Zionist Jew Congressman, Howard Berman Admits That He Became a Congressman to Help and Assist Israel

Pretty clear isn't it, an American Congressman concerns himself with a foreign nation over the welfare of his own nation and people - well non-Jewish, non-Zionist people anyway. It's treason folks!

Time to Rethink

Howard Berman likes to joke that he became a Zionist before he became a Democrat. Aside from the moment when he learned that president Franklin Delano Roosevelt had died, the 67-year-old congressman's earliest political memory is of being at a rally at a Los Angeles stadium celebrating the birth of Israel in 1948.

Today, as the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, he's in a position to do more than wave flags and cheer. He has the helm of one of the most powerful bodies shaping US foreign policy, and he says his decision to run for Congress and focus on international relations while in office was intimately connected to his Jewish background and ties to the Jewish state.

"Israel's security and the US-Israeli relationship is for me an issue that shapes my whole agenda [in] Congress, and guides it," he told The Jerusalem Post in a recent interview in his Capitol Hill office.

That office, with its mammoth world map along one wall and National Jewish Democratic Coalition humanitarian award and Vladimir Putin matryoshka doll mixed in with the family photos, is one Berman assumed just this February after a quarter-century of service in Congress. In addition to serving on the Foreign Affairs Committee and getting through such legislation as that authorizing embargoes on countries supporting terrorism, Berman, a lawyer by training, has served on the Judiciary Committee and headed a subcommittee dealing with intellectual property rights.

He has now slipped into the large shoes of Tom Lantos, the only Holocaust survivor to serve in the US House of Representatives, after he died from cancer in February. Lantos projected an international air as he strode the world stage championing human rights; the dignitaries at his Capitol memorial service included Tzipi Livni, Elie Wiesel and Bono. Berman, in contrast, seems as suited for a history department as a congressional committee chairmanship. "He combined a real passion with a tremendous eloquence," the Associated Press quoted Berman saying of Lantos. "That's just not my strong suit. I'm more of an inside animal."

If his careful sentence construction, curly gray-white hair and unassuming manner make him seem professorial, it's a look that's not deceiving, according to those who work with him - they praise him for being smart and genial. And he was politically shrewd enough to endorse Barack Obama, despite Hillary Clinton's strong appeal in the Jewish community and her primary victory in California, where his own voters reside.

Despite the differences Obama is trying to emphasize between himself and President George W. Bush, Berman, a liberal by inclination, doesn't hesitate to call the commander-in-chief a sincere supporter of Israel who has many of the same goals internationally - especially when it comes to stopping the Iranian nuclear threat - that he does. He just thinks that a Democratic administration would be more effective in realizing them. "I share this administration's goals," he says, "but I'm interested in achieving them, not just in making rhetorical statements about them."

What's your assessment of America's current Iran policy?

Iran, of all the many compelling issues out there right now, should be our top priority. I think it is quite unacceptable to have Iran as a nuclear weapons capable state, and our policy should be focused on stopping that from happening. But our current policy is not working. Iran continues to enrich uranium. The level of multilateral sanctions increases by very minor increments in a fashion that is not going to provide the kind of economic pressure on Iran to change its behavior.

We've had a total embargo on Iran, unilaterally since 1979 or 1980, but we've never imposed a sanction under ILSA [the Iran-Libya Sanctions Act] on any companies investing in Iran's energy sector. Our unilateral currency regulations are the most positive thing we've done, but even that Iran has figured out ways to circumvent. And so nothing we've done [until] now is seriously working toward achieving the goal. It's time to rethink what we're doing and how we're approaching this.

What should be done?

I believe there's a level of economic sanctions that would force Iran to change its position here. You don't even have to go to prohibiting anyone from buying their oil. You could embargo refined oil products coming back to Iran. You could massively cut the level of bilateral trade with a number of key countries, particularly European countries, which are dealing with them. You could create major, clear threats on a multilateral basis [so that] Iran knows what's coming, and the question is what are we doing to try to reach that point. The implication is, not much.

What specifically do you think has been flawed in the approach so far?

