

Login

user:

pass:

Remember me

register

RU EN ES

- User Menu
- Home Page
 - «Mirror of the World»
 - Support the Site
 - Contacts
 - Iraq-War board rules
 - Articles
 - Iraq News
 - Around the World
 - Historical analysis & facts
 - Current analysis
 - Economics
 - Hot News
 - Rankings
 - Forums

RSS feeds

 RSS feed for articles and news

Weather

Baghdad

 FR, 11/01
+4..+6 °C
NW, 9 m/s

Basrah

 FR, 11/01
+10..+12 °C
W, 5 m/s

Calendar-Filter

< Jan > < 2008 >

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
		1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30	31

Today

Media Struggles To Whitewash Clinton Vote Fraud Suspicions - updated

By: Paul Joseph Watson on: 10.01.2008 [13:00] (447 reads)

Clear Evidence Of Widespread Vote Fraud In New Hampshire

Posted: 2008/01/10

From: Source

There were several major vote fraud issues to arise out of the New Hampshire primary...

(4761 bytes) [c]

by Paul Joseph Watson
(Prison Planet)

There were several major vote fraud issues to arise out of the New Hampshire primary revolving mainly around Ron Paul and Barack Obama, who were both seemingly cheated out of third and first places respectively as a result of rigged Diebold voting machines and deliberate malfeasance in the counting of hand-written paper ballots.

- Obama had a 13 to 15 point lead over Hillary Clinton heading into the primary. Nothing occurred that boosted Hillary's numbers immediately before the election, in fact immediately after the staged crying incident, many pundits argued it could only have harmed her chances. And yet Hillary somehow managed to instigate a near 20 point swing to defeat Obama by three per cent. If not for her 7% swing as a result of Diebold voting machines, Hillary would have lost to Obama. If Obama was struggling he would probably contest this bizarre outcome, but he is likely to accept the results simply to save face.

- Going into New Hampshire Ron Paul was polling in the early teens and was a strong bet to take third place behind McCain and Romney. Four days before the vote, Rasmussen had Paul at 14% - a significant lead over Huckabee on 11% and Giuliani on 8% - and yet Ron Paul finished with just 8%. Proof of clear vote fraud, allied with the fact that Paul's numbers show a 6% swing from normally accurate pre-polling forecasts, clearly indicate chicanery was at hand, especially considering the fact that Paul lost those crucial few percentage points to Giuliani as a result of electronic Diebold voting machines which are known to be wide open to tampering and fraud.

- Going purely on hand-counts, which as we saw in Sutton were by no means angelic but at least harder to cheat on than Diebold voting machines without getting caught, Ron Paul would have won 15% of the vote and finished third. This figure would have more accurately correlated to the pre-primary polls rather than the ridiculous 8% he was eventually given.

- Numerous districts reported totals of anything up to 22% for "other candidates". What on earth does this black hole of "other candidates" mean? How can one vote for a candidate that is not on the ballot without spoiling the ballot paper? The district of Lisbon reported 22.5% votes for this mysterious "other" candidate, while in the large district of Londonderry, the "other" candidate received 10%. Many are now alleging that these "other" votes were merely siphoned from Ron Paul to keep his final number low.

- Rudy Giuliani, the 9/11 candidate who beat Ron Paul thanks to the aid of a 3% swing on Diebold voting machines, received 9.11% of the vote in three different towns. Coincidence or somebody's idea of a sick joke?

- The New Hampshire town of Sutton admits that it voided every vote Ron Paul received. The Congressman got 31 votes and yet due to a "human error," Sutton reported zero votes for Ron Paul. How "human error" can explain not counting 31 votes in succession for one single candidate is beyond the pale and Ron Paul's campaign should ask for a recount across New Hampshire immediately.

- As soon as people went public with the fact that their votes in Sutton had not been counted, other districts where Paul had supposedly received zero votes, such as Greenville, suddenly changed their final tallies and attributed votes to the Congressman.

<http://www.truthnews.us>

http://mathaba.net/0_index.shtml?x=577385

Media Struggles To Whitewash Clinton Vote Fraud Suspicions

Professor offers new excuse - claims Hillary overturned a 13 point deficit because her name was higher on the ballot

Paul Joseph Watson

Prison Planet

Thursday, January 10, 2008

The media has gone into overdrive trying to whitewash Hillary Clinton's inexplicable defeat of Barack Obama in the New Hampshire primary and sideline questions about vote fraud, with the latest excuse being that Clinton's name appeared above Obama's on the ballot paper.

In reality, Clinton's reversal of a 10-13 point pre-polling deficit to Obama is highly suspicious and smacks of vote fraud, especially considering the fact that the New York Senator gained a crucial 7% swing thanks to provably vulnerable Diebold electronic voting machines.

In addition, the head polling clerk of the town of Sutton was forced to admit that they completely failed to count 31 votes for Republican candidate Ron Paul, initially reporting his final tally as zero.

The only mention in the establishment press of potential vote fraud in relation to the Clinton/Obama discrepancy fraud came on CNN at around 5:06am the morning after the primary.

http://www.prisonplanet.com/articles/january2008/011008_clinton_fraud.htm

7 comments

Only comments

Comments per page

Article and comments

UK media still completely ignoring Ron Paul...

by stopwar on 10.01.2008 [19:26]

Daily Mail had BIG coverage of the New Hampshire primary, and speculation on those to come...

But the list of Republican candidates excluded Ron Paul - and of course Dennis Kucinich on the Democrat side.

reality:

by Legolas_Greenleaf on 11.01.2008 [01:56]

Obama won NH and so did Paul.

A 15 point swing based on a STAGED emotional response is ludicrous at best.

Fox News - media control of the election process

by stopwar on 11.01.2008 [02:49]

Video on:

www.spiderednews.com/MediaBias.htm?vid=225904

"Good thing we still have PBS.... Fox News Corp - this may be the best explanation as to why Ron Paul was excluded from their debate, even after beating Rudy in Iowa and having 17 million more in campaign funds than Rudy... hummmmmmm??? Oh ya Rudy is buddies with Rupert of course..."

http://neverwo.blogspot.com

CNN A.M. brought up a hint of election fraud only ONCE 1-9-8

by stopwar on 11.01.2008 [02:51]

Video on:

www.youtube.com/watch?v=lcwdKBVt_Ew

Rigged USA Elections Exposed bu Computer Programmer

by stopwar on 11.01.2008 [02:54]

Video on:

www.spiderednews.com/BushAdministration.htm?vid=225208

"Computer Programmer testifies that Tom Feeney (Speaker of the Houe of Florida at the time, currently US Representative representing MY district) tried to pay him to rig election vote counts."

See more videos like this at <http://www.TruthStream.Org> - Streaming Videos of TRUTH to the American People!

Caller to C-SPAN concerning Sutton County Ron Paul votes

by stopwar on 11.01.2008 [02:56]

Video on:

www.spiderednews.com/BushAdministration.htm?vid=224877

"Caller from El Paso, TX calls regarding concerns over the digital machines used in the New Hampshire Primary."

And with that, the USAn fate is sealed.

by Syrian on 11.01.2008 [15:02]

They will get a candidate who will rape them once more. Hopefully the last time, so that the USA is finished once and for all.

Page: 1/1

Posting comments:

You should be registered AND logged in user to post comments here.

