U.S. planes violate Iran's airspace

Sun, 01 Apr 2007 14:14:26

Two U.S. airplanes have violated Iran's airspace, a top Iranian military official has said.

Colonel Aqili, commander of the Islamic Revolution Guards Corps (IRGC) in the southwestern city of Abadan, Khuzestan province, said Sunday that the airplanes trespassed Iranian airspace from the northwest of the city and exited from its southwest on Saturday.

He said the U.S. airplanes had violated Iranian airspace several times in the past.

"The planes cast out a white smoke trail, attracting the local people's attention," he added.