There are many different reasons in many different places... Let's take Russia for example. Are we prioritizing this goal in our bilateral relationships with the Russians? I don't think so. It's one of the issues in the relationship, and by this I don't simply mean Russia's proliferation to Iran, where there have been some positive steps. I mean Russia's willingness to impose the draconian sanctions that could force a change in behavior. I don't think we've prioritized this in our relationship with Russia.

We have many different issues, and they seem to all be in some ways of equal importance. We pushed the deployment of a partial missile defense system, which angers the Russians, in order to increase the possibility that we can intercept a nuclear-tipped missile - a threat that is real, but down the road in some ways, when the goal should be keeping Iran from having the ability to have a nuclear-tipped missile. And I also find it very interesting that we've entered into an nuclear cooperation with Russia to enhance our work with them on a number of nuclear energy and other issues without Russia having joined as a partner in this sanctions effort.

I just think the administration hasn't prioritized. They haven't. And I have to tell you, my guess is that the key to getting a common approach of European, Russian, Chinese, Indian, Japanese and Gulf countries, which I think is much more likely to make the Iranians think, may be a willingness on our part to deal with other issues we have with Iran. This administration has subcontracted the negotiations, the discussions with Iran, to the Europeans, and has insisted on a precondition - you must suspend your uranium enrichment. And for more than three years they've been enriching uranium while we say, before we ever deal with anything else, you have to stop enriching uranium. It ain't working.

Is Berman a dual Israeli-American national? I think we should have a web page called "The Traitor's Page" that shows all of the dual Israeli-American nationals that have positions in our government, whether elected or non-elected. Based on Wayne Madsen's research, there seems to be a faction in the FBI that is sick of the Israeli/Zionist influence and hunting down the Israeli infiltration of our government offices. The shooting of a CIA agent on the streets of Houston may be part of this hunt.

It's Now Just Humanity Against Monsters, Pure And Simple (Apollonian, 22 Jul 08)

"Anon," all/any Jew is a traitor automatically, as Jews are LIARS by nature, according to Gosp. JOHN 8:44. There's no "good Jew" any more than there's "good" Talmudist or good psychopath. See RevisionistHistory.org, TruthTellers.org, and Come-and-hear.com for best Talmudic expo.

Problem is HYPER-INFLATION, for by this means Jews are slowly but surely, literally, buying the complicity of all/any gentiles everywhere--as members of Congress--and preparing now further to then simply pay assassins, like BlackWater, to just MURDER any other gentiles who don't go along.

What we gentiles must do is consolidate our opposition by means, for one principle and most notable thing, (a) of reminding people of very basic purpose of Christianity which is ANTI-SEMITISM (anti-Talmud, as Gosp. MARK 7:1-13).

(b) On the more rationalistic-styled plane/approach we must emphasize for our people the use and purpose of INDUCTIVE LOGIC: Jews are purest scum, always have been, as history, properly understood, perfectly well demonstrates. See UssLiberty.org.

And don't forget incredible perfidy and treachery of these filthy monstrosities, called Jew, as demonstrated in that recent video, whence the poor, blind-folded, hand-cuffed Palestinian guy was held up to be shot fm about 10-15 ft. away by the kike "defense" force guy in uniform--brave Israeli soldiers, indeed.

CONCLUSION: After looking at that video and not being capable of drawing the necessary INDUCTIVE conclusion regarding Jew monstrosity, what can one possibly say or think? It's now simply humanity against Jew monsters. Honest elections and death to the Fed. Apollonian

That Americans' never stop to think about the implications and perils of having these countless dual-citizen subversives infesting such powerful positions in our federal government is a testament to how complete the brainwashing has been.

The American inhabitants of the reconquista states California and Texas in particular have slowly awakened to the dangers of growing Hispanic power since Hispanics, once elected as state legislators, ALWAYS vote in Hispanics' and Mexico's interests. Let's remember too it was Hispanic Henry Cisneros who visited the Section 8 (though I KNOW Jews engineered it) disaster upon Americans, and "Republican" Mel Martinez who co-sponsored the "Grand Shamnesty." Moreover, there has been a thrust for years to likewise grant dual-citizen status to Mexican-Americans' as well. All part and parcel of the planned NAU. Anything to dilute hated Whitey's vote and destroy the only threat to the total Jewish conquest.

