

News | Features and Reflections | Your Eyes in Gaza | Gaza Video Clips | Just Say

You & Gaza

Egypt imprisons anti-Israel protesters

Tue, 13 Jan 2009 09:05:36 GMT

Egypt has detained more than 60 members of the opposition to the Israeli offensive into Gaza.

Egyptian police took into custody 47 members of the opposition city of Damanhour during a protest rally in support of those su

Police say the protesters were arrested for "obstructing traffi

Seventeen members of the group had been detained from the suspicion of organizing the demonstration.

The Muslim Brotherhood, the strongest opposition group in Eg attended the rally condemning Israeli military action in the bel

Demonstrators also urged Cairo to open the Rafah border crossing with Gaza, criticizing the government for its comp

The calls to open the border comes as reports confirm that Israeli planes conducting Gaza attack operations have use occasions.

Egypt is seen throughout the Middle East as Israel's main accomplice in the imposition of the 18-month Israeli blockad severe criticism.

Cairo has seen several anti-Israeli rallies since Tel Aviv waged war on Gaza on December 27. So far, at least 940 Palest offensive and more than 4,400 have been wounded.

Egyptian protesters have called for the expulsion of the Israeli ambassador to Cairo.

HE/AA

Copyright © 2009 Press TV.

All rights reserved.