Israeli Security Firm in Charge at Japanese Nuke Facilities Prior to Disaster

Ed note—to all those who scoffed at my questioning whether or not the present nuclear meltdown taking place at Japan's nuke facility might have been part of an Israeli intel operation aimed at demonstrating the power of Israel's stuxnet computer virus, Haaretz is now reporting that it was the Israeli security firm Magna that was providing security for the plant prior to the incident.

Source—Haaretz

Israeli firm which secured Japan nuclear plant says workers there 'putting their lives on the line'

Magna CEO says Japanese workers at nuclear plant 'projecting business as usual' but says it is 'unclear if they are healthy due to the high level of radiation at the reactor, which is life-threatening.'

The CEO of the Israeli company that installed the security system at Japan's Fukushima nuclear power plant said Thursday that those workers who have elected to stay behind are "putting their lives on the line" to save Japan.

Magna BSP set up the security system about a year ago at the facility, which suffered extensive damage after the recent earthquake and tsunami, with particular concern over radiation leakage from the reactors at the site.

The damaged No. 4 unit of the Fukushima Dai-ichi nuclear complex in Japan, on Tuesday March 15, 2011.

The system includes cameras and a warning system, enabling the facility's security staff to monitor anyone attempting to trespass onto the site or damage the perimeter fence. The security system was designed to guard the plant against any hostile elements seeking to seize radioactive material to use in a terrorist attack.

Among the 50 Japanese workers who have remained at Fukushima amid the unfolding crisis, in an effort to bring the facility under control, are two individuals who were in Israel about three weeks ago, where they underwent training to transfer the operation of the security system to the Japanese themselves.

"We still haven't been able to make contact with them, either by phone or e-mail," Magna CEO Haim Siboni said yesterday. "We know they're alive, but it's not clear if they are healthy due to the high level of radiation at the reactor, which is life-threatening."

"The Japanese workers who have remained at the reactor are really putting their lives on the line, with the knowledge that they're doing it to save all of Japan," he added.

Although there is no access to the area, Siboni said the cameras from his company's security system – which were installed high up – were probably not damaged and likely captured the post-earthquake explosions at the site, as well as the impact of the tsunami.

Magna BSP was established by Siboni about 10 years ago and is owned by several partners. Based in Dimona, the firm employs 15 people, a number which Siboni expects to expand dramatically in light of additional orders Magna has received from Japan and interest shown by the operators of nuclear reactors in other countries. Its operations in Japan are conducted through a Japanese government firm.

"We have an agreement in principle with the Japanese that we will provide protection for all of the country's nuclear reactors," Siboni said.

Magna had planned to send additional security equipment to Japan next week. The Japanese have not asked that the shipment be halted, Siboni said, adding: "They are projecting business as usual."

Israeli firm's cameras recording Japanese nuclear core

Security cameras installed by Israeli defense company at Fukushima plant have ability to detect presence of radioactive clouds in air.

Talkbacks (6)

As the world continues to gaze with concern at Japan's Fukushima nuclear power plant, hi-tech security cameras installed by an Israeli defense firm are recording events at the troubled core from an insider's vantage point.

The Arava-based Magna BSP company, which specializes in producing and installing stereoscopic sensory and thermal imaging cameras, had been contracted to place cameras around one of the plant's six cores – the core that has been experiencing explosions and overheating.

Speaking to The Jerusalem Post on Monday, Magna's head, Haim Siboni, said the thermal cameras also had the ability to detect the presence of radioactive clouds in the air, but added that Magna had not been able to gain access to the images recorded by the cameras at this time.

"Because we are using these special cameras, we can also identify radioactive clouds, due to the spectrum that our cameras can sense," Siboni said.

Although Magna is able to gain remote access to its computer system, which receives the cameras' images, Siboni said his company had not yet been authorized to do so.

“We have not been allowed to take control remotely yet,” Siboni said.

Magna has been asked to secure a second core at the Fukushima plant in the near future.

I WOULD HAVE BET ON ISRAEL BEING BEHIND IT!

My 13 years in France was full with war, hatred and destruction of the Nazi Amalekites even though the Nazis were vanquished and destroyed during and after WWII and of the Arabs (Muslims) on the lips of every Jewish Zionist including their Secular (lay) Christian acolytes and non Christians alike. The French Jews were the only people I saw living on a totally different planet, right outside the pale of humanity, of all humanness. If GOD Himself has not been able to make humans of them, who can dare say they can ever make humans of those genocidal and blood sucking racists and venomous snakes?

