Jews ask pope for Holocaust studies in schools
Reuters 14 marzo 2009

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) - Israel's religious leaders asked Pope Benedict on Thursday to make Holocaust studies a required subject in Catholic schools, saying it could help combat anti-Semitism in future generations.

The two sides resumed a dialogue that was interrupted by the case of a Holocaust-denying bishop, which brought Catholic-Jewish relations to their lowest point in half a century.

The Israelis also asked that the Vatican take a strong stand against the draft final declaration of next month's U.N. conference on racism, a statement some countries view as hostile to Israel.

"May we suggest for your consideration that the history and the moral import of the Shoah ... become a required subject for inclusion in the curriculum of students at all Catholic schools the world over," Rabbi Shear Yashuv Cohen asked the pope during a meeting at the Vatican, using the Hebrew word for Holocaust.

Cohen, who is chief rabbi of Haifa, said such a move would "reinforce your strong stand against Holocaust denial and declaring anti-Semitism as a sin against God."

Rabbi David Rosen, International Director of Interreligious Affairs for the American Jewish Congress, told reporters afterwards: "I hope a recommendation (from the pope on Holocaust studies in Catholic schools) will come out of this latest crisis. That will be a silver lining to the cloud."

GAS CHAMBERS

The meeting between representatives of Israel's chief Rabbinate and Vatican officials on Wednesday and Thursday was to have taken place last month but was postponed by the Jewish side because of the controversy over Bishop Richard Williamson.

On January 24, Benedict lifted the excommunication of Williamson and three other traditionalist bishops to try to heal a 20-year-old rift that began when they were thrown out of the Church for being ordained without permission. Williamson has said he believed there were no gas chambers and that no more than 300,000 Jews perished in Nazi concentration camps, compared with the figure of 6 million accepted by mainstream historians.

The pope has since made several major declarations to repudiate Williamson's views and condemn anti-Semitism and Holocaust denial.

On Thursday, Vatican officials announced Benedict would pay a visit to Rome's main synagogue in the autumn. "There's no firm date fixed yet," the chief Vatican spokesman, Father Federico Lombardi, told Italian media.

The Jewish delegation also asked the pope to instruct Vatican diplomats to take a strong stand against the current draft of the final statement of the U.N. Conference on Racism due to be held in Geneva April 20-24, known as Durban II.

The Vatican has said it will attend the conference but hoped for a change in the wording of its final declaration. Both Italy and the United States have said they will not attend unless there is a change of wording.

Holocaust studies a required subject in Catholic schools

Is this a joke?

Screw the Jews and screw their Holofucks

by svoboda on 14.03.2009 [22:44]

In 1920's these Jewish sons of whores murdered my grandfather's whole family at least 40 people with a bullet in the back of the head, including babes in arms. That is the Holocaust I recognize, and the sons of bitches deserve anything that happens to them in near future, for slaughtering Palerstinians

Better build more jails then by _merk_ on 14.03.2009 [22:50]

because kids tend to ask questions ... and asking the wrong questions about the holocaust is a serious crime in many countries.

Good example of the tribe's activity

"Creative destruction is our middle name, both within our own society and abroad. We tear down the old order every day, from business to science, literature, art, architecture, and cinema to politics and law. Our enemies have always hated this whirlwind of energy and creativity, which menaces their traditions whatever they may be and shames them for their inability to keep pace. Seeing America undo traditional societies, they fear us for they do not wish to be undone. They must attack us in order to survive, just as we must destroy them to advance our historic mission."

Ok teach about all Holocausts!

by gmmonko on 15.03.2009 [04:19]

Including Gaza, Lebanon, Vietnam, Iraq, American Indians, Armenians, Slaves of Africa, British colonialism time etc..

And please don't forget to mention the Holocaust done by German Nazis in Russia, inclusive what the Zio-Nazis under Stalin did.

Yes, we should teach about the4 man's inhumanity to other human beings

by svoboda on 15.03.2009 [04:58]

The problems is in the exceptionalism of Jews, whose demise is constantly brought to the forefront, and the horrific crimes they committed themselves in Russia, Ukraine and Palestine are being whitewashed and masked to hide the real perpetrators, by saying that people like Kaganovich, and Yagoda were not "real Jews", and that Lenins Granpa was not a real Rabbi, and that Sverdlov, who ordered the execution of the Czar and his young family, was not a real Jew, either.

The tables have been turned around

The zioInquisition is forcing its laws on the Church and nobody has the Balls to stop the zioSOBs neither in the System nor outside the System.

Back in the 1970s

by heckmanns-being-back on 15.03.2009 [07:22]

my last history course was about the events that became the "Holocaust" named after that TV series shortly later. (The series was broadcast on local TV and heavily "discussed" among the students of my school. I didn't watch the series and did not take part in the "discussions".)

The grades in said course were given exclusively based on what the students actively said during the lessons. No written tests. I had never experienced such a form of grading. I thought about nothing but must have felt something is wrong with this course.

The teacher who is still active right now later became a fierce zioActivist.

Those who said something against his opinions got the worst grade. I said nothing at all and got the second worst grade.

Afterwards I stopped having history courses. The state zog noticed that possibility and since short after that it became impossible to stop having courses in zioHistory.

That cross hanging on the wall of each class room.

