A Palestinian carries the body of 6-year-old Hadeel al-Smari before her funeral in Khan Younis, southern Gaza Strip, Wednesday, June 11, 2008. An Israeli shell aimed at a group of militants in southern Gaza Strip slammed into a nearby house early Wednesday and killed al-Smari in her back yard, Palestinian medical officials and a relative said. What the above report does not mention is that this sweet, innocent child of SIX was decapitated...

That can be read about HERE.

On Wednesday, troops opened fire at militants preparing to launch rockets, the military said, but a shell tore into a home, killing 6-year-old Hadeel al-Smari, Palestinian medical officials and relatives said. Associated Press Television News footage showed that the girl's head had been blown off.

The military said it identified hitting the rocket squad, but was unaware of any Palestinian civilian casualties.

Hadeel's cousin, Ahmad al-Smari, said the girl was killed in her back yard.

THANK YOU AMERICA FOR PROTECTING US FROM SIX YEAR OLD TERRORISTS!

I link to this blog in an attempt to hear both sides of the story, but posts like this don't do much to promote the objectivity of a Palestinian (well, your) view.

You post titles claims that Israeli soldiers caught a six year old, labelled her a terrorist and decapitated her. Shocking. The actual news article reports that Palestinian militants attacked Israelis from a civilian base, Israel shot back and accidentally killed one of those civilians.

How is your post supposed to encourage outsiders like me to take you seriously?