They never stopped shedding Six Million crocodile tears on television and in the press while they were funding the Israelis to exterminate the other Amalekites, the Palestinians and steal their lands. When the Jews carried out the Armenian Genocide, Robert Fisk blamed the Turks, meaning the Muslims, and not the Jews! More Muslims died after the destruction of the Ottoman Empire and Caliphate than Armenian Christians. The Jews benefited from both WWI and WWII.

Wherever that DAMNED TRIBE gets involved, whether in the Arab and Muslim world, Afghanistan, Iraq, Palestine, Pakistan, Turkey or India, Korea, Vietnam, Japan, China...we see GENOCIDE or HOLOCAUSTS after holocausts, including the recent nuclear one in Japan.

We also see the defilement of morals, profanation of religion and GOD, degeneration of the plant, animal and human kind, pollution of the habitat, devastation, bankruptcy and slavery!

But, how can we blame them when we are the ones who keep entrusting them with or “SECURITY”, education, health, food, money, research laboratories and so on?

When a Korean nuclear plant would explode, don’t even ask WHO DID IT!

It's worth looking at Benjamin Fulford's videos on utube re Japan's troubled relationship with the US and Illuminati. He states that a few (about ten thousand) are trying to contro billions around the world and they were also furious with Japan for trying to unload their dollars. He said they threatened to hit Japan with an earthquake a few years ago..seems very 'in the know' – says HAARP can cause earthquakes.

“Those Israeli’s sure are snakes.”

I was just wondering whether it was not a Jew who started the Roman Catholic Inquisition!

DOMINIC GUZMAN – POPE INNOCENT III (13th Century) engineered Rome most dreadful engine of terror and destruction – THE INQUISITION AGAINST BIBLE BELIEVING CHRISTIANS the ALBIGENSES from the City of Albi in France who used to debate with Catholic priests and Guzman as well (today GUZMAN has been canonised as Saint Dominic).

1207 CE – Coloquy of Montreal – Guzman was defeated and humiliated by the Albigenses in the theological debate and speaking ON BEHALF OF CHRIST he promised slavery and death to the Albigenses. He formed the Order of the Dominicans which became the chief instrument of Terror of Rome’s Inquisition.

A genocidal crusade led by mass murderer Simon de Monfort (a close friend of Guzman) was ordered against the Albigenses and all traces of their teachings by Innocent III.

The pic shows a mushroom cloud rising above the Fukushima Daiichi reactor .. neither a hydrogen explosion nor a meltdown can produce such an effect.

[url]http://s009.radikal.ru/i308/1103/03/931d9d855b18.jpg[/url]

Hydrogen is produced by the generators in Power Stations, although they are sealed no system is perfect, when atmospheric moisture enters the system the highly charged environment immediately reduces the water molecules into hydrogen and oxygen, which is why turbine halls are large well ventilated structures.

On humid days condensation gathers on outside of the generators, the constituent droplets absorb the raw hydrogen and oxygen which accumulate and drip into the lower reaches under the generators, whence when the air dries they evaporate and the absorbed hydrogen rises into deckhead spaces under the generators.

Occasionally similarly trapped hydrogen gas will be ignited and a minor explosion takes place, as the hydrogen atoms each combine with two oxygen atoms to produce water, and unless extra material is either flung around or is set on fire or detonated by the initial blast, there is no shrapnel and no smoke.

In a nuclear reactor uranium fuel rods that remain stable in correct storage, are put together to make a “nuclear pile” which will increase in temperature exponentially of its own volition, unless cooled or separated.

Sodium is exposed to the pile which becomes a radioactive liquid, that is passed thru pipe nests in heat exchangers to heat 2nd batch non radioactive sodium, which goes thru second round exchangers that heat water to make steam that drives the Power Station’s turbines, which turn generators to produce electricity.

In a meltdown the flow of coolant delivered to the reactor core is interrupted, which unless the pile is reduced and the system isolated, becomes a run away or uncontrolled process that leads to meltdown, the welds the heat exchangers get over stressed and crack.

Makes a soup of radioactive and non radioactive liquid sodium and high pressure steam, the resultant explosion reduces the reactor to wreckage, and releases a cloud of highly radioactive steam into the atmosphere, at no time is a mushroom cloud produced like the one in the shot.