What's the use of going on and by Lima-P on 15.03.2009 [09:32]

on about the Jews and their multiple agents? Or their infiltration of the Catholic Church since the time of the conversos and the like. They have even managed to infiltrate parts of the world of Islam, but that's where nemesis lies, in the hands of the Muslims who will someday soon inflict such resounding defeat on them that they will never be the same hubristic monsters the 20th century allowed them to become. Palestine, here we come!

native Americans

by Iranian-Shi'ite on 15.03.2009 [15:25]

I'm studying the holocaust whenever I have a chance.

Tens of millions of native Americans were slaughtered.
Tens of millions of Africans at the hands of European imperialists.
A million Iraqi children were murdered by the USA from 1991 to 2002.

As for the alleged holocaust in Germany, that is not logical. Gas chambers are an ineffective means of mass killing, and the inmates surly would have risen up in revolt if they were systematically being killed. Most of those who died probably died from disease.

Good occasion to remember Germar Rudolf

by informatron- on 15.03.2009 [15:26]

German political prisoner:

Rudolf's crime: he did not obey a German penal law that forces everybody to parrot the official version of a detail of German history. You may wonder what detail that may be, but to be sure, it does not matter, because a government that prescribes the writing of history by penal law is dictating to its citizens what to think, and that is the exact definition of a dictatorship.

116 days until Germar's release:

Germar Rudolf, a Max Plank scientist, was asked by various defense teams to testify as an expert in chemistry at trials in Germany. Yet the judges refused to hear his testimony in open violation of German law, which does not allow the rejection of expert witnesses already present in the court room.

Rudolf's rejected expert report was then published by a defendant who had requested it for his defense. This defendant considered it vital to draw attention to this illegal suppression of evidence, which he sought to do by adding a perfectly legitimate, though polemical, introduction and appendix to Rudolf's report. Thanks to this publication, Rudolf was sentenced to 14 months in prison. The court argued that Rudolf's findings in combination with the defendant's comments could arouse hostile emotions against witnesses, whose testimonies conflicted with Rudolf's findings.

many "jokes" have been passed into reality by British MPs in recent times, so why not equally so in Germany.

Some examples:

Terrorism Act 2000: anyone wearing a T-shirt that supports a group deemed to be terrorist (this the legislation that caused 82 year-old Walter Wolfgang - remember him - to be arrested in 2005)

Regulation of Investigatory Powers act (also 2000) that requires any organisation intending to use encrypted email to be ready and waiting to give their private key to government agents

SOCPA Act (2005) that prevents anyone demonstrating within 1 km of the UK Parliament unless they have a police warrant to do so...

The 2004 (or was in 2005?) Broadcasting Act that made the BBC licence fee a tax.

The 2006 or was it 2007? Act on "Glorifying Terrorism"

The latest (2009) legislation relating to government requirements to know about UK citizens about travelling abroad.

I'm no lawyer... I'm sure a legal expert could provide a very long list of legislation that has been passed since Blair was elected in 1997. And as Blair's party has such a large majority there is very little that can be done to stop them... as Craig Murray says.... Is this Democracy?

@heckmanns

by stopwar on 15.03.2009 [16:21]

Pardon my ignorance, but which country was this?

In the UK, talk of revising the 6 million total was cleverly managed by calling it the work of the extreme right. Unfortunately, those in extreme right-wing parties did include it in their literature, which seemed to some (including me at the time) to prove the point.

As Arthur C. Clarke most famously said:

"The truth, as ever, will be far stranger".

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS EXIST JUST TO BRAIN WASH - There is no other reason

by CANUKISTAN_VIEW on 15.03.2009 [17:05]

@stopwar: PROBABLY CANADA - here there are classes of religion and moral! Smart jew goes to different schools and they also get brainwashed but as zio agents as opposed to obedient goyim.

The catholic church (Vatican) IMPOSED IGNORANCE DURING THE ENTIRE MIDDLE AGES! This is why this period is also known as DARK AGE or OBSCURANTISM! We should never forget what those secular thinkers and masons did for us, to help us think and seek the truth (well until Weishaupt screwed all that).

Only the clergy, and not all of them, have the right and access to education. THERE WERE NO SCHOOLS just for those living in convents. The nobility has their private tutors but for most part they were also ignorant. Thus the church men were able to read and write and they screwed everybody else until they got competitions from the jews that also knew how to read and write and in more than one language. This cultural crime came after the glorious GREEK GOLDEN AGE! This also explains WHY PAGANISM WAS THE ENEMY OF THE CHURCH as they were too smart to swallow christian legends! No offence to believers; just facts!

But people stupidity has no end. In a way I was lucky to be educated in Protestant, then in Catholic and then Secular-Masonic schools. The worst education by far was the catholic and the best the secular-masonic! The Protestant did not include any rituals, they did not push for any shit, they were just great and also with very good standards.

As a growing up child it did not escape to my mind the stupidity and mediocrity by changing schools not because I was a bad student but because the family moved. I was able to appreciate different worlds at early age.

Cheers from Canada - Peace Peace

I didn't realise! But as you mentioned the C.... word

by stopwar on 15.03.2009 [17:16]

it will be only a matter of time before armageddon shows his mask.

In the meantime...

from what little knowledge of history I have gleaned over the years... it seems that this has always been the trick, and it has always worked... but only in the short-term.

"You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time"

Great quote - wish I could remember who first said it.
