Kagan Blocked Obama Eligibility Lawsuits

August 5, 2010 · 6 Comments

UPDATE: Elena Kagan is confirmed by the Senate (63-37) as a new Obama-appointed Supreme Court Justice.

Elena Kagan, an admirer of socialism since at least her undergraduate days at Princeton, is certain to be approved for the Supreme Court by the Senate.

Actions have consequences. That's what we're stuck with because sleepwalking Americans — some of whom are themselves socialists — voted Demnrats to majority control in both houses of Congress.

From the beginning when the Sociopath nominated Kagan, I've been calling her his mini-me. Little did I know just how much of an obliging puppet she is. Now comes news that Kagan who, as U.S. solicitor general from March 2009 to May 2010 represented the U.S. government in legal cases before the Supreme Court, had a direct hand in blocking at least 9 Obama eligibility lawsuits from going forward. All 9 lawsuits were dismissed.

Joe Kovacs of WorldNetDaily reports on August 4, 2010, that:

“the same Elena Kagan nominated by the commander in chief to be the next justice on the U.S. Supreme Court has actually been playing a role for some time in the dispute over whether Obama is legally qualified to be in the White House.

Here's the connection. Kagan served as solicitor general of the United States from March 2009 until May of this year. In that role, she legally represented the U.S. government in numerous cases coming before the Supreme Court. A simple search of the high court's own website reveals Kagan's name coming up at least nine times on dockets involving Obama eligibility issues.

Docket No. 09-724, for instance, comes up with this in the search result:

Clicking on any of the dockets reveals who the original petitioners were, as well as what proceedings and orders were issued in each case. Here's another docket, with Jamal Kiyemba v. Barack H. Obama.

The fact Kagan handled these cases and is now Obama's first choice for the high court is raising some eyebrows. "She was the solicitor general for all the suits against him filed with the Supreme Court to show proof of natural-born citizenship," notes WND reader Carl Jorgensen of Farmingdale, N.J. "He owes her big time. All of the requests were denied of course," Jorgensen continued. "They were never heard. It just keeps getting deeper and deeper, doesn't it? The American people mean nothing any longer. It's all about payback time for those that compromised themselves to elect someone that really has no true right to even be there. We should be getting so sick of all of this nonsense. The USA has finally become the laughing stock of the world. God help and deliver us."

So if you think the judges who overturned parts of Arizona's immigration law and who overturned California's voter-approved Proposition 8 banning same-sex marriage are anti-America activist judges, wait till Kagan becomes a Supreme Court justice.

This is terrible...I seriously can't take this anymore. We the people have no say in our state matters now...activist judges are in control along with the elites in DC.

DCG is all-too-right: this is an immense, disgusting usurpation of Constitution and governance. But how many any longer care?

Of course we few do care, but we will have to put aside all petty differences and really unite to save the USofA, now very dangerously nearly become the USSA.

Sites such as this are one of the very best ways to react positively against the negative forces Out There, likely w/a ten-to-one ratio of readers and the nine others they influence.

I've sent at least a half dozen of the best from here to Jeff Rense, where ten million people will at least see the post. If only 10% act upon them, you will have made all the difference in the world.

And there are MANY honourable people in the military who understand the Constitution and what it means in relation to the military, under Congress. They will act accordingly in a timely manner. Do NOT despair! If you do, the bad guys win.

Not many care I'm afraid...at least not in liberal Seattle. This is their way of thinking: "I've never understood how someone could hold the opinion that campaign contributions that come from democratic organizations of the people (i.e. labor unions) are somehow inherently evil, and unlimited cash from Corporate America is perfectly acceptable. All the while those corporations and their front groups you support with your contribution to and support of these organizations work to undermine the rights of the individual, enhance the rights of the corporation (see recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions), ship our jobs to other countries – without labor and environmental protections – and transfer wealth from the low and middle class to the top 2% (see recent debate over extension of Bush tax cuts for top 2% of wage earners.)"

It's a way of thinking you cannot change. Republicans are evil, representing only corporations and the wealthy. Never mind the fact that corporations give money to dems as well (BP donations anyone?). I respond to these types of comments and get no where...(at least with those responding). It seems futile but I'm a little persistant at times 😊
