Israel Dumping?

Russia mocks Israeli leaders and supplies Iran with sophisticated air-defence missiles in order to blast Israeli plans to attack Iran. The land of the BIG-LIE seems to begin to grow lonely amongst the nations.

Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad (left) calls on the world for help to free mankind from the holocaust yoke. Zbigniew Brzezinski tells Obama to order the attack of Israeli Jets if they try to attack Iran. Is this the dawn of a new world? Will the world be able to shake off the yoke of Jewish holocaust terror in the foreseeable future?

Asked by Israeli president Shimon Peres whether Russia will go ahead supplying Iran with S-300 Anti-Aircraft-Missiles, Russian president Dmitry Medvedev replied: "Russia will never supply Tehran with arms which would infringe on international law'. However, Medvedev disagreed with Peres' view that supplying Iran with S-300 missiles would increase tension in the Middle East."(FAZ, 21.09.09, p. 7)

The "Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung" then commented the possible arms deals between Russia and Iran as follows: "According to Western experts these defence weapons could make an Israeli attack on the Iranian nuclear sites almost impossible and therefore the balance of power in the region would be destroyed." (FAZ, 21.09.09, p. 7)

The Israeli Chutzpah, claiming that tension would grow if Israel did not attack Iran was obviously topped by the "Frankfurter Allgemeine", stating that the balance of power would be destroyed if Iran was in a position to defend itself from Israeli air strikes, possibly from nuclear strikes.

President Medvedev handled the Jewish Chutzpah quite wittily. He softly explained in a CNN-Interview: "Since Israel has assured us that it would not attack Iran, defence systems would therefore not increase, but decrease the tension in the region." (FAZ, 21.09.2009, S. 7)

Because Israeli Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu was not happy with the Russian position he travelled to Moscow on a "secret" mission (early September 2009). To keep his visit a "secret" was Netanyahu's decision, president Medvedev asserted. The Russian president added with a smile: "I don't quite understand what the reason was for this. However, if our partner decided that his visit was secret, we just go along, very normal and relaxed." (FAZ, 21.09.2009, S. 7) This is how Russia handles Jewish Chutzpah.

A remarkable emancipation from the Jewish yoke seems to be taking place in the USA. Zbigniew Brzezinski, then security advisor of ex-president Jimmy Carter, told "Obama to tell Israel, U.S. will attack Israeli Jets if they try to attack Iran." (abc-news Blog, 20.09.2009)

Quite a sensation, telling Obama to down Israeli jets if they attack the country of "holocaust-denial". Not too long ago a nuclear attack on Iran would have been justified in America by all mainstream politicians because Iran denounces the Jewish holocaust narrative as a "big lie". On Al-Quds-Day, president Mahmoud Ahmadinejad told the world: »[Ahmadinejad] once more contested that the mass murder of the Jews ever happened. "The holocaust was a pretext to establish the state of Israel. A lie, based on claims only." (German TV-News, ZDF, Heute, 18.09.2009)

The world media spread president Ahmadinejad's holocaust message around the globe, i.e., the Lebanon News organisation TAYYAR reported: "Ahmadinejad told worshippers at Tehran University at the end of an annual anti-Israel 'Quds Day' rally, (Jerusalem day), that the Holocaust was only a pretext to create the Zionist regime. In Fact, 'it was a big lie, based on unapproved mythical claim just to establish the state of Israel.' Iranian's president warns Arab and Muslim countries about dealing with the enemy, in a speech that was broadcast on state Radio, 'Confronting the Zionist regime is a national and religious duty', He said adding 'Israel will not last long. Do not tie your fate to it. This regime has no future. Its life has come to an end.'" (<<http://tayyar.org>>tayyar.org, 19.09.2009 Lebanon)

AP quoted Ahmadinejad on 18 September 2009 as follows: "If the Holocaust was a real event, why don't they allow research on it to clear up facts?,' said Ahmadinejad, adding that if the Holocaust did occur, it was in Europe so there was no reason to compensate Jews with Arab land."

Now, Zbigniew Brzezinski tells Obama to down Israeli jets if they were to attack Iran, the country that is out to blow up the "holocaust lie". If that is no change in America's conduct with Jews and Israel ... what then?
