Germans fine Bishop Williamson $16,000 for Auschwitz doubts

Doubt Auschwitz execution gas chambers? It will cost you $16,822

Truly we are living in a new dark age, only worse. In the dark ages, heresy hunters and inquisitors did not claim to be liberals, humanists and democrats like the Germans of today who lecture Muslims on the need to tolerate insults to Mohammed, while fining Bishop Williamson $16,822 for naughty statements he made about alleged Auschwitz execution gas chambers. This is so infantile it is ludicrous.

There is no toleration for blasphemy against Judaism's religious relics, while Christians and Muslims must tolerate blasphemy against Jesus and Mohammed. We are ruled by the Talmud. This is what we are fighting for in Afghanistan and Iraq.

German court fines Holocaust-denying bishop

(AP) – Oct. 27, 2009

BERLIN — An ultraconservative British bishop was fined $16,822 (euro12,000) in Germany for denying the Holocaust in an interview with Swedish television, his lawyer said Tuesday.

A court in the Bavarian city of Regensburg issued the fine against Richard Williamson for incitement in connection with his Holocaust denial, Williamson's lawyer Matthias Lossmann said.

"We received the order of punishment on Monday and my client has time until Nov. 9 to react to it," Lossmann said. He gave no indication how Williamson would react.

An order of punishment is a German legal tool that involves no trial but is equivalent to a conviction if accepted by the defendant. If the defendant objects, it goes to trial.

The investigation of whether Williamson broke German laws against Holocaust denial was launched after the interview was aired earlier this year. In it, Williamson said he didn't believe any Jews were killed in gas chambers during World War II.

The interview was conducted near Regensburg and was granted shortly before Williamson's excommunication was lifted by Pope Benedict XVI, along with that of three other bishops from the anti-modernization movement of the late Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre.

The lifting of Williamson's excommunication sparked outrage among Jewish groups and in Israel. The Vatican's handling of the affair prompted criticism from German Chancellor Angela Merkel.

Earlier this month, Williamson was quoted by the weekly Der Spiegel as saying he tried to have an injunction issued to block the interview's release in Germany.

"I tried to ... prevent my interview with Swedish television from being broadcast in Germany via the Internet," Williamson was quoted as saying. He could use that argument should the case go to trial.

Bishop Williamson. Just who does this court think that they are that they can fine someone for their freedom of speech. The Jews truly rule Germany and I think that they truly ruled that nation during WWII also.

Germar Rudolf free again!

by informatron- on 27.10.2009 [22:46]

He was able to leave the Mannheim prison, Germany, on Saturday 4th July 2009.

This chemical engineer and member of the Max Plank Institute was asked by various defense teams to testify as an expert in chemistry at trials in Germany regarding Auchwitz. He was jailed in Germany because of his scientific report as a witness which confirmed the Leuchter findings.

Ernst Zuendel still in German Jail

by informatron- on 27.10.2009 [23:00]

Ernst Zuendel was convicted of 14 counts. He received the maximum 5 year sentence under German law which bans Holocaust denial.

How can they make him pay?