By Glenn Chapman (AFP) – Mar 3, 2011

LONG BEACH, California — A German computer security expert said Thursday he believes the United States and Israel’s Mossad unleashed the malicious Stuxnet worm on Iran’s nuclear program.

“My opinion is that the Mossad is involved,” Ralph Langner said while discussing his in-depth Stuxnet analysis at a prestigious TED conference in the Southern California city of Long Beach.

“But, the leading source is not Israel... There is only one leading source, and that is the United States.”

There has been widespread speculation Israel was behind the Stuxnet worm that has attacked computers in Iran, and Tehran has blamed the Jewish state and the United States for the killing of two nuclear scientists in November and January.

“The idea behind Stuxnet computer worm is really quite simple,” Langner said. “We don’t want Iran to get the bomb.”

The malicious code was crafted to stealthily take control of valves and rotors at an Iranian nuclear plant, according to Langner.

“It was engineered by people who obviously had inside information,” he explained. “They probably also knew the shoe size of the operator.”

Stuxnet targets computer control systems made by German industrial giant Siemens and commonly used to manage water supplies, oil rigs, power plants and other critical infrastructure.

“The idea here is to circumvent digital data systems, so the human operator could not get there fast enough,” Langner said.

“When digital safety systems are compromised, really bad things can happen — your plant can blow up.

Most Stuxnet infections have been discovered in Iran, giving rise to speculation it was intended to sabotage nuclear facilities there. The worm was crafted to recognize the system it was to attack.

The New York Times reported in January that US and Israeli intelligence services collaborated to develop the computer worm to sabotage Iran’s efforts to make a nuclear bomb.

Russia called on NATO in January to launch an investigation into the computer worm that targeted a Russian-built Iranian nuclear power plant, saying the incident could have triggered a new Chernobyl.

Russia’s envoy to NATO in January said Stuxnet caused centrifuges producing enriched uranium at the Bushehr plant to spin out of control, which could have sparked a new “Chernobyl tragedy,” the 1986 nuclear meltdown in Ukraine.

“The operators saw on their screens that the centrifuges were working normally when in fact they were out of control,” Dmitry Rogozin told reporters after meeting with ambassadors from the 28-nation Western alliance.

Russia is helping Iran build a nuclear power plant in the southern city of Bushehr for civilian use.

Langner said the Stuxnet code was designed to trick human operators by showing them recorded readings indicating machinery is running normally while behind the scenes they are heading for destruction.

during a heist the security camera is running pre-recorded video showing nothing is wrong.”

Iran’s envoy to the International Atomic Energy Agency has denied that the Stuxnet attack effected the country’s nuclear program, including Bushehr.

A terrifying aspect of Stuxnet, according to Langner, is that it is a generic attack that would work well in factories, power plants, or other operations plentiful in the United States.

Funny how Israel is around or involved when disasters occur.

Mossad agents were spotted just before 911, security cameras at the airports where the fictional terrorists supposedly embarked that day were managed by an Israeli company, and we never got to see the video feeds, exactly like it happened with the same company at London 7/7 bombing, or for the ‘Christmas underwear bomber’ last year.

Coincidences ... sure !

Keep in mind that the Patriot act protected Israel from any lawsuit related to 911. Why worry about that since they were officially not involved? Why not exclude Belgium and Zimbabwe too?

Israel controls the US, not the other way around. They even manage to be off the list of countries with nuclear weapons although they do have them. It's time people wake up!

Reporting from Japan:

1. This is absolutely INSANE! Why would Japan, which is essentially antizionist, employ these thugs? Answer: Japan is fully integrated into the US military arsenal and the US is ZOG territory. I can think of no other explanation.

2. I do not scoff at Mark, although since I am living here I have to admit I have been hoping for a best case scenario and probably in a state of denial about these grim realities.

3. That said, even this lousy stinking security firm Magma did not technically have access to the workings of the plant, and if Stux Net virus was used one wonders how this is employed, and if they even needed to be at the plant in order to use the stux net virus. Don't know but stinks to high heaven.

4. Just to put this in perspective, Why did Japan embark on this crazy idea of building nuke plants in such a dangerous environment as the RING OF FIRE?

Long story but the gist of it is Japan is not the poor victim people like to make it out to be, it is a much grayer color, in their cooperation with US/Israel controlled military empire etc. Atoms for Peace etc.,

I have long criticized Japan's use of nuclear power, and it is well known that they have plenty of nuclear materials from the reactors themselves that could quickly be converted into launch worthy nuclear missiles. Some Japanese politicians have said Japan should become a normal country and adopt nuclear weapons.

