BOMBSHELL! French Police investigate Sarkozy's background as Mossad agent

I have translated this French article as well as I could. Its content is just unbelievable and I couldn't wait any longer for someone else to translate it so that I could share it.

Frankly, I don't know how it is that a MAJOR French newspaper reports such news and it is not headlines all over the world... We have been saying in this blog that Sarkozy has Zionist 'preferences'... We were saying that Sarkozy was a Zionist agent... Well take a Xanax and read this article...

Strange Accusations of a Cyber-raven

JEAN-MARC LECLERC
Le Figaro, October 12, 2007

INTERNET The PJ (Police Judiciere) investigates an electronic mail that was sent during the presidential election to one hundred top responsible of the police force. The email affirms that Sarkozy, like Balkany, Lellouche, Devedjian and Aeschlimann were connected to Mossad. Did a dispensary want to destabilize Nicolas Sarkozy during the presidential campaign? An inquiry entrusted to the Police Judiciere (Judiciary Police) must establish this. At the end of March, 2007, in the 'last right' of the election, all departmental managers of the Public Security, around one hundred senior civil servants, were sent a strange electronic mail. The future president was bluntly accused of having been recruited in 1980s by Mossad, the Israeli secret service.

The sent text comes in the form of a "synthesis" of two pages. Its title is: « The infiltration of the Israeli Mossad in the UMP. Nicolas Sarkozy: the fourth man. » Above, a pseudo-logo of the "DGSE". « All this smells heavily of manipulation, with reek from the extreme right », warns a senior executive in the ministry of the Interior.

According to the author of the email, in 1978 the government of Menahem Begin ordered the infiltration of the Gaullist party to make a kind of partner of it for Israel. The operation was set up by Rafael Eytan, an Israeli spy-master. « Three French citizens predisposed to collaborate » would therefore have been targeted: Patrick Balkany, Patrick Devedjian and Pierre Lellouche. Balkany is introduced as the leader of "network".

In 1983, Patrick Balkany would have recruited the "young and promising" Sarkozy, the « fourth man of the Mossad ». The fifth recruit came to complete the implement in the 1990s: Manuel Aeschlimann, deputy-mayor of Asnières (Hauts-de-Seines). The cyber-raven affirms that this one is close to Sarkozy « and is in charge of establishing contacts with Iranian representatives in France ». A proposition all the more perfidious as his city of Asnières really receives a strong Iranian community.

No traces.

Embarrassed, the police at the time must have reported the contents of this strange email and the quality of its addressees in high places. Immediately, an inquiry was carried out diligently and entrusted to PJ. The policemen discovered that the message came from a cybercoffee in Vald' Oise.

But the raven chose well the place from where to blow the whistle in a trade where anonymity is the rule. He chose a cybercafé where law does not impose to introduce papers to access computers and there was no video surveillance. No footprint and no trace of DNA could be exploited. The expertise of machines gave nothing. No more than the semantic analysis of the text.

And the inquiry continues at the request of the Office of Public Prosecutor. At the risk of giving in this affair an importance which it did not deserve.

Les étranges accusations d'un cybercorbeau

JEAN-MARC LECLERC

Le Figaro, October 12, 2007

INTERNET La PJ enquête sur un courriel envoyé durant la présidentielle à cent hauts responsables de la police. Il affirmait que Sarkozy, comme Balkany, Lellouche, Devedjian et Aeschlimann, étaient liés au Mossad. UNE OFFICINE a-t-elle voulu déstabiliser Nicolas Sarkozy durant la campagne présidentielle ? Une enquête confiée à la Direction centrale de la police judiciaire doit l'établir. Fin mars 2007, dans la dernière droite de l'élection, tous les directeurs départementaux de la sécurité publique, soit une centaine de hauts fonctionnaires, ont été destinataires d'un étrange courriel. Le futur président y était taxé, ni plus ni moins, d'avoir été recruté dans les années 1980 par le Mossad, le service secret israélien.

Le texte envoyé se présente sous la forme d'une « note de synthèse » de deux pages. Son titre : « L'infiltration du Mossad israélien dans l'UMP. Nicolas Sarkozy: le quatrième homme. » Au-dessus, un pseudo-logo de la « DGSE ». « Tout cela respire la manip à plein nez, avec des relents d'extrême droite », prévient un cadre dirigeant au ministère de l'Intérieur.

