

Estonia sinking

About Bollyn

Middle East

Dresden

Christopher Bollyn Journalist Sans Frontières

Home

About Christopher Bollyn

Bookstore

Articles by Subject

Political Assassinations

Depleted Uranium

Middle East Crisis

Electronic Voting

European History

Estonia Sinking

TASER Kills

9/11

Hidden in menus

Articles by Subject 9/11 The Bollyn Trial: The Criminalization of an Outspoken Journalist 9-11 Cover-Up: The Italian Gangsters and Their Jewish Bosses

9-11 Cover-Up: The Italian Gangsters and Their Jewish Bosses

By Christopher Bollyn
1 October 2007

Michael B. Mukasey, the current nominee to be the next Attorney General of the United States, was the former chief judge of the U.S. District Court of the Southern District of New York, until he resigned in 2006. Mukasey first became a federal district judge in Manhattan in 1987 after he was recommended by Senator Alfonse M. D'Amato to President Ronald Reagan.

ALFONSE & THE JEWS

Alfonse M. D'Amato turned out to be a very pro-Israel senator, although he had only received 4 out of every 100 Jewish votes when he was first elected in 1980. There were, evidently, other more powerful Zionist forces than "the Jewish vote" influencing the Roman Catholic senator.

"D'Amato, who received only 4 percent of the Jewish vote in 1980, placed himself firmly in Israel's corner from the start," Tom Goldstein wrote in his article, "D'Amato: At Home in the Senate," in the New York Times of February 18, 1983.

"The most important appointment a Senator influences are Federal judgeships, which are for life," Goldstein wrote.

D'Amato certainly influenced quite a few appointments of federal judges and prosecutors during his 18 years in the senate. He nominated the two judges who have overseen the most crucial 9-11 lawsuits: Alvin K. Hellerstein and Michael B. Mukasey.

DAMATO'S CRIMINAL ACTIVITY

In the spring of 1993, the senator's brother Armand was tried on 24-counts of mail fraud after being part of a 1986-1988 bribery scheme in which he was paid some $120,000 by an executive at Unisys to buy influence with his brother, the senator.

The Senate Ethics Committee had also reprimanded D'Amato for allowing his brother Armand, a lobbyist, to use office stationery to help solicit million-dollar Navy contracts for Unisys. Unisys had lobbied the senator's brother to ensure that the U.S. military would buy their radar products, which they did.

When Armand was sentenced in November 1993, he received the minimum possible sentence: 5 months in prison and five months in home detention. Armand planned to appeal and remained free on $10,000 bail when the New York Times reported on his sentencing on November 6, 1993.

A federal appeals court subsequently reversed Armand D'Amato's mail fraud conviction, finding insufficient evidence against him.

Michael Chertoff, the current Homeland Security "czar," served as the U.S. Attorney for the District of New Jersey from 1991 to 1994. During this time, Chertoff worked with Judge Mukasey on the case against "the Blind Sheikh" after the first Zionist "false-flag" bombing of the World Trade Center in 1993.

Chertoff was appointed by President George H. W. Bush in 1990 as United States Attorney for the state in 1990. Chertoff was the only U.S. attorney not replaced when the Clinton administration took office in 1993.

D'Amato with Chertoff, the Zionist controller, in the background.

In 1995, Chertoff began working as majority counsel with D'Amato on the Senate Whitewater Committee inquest looking into allegations made against President Clinton and others.

Chertoff has always been positioned to serve as the Zionist crime network's key agent managing the criminal cover-up of 9-11 and the first WTC bombing.

Sen. Alfonse D'Amato appears to be feeling the Zionist pressure. Michael Chertoff, in the background, was special counsel for the Senate Whitewater Committee investigating allegations against the Clintons.

THE GIULIANI FAMILY'S CRIMINAL HISTORY

Judge Michael Bernard Mukasey had already been a district judge for 5 years when Rudolph W. Giuliani was elected mayor in 1994. Giuliani was the only child of Harold Giuliani, a man who had ties to organized crime in Brooklyn from the 1930s.

Mayor Giuliani's father had served an 18-month prison term in Sing Sing for armed robbery in 1934. As Wayne Barrett wrote in his book "Rudy," the elder Giuliani had been an enforcer for his brother-in-law's loan-sharking operation.

In 2000, Giuliani admitted in a television interview that he had known about his father's criminal activity. "Some of it," the mayor said, "did come as a shock."

"I've driven myself crazy over this all my life," Giuliani said. "And when any mistake has been made it really bothers me, and I realize more than I did as I was growing up why my father was doing that. I mean, he wanted to make sure that I didn't make the same mistakes that he believed he had made." (Source: "Giuliani Acknowledges Knowing of His Father's Criminal Activity," New York Times, Aug. 10, 2000)

But was the criminal history of Giuliani's family a shock to Michael Mukasey, the Orthodox Jew who was chief judge of the district court in Manhattan? It's hard to imagine that the mayor's family history of involvement in organized crime was not well known to the clerks and judges in the district court of Manhattan.

Was this news to Alvin K. Hellerstein, another Orthodox Jew who served as a district judge across the street from City Hall?

Was it a surprise to Michael Chertoff, the Orthodox Jew who worked closely with Giuliani as an assistant prosecutor in the 1980s?

Michael Chertoff, with the Cheshire Cat smile in the middle, was an Asst. U.S. Attorney under Rudolph Giuliani in the 1980s when Giuliani and Chertoff went after gangsters of the Italian sort.

