Spiegel Online is reporting that German Chancellor Angela Merkel and government ministers will receive a special, additive-free H1N1 vaccine. "The Vakzin [vaccine] does not contain disputed additives — contrary to the vaccine for the remainder of the population," reports the newspaper.

"Critics argue that Adjuvantien [adjuvants in the vaccine] could lead to increased inoculation reactions such as headache or fever." The German government elite and the armed forces will receive Celvapan, an adjuvant-free vaccine manufactured by Baxter. The German public will receive a vaccine produced by GlaxoSmithKline with adjuvants.

Employees of the Paul Ehrlich Institute will also get the adjuvant-free vaccine. Johannes Löwer <sup>[2]</sup>, president of the institute, said in August that the vaccine causes worse side effects than the virus. Löwer's comment came after German lung specialist Wolfgang Wodarg <sup>[3]</sup> said the vaccine increases the risk of cancer. The nutrient solution for the vaccine consists of cancerous cells from animals.

Spiegel reports that there is an "open rebellion" by general medical professionals and child physicians in Germany over use of the toxic vaccine. Dieter Ludwig, chairman of the drug commission of the German medical profession, told Spiegel that health authorities have colluded with pharmaceutical companies.

On July 13, the World Health Organization ordered the inclusion of the deadly adjuvants in the H1N1 vaccine. WHO's vaccine advisory panel is stacked executives from Baxter, Novartis, GSK and Sanofi. Baxter's own scientists have stated in the New England Journal of Medicine <sup>[4]</sup> that adjuvants do not improve antibody response.

As Dr. Russell Baylock <sup>[5]</sup> has warned, the adjuvant squalene is linked to the Gulf War Syndrome. Soldiers who took the anthrax vaccine from 1990 to 1991 had an increased risk of 200 percent in developing the deadly disease amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), also called Lou Gehrig's disease. The soldiers also suffered from a number of debilitating and life-shortening diseases, such as polyarteritis nodosa, multiple sclerosis (MS), lupus, transverse myelitis (a neurological disorder caused by inflammation of the spinal cord), endocarditis (inflammation of the heart's inner lining), optic neuritis with blindness and glomerulonephritis (a type of kidney disease), according to Baylock.

"Because squalene, the main ingredient in MF-59, can induce hyperimmune responses and induce autoimmunity, a real danger exists for prolonged activation of the brain's immune cells, the microglia. This type of prolonged activation has been strongly associated with such diseases as multiple sclerosis, Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease, ALS and possibly vaccine-related encephalitis. It has been shown that activation of the systemic immune system, as occurs with vaccination, rapidly activates the brain's microglia at the same time, and this brain inflammation can persist for long periods," notes Baylock.

The fact minions of the ruling elite in Germany will get a special vaccine without adjuvants is simply more evidence that squalene is a soft kill weapon designed to injure and slow kill the general population, considered by our eugenicist rulers as little more than useless eaters.

In the United States, a large number of people are refusing to take the deadly vaccine. In response, the government has launched a massive propaganda campaign.

If this propaganda effort fails, the government may eventually impose mandatory vaccinations on the public under the ruse of a public emergency.

Addendum

The CDC says H1N1 vaccine in the U.S. will not contain squalene, however some doses of the H1N1 vaccine will contain thimerosal, a known culprit in causing autism and neurological deficits.

On September 15, Physorg [7] reported that the H1N1 vaccine will contain thimerosal. The mercury-based preservative "will be found in most vials of the H1N1 vaccine."

4,500 families are suing the government because they believe vaccines caused their child's autism [8].

"Studies indicate that mercury tends to accumulate in the brains of primates and other animals after they are injected with vaccines. Mercury poisoning has been linked to cardiovascular disease [9], autism, seizures, mental retardation, hyperactivity [10], dyslexia and many other nervous system [11] conditions," writes Dawn Prate [12] for Natural News. Since the 1990s, there has been a tenfold or 1000-percent increase in autism, according to research cited by Prate.

Are vaccines a eugenics weapon or are scientists and the vaccine manufacturers just clueless? You decide.