Selon l'auteur du message, en 1978, le gouvernement de Menahem Begin aurait commandité l'infiltration du parti gaulliste pour en faire une sorte de partenaire d'Israël. L'opération aurait été montée par Rafael Eytan, maîtreespion israélien. « Trois citoyens français prédisposés à collaborer » auraient donc été ciblés : Patrick Balkany, Patrick Devedjian et Pierre Lellouche. Balkany est présenté comme le chef du « réseau ».

En 1983, Patrick Balkany aurait recruté le « jeune et prometteur » Sarkozy, le « quatrième homme du Mossad ». Une cinquième recrue serait venue compléter le dispositif dans les années 1990: Manuel Aeschlimann, député-maire d'Asnières (Hauts-de-Seine). Le cybercorbeau affirme que ce proche de Sarkozy est « chargé d'établir des contacts avec des responsables iraniens en France ». Une assertion d'autant plus perfide que sa ville d'Asnières accueille effectivement une forte communauté iranienne.

Aucune empreinte

Embarrassé, l'état-major policier d'alors a dû rapporter en haut lieu le contenu de ce courriel farfelu et la qualité de ses destinataires. Aussitôt, une enquête a été diligentée, confiée à la PJ. Les policiers ont découvert que le message est parti d'un cybercafé du Vald'Oise.

Mais le corbeau a bien choisi le lieu de ses persiflages : dans ce commerce où l'anonymat est la règle, puisque la loi n'impose pas de présenter ses papiers pour accéder aux ordinateurs, il n'y avait pas de vidéosurveillance. Aucune empreinte, aucune trace d'ADN n'a pu être exploitée. L'expertise des machines n'a rien donné. Pas plus que l'analyse sémantique du texte.

Et l'enquête se poursuit à la demande du parquet. Au risque de donner à cette affaire une importance qu'elle ne méritait pas.

I know powerful people know what's happening behind the covers -- but what's really astonishing is that this is being brought to the public.

In other words, the GOYIM are stepping up, standing up against their "MASTERS" the "Chosen Ones", aka the ASHKENAZI KHAZARS.

The other BIG EXAMPLE was when the cover was BLOWN, which exposed the SHIPMENT OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS eastwards (i.e. towards Iran).

Basically, powerful GOYS know what the Crypto-Jews and their Zionists puppets (e.g. "Christian" zionists, racist grops, etc) are up to --- and they absolutely do NOT want WWII (hinted by puppet George Bush just recently).

In other words, whatever it takes, they are taking shots at the Rothschilds' puppets (e.g. Sarkozy).....

..... interest (and terrifying) times ahead !!!

Thanks Cherifa, I did NOT know pravda.ru had a FORUM

Wow, simply amazing! All this time I've been vising <http://english.pravda.ru> and following their news and articles, but not once this I notice they had a forum ---- not until I saw that link at the bottom.

So, curious I am, I checked it out. And to my amazement it's VIBRANT, OUT-SPOKEN and OPEN-MINDED.

These people who participate there KNOW THEIR HISTORY!

I'm adding it to my daily "to visit" list, and recommending it.

PS: There's also forums in other languages as well (always a good idea to spread the TRUTH universally).

We no longer have an ANONYMITY on the Internet.

The above quote may not apply for much longer (i.e they may install cameras INSIDE the cyber-cafes or outside, so at least the "authorities" can narrow it down to a smaller list of who went in).

Also, I wanted to mention this for a long time, but had not.

For those who have been following tech news for the past few years, will have heard of TOR.

TOR is an anonymizing system of 'peer' computers, with several 'central nodes' (server-like).

HOWEVER, you may also have heard of several ARRESTS of TOR SERVERS around the world, or in the very least ORDERED TO SHUT THEM DOWN -- the most recent two were in Germany.

In other words, the REMAINING TOR servers are operated by Big Corporations, Governments and Universities --- what this means (and you can guess it), it that TOR is now under the control of

With the TOR servers all "accessible" by authorities, there is no longer a reliable and extensive system of anonymity on the World-Wide-Web (please let me know if you know of one).

There is one promising new technology, the OFF System. I'll check to see what their current status is....

signing off....