I seriously doubt if this news was a surprise to any of them. I suspect that these three men, all judges and prosecutors who had worked closely with Giuliani, all knew about his father's criminal record. In fact, I suspect that they used this knowledge to their advantage. I would suspect that they used the greed and criminality of the D'Amato family to their benefit in the same way.

This is how the criminal network within the U.S. government, something I call "crimocracy," works. It functions effectively as a government of criminals, by criminals, and for criminals. This criminal network is the primary source of the corruption which has brought the United States into such dire straits.

Michael Mukasey, an Orthodox Jew, has shown that he has an extensive knowledge in the history of organized crime in New York City. Mukasey's public interest in organized crime, however, seems to be limited to criminal networks of ethnic groups other than his own. He has, for example, written lengthy articles about Italian organized crime and reviewed books about the subject for the New York Times since 1971, when he was less than 30-years old.

THE ZIONIST CONNECTION

The three men named above: Michael B. Mukasey, Alvin K. Hellerstein, and Michael Chertoff are all Zionist Jews. That is to say that they are dedicated and devoted to the State of Israel. They are also closely connected in more ways than I can explain in this short article.

Their Zionist identity needs to be understood. These men are acting as agents of a foreign state: Israel – and the international Zionist network that supports it.

These men function as enemy agents of a hostile foreign entity that already has achieved extensive control over the U.S. government. This network also controls the national spheres of finance and media. These men endeavor to protect the lies and crimes of Zionist agents, particularly those surrounding the events of 9-11, in order to increase Zionist control over the American people and government.

These men, who are closely connected through their ethnic and religious community links in New York City, have worked closely together for many years on the Great World Trade Center Conspiracy, from the first bombing in 1993 to the final destruction in 2001.

Indeed, these men are still working together on the criminal cover-up of what really happened on 9-11. The U.S. media and public should be scrutinizing these men and examining the actions they have taken to conceal the truth about 9-11. These men are part of an organized criminal network that makes the Italian gangsters of New York City look like Cub Scouts.

Mukasey, the man who has been nominated to be the next U.S. Attorney General (which would be a national disaster in my opinion), wrote the following lines as the first paragraphs of two articles that he wrote about organized crime.

I appreciate the first quote because it seems very appropriate to what happened in my trial. The second quote is also quite apt – if we enlarge the meaning of "Mafia" to include the Jewish organized criminal network.

Michael B. Mukasey wrote:

The presumption of innocence – whether in criminal trials or politics – has never really caught on in this country. H.L. Mencken observed a generation ago that a criminal defendant is generally presumed guilty, a presumption that rises to the level of a certainty if he is acquitted.

However – Mencken's theory goes – if he is lucky enough to be convicted, a presumption immediately attaches that the conviction was unjust or dishonest, probably both.

Michael B. Mukasey, "The Last of the Big-Time Bosses"
New York Times, Oct. 17, 1971

Mukasey also wrote:

Pascal taught that the first rule of morality, and thus of public discourse about it, is to think clearly. In that spirit, here are a few thoughts about organized crime: The Mafia exists. It is not the creation of novelists or journalists. It has exacted a toll in misery that would shame the Inquisition and a toll in treasure that would embarrass the Pentagon. It consists not of dashing Robin Hoods or buffoons but of willful, disciplined men who have too long burdened all of us.

Michael B. Mukasey, "In Defense of a Vigorous U.S. Attorney"
New York Times, Dec. 2, 1985

"THINK CLEARLY"

"Pascal taught that the first rule of morality, and thus of public discourse about it, is to think clearly," Mukasey wrote.

I agree with Pascal. We must "think clearly" about the "false-flag" terror attacks of 9-11 and identify the "willful, disciplined men" who have exacted this "toll in misery" on the nation.

Who really is behind the criminal cover-up of the truth of 9-11? The future of our nation depends on our ability to think clearly about this question.

It is clearly not the Arabs or the Moslems who have confiscated the crucial 9-11 evidence and hijacked the investigation. The Arabs and Moslems are not hiding the truth of 9-11 from the American people. Nor is it the strikingly incompetent president and his medicated cronies who are behind the cover-up.

Logic dictates that the only people who can be hiding the truth are those who have controlled the investigation, access to the evidence, and the subsequent litigation surrounding the events of 9-11. This puts the blame squarely on Messrs Chertoff, Hellerstein and Mukasey – and their Zionist partners in crime, particularly those who control the mass media. The Zionist media moguls have, through their monopoly, controlled the explanation and "interpretation" of 9-11 provided to the American people.

Mukasey and his Zionist cronies are the ones who need to be investigated. Making Mukasey the attorney general of the United States would be a mistake with serious long-term consequences for the American people and nation.

Finis

Christopher Bollyn is an independent journalist who depends on the support of his readers to fund his on-going research and writing.

If you appreciate his research and find it worthwhile,
please send a donation.

Thank you!

Comments from the readers:

- That final portion a'most got me all choked-up. And, whatever else I know (or think I know), it's comforting to reflect that Bollyn's alive and well and free-- and still THE BEST!

Nobodaddy | Wed, 2007-10-03 11:38

- Outstanding job of connecting the dots!
Just super!

This is why Hillary Clinton is on her chubby knees every night, praying that Rudy is the Republican nominee. If he is, she will wait a month and then release the contents of his FBI file, which she took during the first month of her husbands Presidency. She can then run virtually unopposed.

The guilty parties are the only ones with the power to deflect investigation into 911. By understanding the network protecting the perpetrators, the guilty parties become apparent.

Claymoremind | Wed, 2007-10-03 11:45