Senate Democrats failed 48 to 50 to set a deadline for troop withdrawal from Iraq. The 4 remaining Diebold installed senators (Chambliss of Georgia, Sununu of New Hampshire, Allard of Colorado and Coleman of Minnesota) swung the vote to keep American soldiers tied to the altar of sacrifice in Iraq.

Coleman's senate seat was preceded by the mysterious death of Paul Wellstone in a plane crash.

since you claim falsely in my opinion that they were installed by machines, why not give us the tally of the actual vote that was counted and we can see if it was in double digits as a percentage or in the thousands or hundreds of thousands.

By the way, there were two other Senators that would have made it a tie and two were absent. Who were the two that were absent?