Japan's nuclear industry has a long and sordid history of negligence and corner cutting. Did the Israelis play a role in getting this very old plant an extension of use when it was supposed to be decommissioned (I believe this is true but don't have a link on hand) in March of 2011? Certainly not directly but perhaps in a general way, that could be, or more probably plain old fashioned human greed and stupidity played a part.

Internationales Bittgesuch

In der Geschichte der Menschheit wurden viele historische Ereignisse durch viele unterschiedliche Menschen aus verschiedenen Blickwinkeln beschrieben.

Egal, was das Thema war, es gab Tausende von Büchern, die sich damit auseinandersetzen und sie von jedem möglichen Blickwinkel aus analysierten...

Je weiter von unserer alltäglichen Wirklichkeit, desto besser.

Nehmen Sie nur die Bücher über die Existenz Gottes ...

Aber in unserem aufgeklärten 21. Jahrhunderts gibt es ein Thema, über das wir keinen Zweifel haben dürfen, eine Theorie nicht zugänglich für wissenschaftliche Forschung: die historische Hypothese, "Holocaust" genannt.

Mit welcher Art von unglaublicher Fantasie sogenannte Augenzeugen auch berichten, egal, ob ihre Aussagen entweder absurd sind oder bestenfalls eine Science-Fiction – wir müssen es akzeptieren, ja "glauben".

Ein 89 Jahre alter kanadische „Überlebender“ macht die Runden an kanadischen Schulen und erzählt den Kindern:

“Ich bin 6 mal vergast worden”...

Kein Problem ...

Ist ihm so weit gut bekommen...

Und es gibt mehr von diesen Geschichten aus dem gleichen Regal.

Es könnte lustig sein, wenn es nicht so ernst wäre...

Daher weigere ich mich, mehr von den Fantasien zu glauben.

Vom Kindergarten an hat man mir gesagt: "Bezweifele alles, denn das ist der Motor des Fortschritts unseres Wissens."

Also handle ich danach:

“Wir, die Unterzeichneten, bitten die Regierung der Bundesrepublik Deutschland dringend eine unabhängige Internationale Kommission einzurichten, um von einem wissenschaftlichen Standpunkt aus, in Übereinstimmung mit den üblichen forensischen und historischen Verfahren, die in jedem Land, wenn Mord begangen wurde, angewendet werden, die offiziellen Vorgänge des als "Holocaust" bekannten Ereignisses, zu erforschen. Es wird davon ausgegangen, dass Wissenschaftler und Delegierte als Mitglieder der Kommission eingeladen werden, die die Theorie des "Holocausts" entweder begünstigen, wie auch widerlegen.

Wir nehmen an, dass eine so wichtige historische Theorie nicht nur dem Ermessen von Menschen mit beschränktem Zugang zu Dokumenten überlassen werden kann.

Ganz gleich wie ehrlich die Absichten von Leuten wie z.B. Prof. Faurisson, Dr. Germar Rudolf, Carlo Mattogno, Ernst Zündel auch sein können, so können sie unwillkürlich einen Fehler begangen haben, aufgrund ihres eingeschränkten Zugangs zu Dokumenten. Eines der Archive, die von der Internationalen Kommission geprüft werden sollte, ist die riesige Dokumentation des Internationalen Suchdienstes (ITS, englisch, für International Tracing Service), eine vom Internationalen Komitee des Roten Kreuzes (IKRK) geleitete und verwaltete Institution mit Sitz in der hessischen Stadt Bad Arolsen. Ebenfalls sollte der Zugang zu den Archiven des Vatikan über die Jahre zwischen 1939 und 1945 sehr nützlich für die Klärung der Theorie sein, da katholische Priester im besetzten Polen denkbar volle Kenntnis aller Umstände in den Lagern hatten.

Daher wird die Internationale Kommission, berechtigt jede Frage vorzubringen, die die größere Chance haben, die historische Wahrheit für immer festzulegen.

Bitte tun Sie alles in Ihrer Macht, eine solche Kommission zu ernennen, damit diese schwierige Angelegenheit ein für allemal aus der Welt geschafft wird.“

Many people have been inquiring where to find reliable information on the status of the radiation levels at the Fukushima nuclear power plant. Due to the media’s control on the vital information required to make informed decisions, I have assembled some information from as many reliable media sources that I could find.
