US intel predicts Israel-Iran war in 2009

Sat, 14 Feb 2009 09:26:39 GMT

The US intelligence chief reportedly expects Israel and Iran to engage in a major military confrontation before the end of the year.

Dennis Blair, the newly-appointed head of US intelligence, said Tel Aviv will eventually declare war on Tehran as a last-ditch effort to curb Iran's enrichment capabilities, Israeli daily Ha'aretz reported on Saturday.

Detailed military plans to bomb Iran's nuclear infrastructure have long been on the table in Tel Aviv.

Israel accuses Iran, a signatory to the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT), of pursuing a military nuclear program.

Iran, however, says it enriches uranium for civilian applications and that it has a right to the technology already in the hands of many others.

In an annual threat assessment to Congress on Thursday, Blair reconfirmed the findings of a 2007 intelligence report, asserting once again that Iran is not currently working toward weaponization.

The retired admiral said that while Iran has made progress in enrichment, there is proof that Tehran "does not currently have a nuclear weapon, and does not have enough fissile material for one".

The National Intelligence Estimate (NIE) issued in November 2007 by sixteen US intelligence agencies has been an obstacle to Israeli efforts in building a case for war against the Islamic Republic.

In a Friday interview, former Israeli UN ambassador Dan Gillerman nevertheless revealed that Tel Aviv is preparing a military offensive against the country.

Gillerman explained that Israel could no longer afford to wait for international efforts to bring Iran's enrichment to an end.

Israeli legislator and weapons expert Isaac Ben-Israel has also called for Tel Aviv to attack Tehran in the coming year.

The Israeli calls against Tehran come at a time when prospects for direct US-Iran diplomacy have increased significantly in recent weeks.

Iran and the US have had no diplomatic ties for almost thirty years, but in an abrupt volte-face in the White House policy of isolating Iran, US President Barack Obama has vowed to break the ice and create conditions for the two sides to "start sitting across the table, face to face" in the coming months.

"I think there's the possibility, at least, of a relationship of mutual respect and progress," Obama said at his first prime time press conference on Monday.

"My expectation is, in the coming months, we will be looking for openings that can be created where we can start sitting across the table face-to-face with diplomatic overtures that will allow us to move our policy in the new direction," he added.

Israel fears US-Iran talks may lead to rapprochement between the two countries

— a development that may be able to slightly change the balance of power in the Middle East.

Iran has shown openness toward US calls for dialogue but insists that Washington should be seeking lasting 'change' and not a mere shift in tactics.

Israel couldn't even beat Hizbollah.

by Iranian-Shi'ite on 14.02.2009 [15:06 ]

They couldn't even achieve their objectives against Hamas.

What do they think that they will be able to accomplish against Iran?

those motherfrackers are crazy

The Zionist entity that has not recognizable borders is in a killing frenzy and its 'leaders' might be considering nuking Tehran. It's the whole of "Abel and Cain" story all over again; these days, however, no biblical PR will save their faces: mass murderers they are.

don't be silly

The Judeo-Christian Zionist project is to try and grab all the land from the Nile to the Euphrates & part of northern Saudi Arabia. They believe it was promised to Abraham in Genesis. And if they can't succeed, well, plan B is to create an East vs. West Armageddon that will bring a Messiah for the Jews. (For the Zionist Christians, the Jewish Messiah is the Anti-Christ). So, their project is world destruction that will allegedly lead to a "millennial kingdom." We can't have a utopian millenium without first creating global destruction, can we? Of course not, silly. It's all plainly written in their writings. They intend global destruction. For a "greater good".

Its very simple the zioWest along with their creation

by cosmo on 14.02.2009 [18:54 ]

the zioentity are going after all the resources in the middle east and Iran has gas, oil and uranium.

So the zioVultures want the whole lot.

Time for simple solutions all the waters of the zioentity can be radioactively poisoned with red mercury and plutonium with no mercy to anybody already at this stage, so what is the wisdom of attacking anybody else except for devastation since the existence cannot go on for any human in occupied Palestine after that?

To the zioWest and their entity: Stop threatning and bullshiting before the real shit hits the fan with supersonic speed.

To the zioBuggers and their creators if they do not heed then there is nothing left for anyone to take.

Sneak attack

Since when did Israel honourably declare war on anybody? Israel specializes in the sneak attack.

The might attack only if the UN is capable to disarm Iran...

...that isn't likely to happen given the fact that Russia isn't much offered from the US to roll over in the security council. Also the "great" US terrorist state wants to restructure the security council in order to get more bloody actions against civilians approved.

But America's strength will be measured by the economy and there is the real threat for them. Unofficial comments in the ongoing G7 meeting: US is no longer credit worthy.

maybe the Khazar state

by falluja_superstar on 15.02.2009 [06:20 ]

will launch a war for greater Israel, nuking all the Arabs in the process

we will see...

by truth-be-told on 15.02.2009 [10:33 ]

Israel use nuclear weapons against Iran!

What the world's response will be is the real question!

ezekiel 38

by sahih_bukhari on 15.02.2009 [11:03 ]

the zionist christians & jews often quote ezekiel 38 as a prophecy about a russian-persian (gog & magog) war against israel. but lo & behold, the genealogies of genesis mention "ashkenaz" as a tribal relative of magog (genesis 10). are the khazar jews from the trans-caucasus "gog & magog"?

sadly, the russians & chinese might not do anything if israel blew up the arab world. they might sit back and let everyone destroy themselves, then move in. but zbignew brzezinski's grand chessboard strategy is start as many destabilizing wars in asia as possible, like pakistan, the uighur-muslims in china & the tibetans.

it'd be nice if someone would knock the zio-west down a few pegs, but it's not remotely clear to me russia & china have that ability. either they are waiting for the right moment, or they are "outgunned", or they are compromised & have no intention of stopping the zionist project of world domination.

anyways, people should stock up on food & essentials. things are gonna get a lot worse.
