GATA has been exposing the manipulation of gold and silver pricing for the past several years.

A total mainstream media blackout is in progress at this moment following mind-blowing revelations made at last weeks CFTC hearing – a complete debacle for the New World Order banksters.

Andrew Maguire is an independent metals trader turned whistle blower at the center of a storm for exposing what is the largest fraud in history involving countries, banks and government leaders. This interview blows the lid off the global scheme to cap gold and silver prices to support the fiat currency regime.

Within days, an assassination attempt on this whistleblower's life serves to confirm the magnitude and accuracy of his revelations.

When Goldman and JP Morgan Chase (the Rockefeller / Rothschild Masters Of The Universe) took down Bear Stearns, it was to capture the massive silver naked short positions held by Bear. Connect all the dots and see that this story is the most massive threat to the globalists' manipulations.

For every 100 ounces of paper silver traded on the COMEX, there is only one ounce of silver backing it.

The WORLD'S LARGEST FRAUD is right here. The entire globalist scheme is exposed.

It is long past time to admit that the CFTC and the SEC are NOT regulatory agencies, but enablers of the protection racket that is the world financial system.

It appears Mr. Maguire, sent emails to staffers at the SEC, (aka Keystone Cops formerly run by chief eunuch Chris Cox), that JP Morgan (JPM : 44.86, -0.16) actively manipulates the gold and silver markets. It also appears Mr. Maguire sent emails to the SEC regarding the dates and times these machinations by JP Morgan were taking place. Sadly the staff at the SEC are too busy surfing porn to have the time to follow up these leads from Mr. Maguire. Yes, it appears the staff over at the SEC is far too busy and overworked to seriously follow up and investigate leads like this. Deja vu all over again. But Madoff and Stanford were just too complicated to unravel. Lehman was just too hard to discover. shhhh don't tell anyone or we will get more new regulation with teeth in it courtesy of Sargent Schultz errr, excuse me I meant Chris Dodd.

One might conclude that they are shocked that the likes of CNBC, Bloomberg, Forbes, et al. have not offered any coverage of this story surrounding too big to fail JP Morgan. Not me. What I am shocked at is how the likes of CNBC, Bloomberg, Forbes, et al. have not come out swinging impugning and savaging Mr. Maguire's character.

I am shocked that we have not already learned that he preferred, tranny dominatrix porn, that he smoked pot as a freshman in college and is purportedly involved in a string of meth labs, or that 15 yrs ago he dated a girl whose 2nd cousin passed off some bad cheques. Maybe he even has attended a Tea Party event. Either way this lack of character assassination is what shocks me.

Learn to price dollars in terms of gold instead of the other way around. Ask, how many dollars can I buy with an ounce of gold? Learn the difference between actual gold and paper gold. Learn the genesis of our Federal Reserve banking system and its predecessor the Bank of England. Follow the precious metals markets and read the commentary. You can learn a lot from the gold bugs. I did. To avoid confusion, remember two things going on relevant to our current financial reality. (1) Fiat money is not the problem. Debt money is the problem. (2) Government is not the problem. Bad government is the problem.

Yes, gold and silver prices are manipulated although controlled would be a better word. The Hunt brothers manipulated the silver market. J.P. Morgan (who is not acting alone) CONTROLS the price of silver on behalf of the international banking cartel. When you see wild predictions of $100 silver and $10.000 gold they are predicated on the central bankers losing control of the monetary system.

Note that these manipulations are orchestrated in concert with the manipulation of the US Dollar. Treasury, The FED, and JP Morgan Chase, HSBC and Goldman are all on the exact same page – running a CONFIDENCE game. The rich and cooperative get advance copies of the script. Everyone else gets whipsawed out of their positions. The Masters Of The Universe know for a fact that there is no actual “Market.” It’s all just an illusion.

Ron Paul is not totally bad. But libertarians always talk about freedom, except for women. The liberal baby killers are not the people controlling the new world order.

I just finished listening to the Andrew Maguire interview. WOW! I had been accumulating modest amounts of physical silver for about a year and a half prior to the take down in ‘08. I watched the take down in real time on Kitco’s graphics. I have been following this story ever since and had concluded that physical buying would eventually bring about a default at the COMEX. I had not expected a credible whistleblower. The bad guys may finally be losing their grip. Before we celebrate we should realize that there is nobody in the wings to take their place. Like I told my brother in law. You should buy physical gold and/or silver and pray that the price stays the same or goes a little lower. When metals prices head for the moon you should head for the hills.
