'US drone attack' claims 4 in Pakistan	Israeli strategists claim that the Jewish state needs the nuclear deterrent as a "doomsday" or "weapon of last resort" to prevent the possible destruction of the "Third Temple ."
Majority in US want Israel to be penalised	However, this claim seems to be as mendacious and hypocritical as the stale lie that Israel won't be the first state to introduce nukes to the region.
Ottawa Professor Fired After Jewish Student Associ...	Hence, one can safely argue that Israel 's nuclear arsenal is intended not merely for "self-protection" or "self-preservation" but also for strategic-aggrandizement and spreading military supremacy all over the Middle East , from Iran to Morocco .
What Would Palestine Want Us to Do?	When translating this into simple political language, one reaches the inescapable conclusion that Israel's ultimate goal is to enslave hundreds of millions of Muslims and Christians from Tehran to Mauritania and from Istanbul to Khartoum.
Obama Exceeds Bush in Lawlessness	This is not a phobic assessment of the Israeli strategic doctrine and intentions. This is rather an accurate and realistic reading into Israel 's collective thinking.

Free Gaza Movement: We are coming back, this time ...	According to the late Yisrael Shahak, author of "Jewish History, Jewish Religion: the Weight of Three Thousand Years," some rabbinic authorities see the borders of Israel as the following: In the south, all of Sinai and parts of northern Egypt up to the environs of Cairo; in the east, all of Jordan and a large chunk of Saudi Arabia, all of Kuwait and a part of Iraq south of the Euphrates, in the north, all of Lebanon and all of Syria and a huge part of Turkey!! (up to the Lake Van) and in the West, Cyprus.
Debate Sharpens over Ward Churchill Verdict	According to Shahak, these are not, as one would think, anecdotal views among an eccentric rabbinic class. On the contrary, an enormous body of research and learned discussion based on these borders, embodied in atlases, books, articles and more popular forms of propaganda was published in Israel, often with state subsidies, or other forms of support.
When We Are Led to Believe a Lie The Arab World and Israel's Nuclear Arsenal	Shahak adds that there are influential Jewish religious figures in Israel who believe that Israel will have to conquer these countries sooner or later on the ground that doing so is a divinely commanded act.

Muslim states should also pay more attention to what Israel does and less to what Israel says. In 1979, Israel attacked and destroyed an Iraqi nuclear plant in Baghdad and in 1986; Israel bombed the PLO headquarters in Tunis . A decade later, Mossad agents assassinated Khalil al Wazir (Abu Jihad), Fatah's number-2 in his home, also in Tunis . Israel is also believed to have carried out a number of covert operations in several Arab and Islamic countries, mostly recently in Sudan . and families picnicking in the vicinity of their homes for many many years to come.

And in Gaza recently, Israel rained death on an essentially prisoner population that, contrary to Israel's wishes, forgot to die quietly, and had to be incinerated and exterminated with White Phosphorus from high altitudes.

The pornographic slaughter was being watched around the world and no Arab or Muslim country moved or even contemplated moving to rescue the helpless Palestinians who were paying the price of Muslim weakness.

This begs the ultimate question, namely how Muslims ought to relate to this madness, this arrogance of power, this existential menace by a satanic state that thinks it has the right to inflict death and destruction on other peoples and other countries?

Are we going to just continue the erstwhile ignominious practice of giving our children as sacrificial offerings at the Jewish alter of insolence? Are we going to keep arranging our dead children and dead women in long rows in the hope of gaining sympathy from a whoring world that only respects military might? Are we going to keep hoping for a change of heart or a change of might on the part of whoever comes to the White House?

To be sure, Israel's nuclear arsenal is not a passing threat. It won't go away, it won't be neutralized by displaying "more moderation" by the "capitals of wisdom" in the Arab world. (a truer description is probably the capitals of impotence).

We all know that Israel and Zionist leaders around the world interpret moderation and peace-mindedness on the part of Arab leaders as an expression of fear, cowardice and weakness. Just read the Hebrew press and see how Israel views Arab moderation and good will.

In fact, Israel's nuclear threat is going to be more real and more tangible in the coming years when manifestly fascist Jewish forces take control over Israel's nuclear arsenals. This is not a matter of "if" but "when" it will happen. Just imagine how the Middle East and the rest of the world would look like when the likes of Lieberman, or the gurus of the Yichud ha'leiumi or ha'Bayt ha'Yehudi gained control over Israel's 250-300 nuclear weapons?

We Muslims don't lack the resources to be powerful and deter our enemies. What we do lack is the will to be free, united, sovereign and truly independent.

So, what are we waiting for? Are we waiting for Israel to strike at Mecca and Madina, a possibility that should never be ruled out, given the nefarious nature of the Zionist entity?

Indeed, who would deter, let alone repulse Israel from embarking on the unthinkable? Egypt? Saudi Arabia? Or perhaps the hedonistic, illiterate and ignorant Sheikhs and Emirs and kings who think that erecting high buildings is the ultimate sign of progress and civilization?

The answer is clear. And unfortunately, only one country in the region, apart from the aggressor Israel, is serious about protecting its people from an external aggression of genocidal proportions.

This country ought to be lauded and praised for its dignified determination to be free, not castigated by impotent Arab states that continue to cede their respective sovereignty to the United States .
