EU, US block IAEA Israel resolution
Sun, 05 Oct 2008 04:00:18 GMT

The International Atomic Energy Agency conference of 145 nations criticizes Israel for refusing to put its atomic program under monitoring.

Israel is known to have nuclear arms, but has a "no tell" policy on the issue.

However, Israel managed to evade a vote to link it to nuclear proliferation in the Middle East.

Chief Iranian delegate to the UN nuclear watch dog, Ali Ashgar Soltanieh, said that Israel's nuclear capabilities represent a "serious and continued threat to the security of neighboring and other states."

He took the United States and other Western backers of Israel to task for their "shameful silence" on the threat posed by Israel's atomic arsenal.

The meeting voted for a resolution urging all nations to open their nuclear activities to outside inspection and work toward the establishment of a Mideast nuclear weapons free zone.

With Israel the only country in the region to have atomic arms, passage of the resolution constituted criticism of the Zionist regime.

However, the US and EU managed to block an effort by Muslim nations and their supporters to submit a resolution more directly critical of Israel and its nuclear capabilities.

Israel's nuclear arsenal is the only nuclear threat in the Middle East.

Israel could blow the world up and the survivors in power would defend Israel to the hilt, and remind us that the holohoax justifies Israels last 60 year murder rampage.

The worlds leaders and institutions are nothing more than worshippers and cover agents to give full backing/full military aid/tons of cash and media backing to the sickest proportions.

The people of the world know this, they are getting more and more aware of the real truth. The time will come when it changes.
