more than a century the film is a remarkable achievement.

Although it’s remarkable that the film was aired at all, it unfortunately was not widely publicized, at least not in the Washington, DC area. Hopefully it will be re-broadcast—although given the situation described above, that may be an increasingly dubious eventuality. Not willing to wait, however, the AET Book Club has taken matters into its own hands and is making the documentary available at $24.99. To order a copy, call (800) 368-5788, ext. 2. You’ll be glad you did.

This is not only America’s condition, it is the same all over. Just right now they are painting USA as the evil empire to hate. They have infiltrated all the countries. He who has the gold makes the rules. Rothschild has all the gold and he now rules. As long as you feel smug and free they can manipulate you too.