When are Americans' going to awaken to the fact that the dual-citizen Jews are no different and in fact are the much larger and immediate threat?

"Is Berman a dual Israeli-American national?" Anonymous

Anon: I have no doubt he IS, but "NewsfromtheWest" has previously posted an article that was an outstanding compilation of all of the dual-citizen Zionists suffusing our federal Leviathan. As soon as time permits, I'll try to find it and will post it here.

If you think more deeply, and have background knowledge of their history, you'll find that Jews have once again fomented revolution in their host nation-states in the West, causing warring and hardship to their benefit (9/11 airline put-options anyone?).

This scribbler believes it is genetic; that is, it is peculiar to the nature of those pseudo-Jews — the ASHKENAZIM pseudo-Jews, not those olive-skinned, Abraham-connected Sephardim — to wreak social/cultural/racial/political/financial havoc wherever they reside, as Western history is replete with their nefarious activities and deadly effects.

You may not know, today's Ashkenazim - those "white" Jews - are descendants of the Turkish/Mongol Khazars, whose empire warred, raped and pillaged for the sake of the pleasure of it. And they were a phallus-worshiping people, until their king had become so disgusted with his people's degeneracies, that he chose to impose Judaism in an attempt to effect a new, less savage course.

Gentiles have been duped once again - and many Evangelical Christians are willing conspirators - by advancing Zionist Jews' plans for enslaving the West into defending Israel against Islamic Arabism, forever!, while Jews work hard to install their socialism/communism within every Western nation-state.

Regarding these financial crises and looming food shortages, they're product of Leftism, and Zionist Jews are closeted leftists - aka TROTSKYITES - disguised as conservatives upholding the Founders' Western traditions and democratic principles while covertly enslaving capitalism to socialism/communism, to advance their one-world, Third-Way Global Economic Socialism.

Regardless of the vitriol by the clearly anti-Semitic posters on this blog, as well as its author, the following needs to be discerned:

There isn't a d#%ned thing any of you can do - either individually or collectively - to turn back the course of destiny for the world-determining fate of Israel. It is something that you fear is the truth, and that fear festers into self-determining reality for you.

At any event, even if you could succeed against the enormous odds now stacked against the possibility and reinstate such a law, you are still going to have difficulties with the numerous crypto-Jews like John Kerry and Nanci Pelosi, of course. Ideally what you need is a non-discriminatory (applied to ALL candidates) and exclusive (to the US alone) loyalty oath taken while undergoing a lie-detector test. What an affront to their dignity and impugment of their honor, they would all cry, but it is nothing compared to what they do to the average American at US airports everyday in the name of the security of the state.

@ Yad Yisrael rekelfa!

I don't suppose that you will hang around to deal with any responses to your comment (Jewish commenters seldom do), but if you have then I suggest that you beware of the danger of your own hubris.

Your whole Jewish fantasy is based on ambiguous interpretations of prophecies in the Torah, and yet you are totally blind (in truth, because it is too painful for you ever to bring yourself to contemplate) to an unambiguous prophecy made by the greatest prophet, Moses himself, just before he died:

"For I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt [yourselves,] and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the latter days; because ye will do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger through the work of your hands." Deuteronomy {31:29}

Was Moses a liar? Was he mistaken (in which case is the whole of the Torah equally fallible)? Or was Moses actually foreseeing the moral morass that you have descended into during these "latter days" when you have substituted narcissistic self-worship for the worship of God?

And by the way, Curt, you should preserve that comment in a specimen jar. Not only does it well illustrate the Godless nature of contemporary Judaism ("We make our own fate."), it also brazenly admits that there IS a Jewish plan for (we would call it a plot against) the whole world. For years we have been told by Jews that such an idea is a libel against them; now they are coming right out and admitting it. Curiously, though, the writer still doesn't seem to understand why we goys might find such plans objectionable, and comes out with the same tired old accusations of anti-Semitism. Actually, my dear Jewish friend, what you call "anti-semitism" is for us goys merely sane self-defence.
