

What Is Going On With The Earth - One Person's Perspective

The way I see it, we have 2 problems / life changing events on our horizon. The first one and the one I guess we will experience first is Nibiru and the Dwarf Star. The second one is when Earth passes through the center of the galactic plane.

There will be shit happening before, during and after these 2 events but these are the main events.

Nibiru comes into the earth's orbit about every 3600 years on a wide elliptical orbit around the sun. See:

It is supposedly orbiting a dwarf star that could only previously be seen using infrared technology. The dwarf star and Nibiru are being seen more and more now that they are in our inner solar system. See:

or do a search on two suns on Youtube.

I have personally seen Nibiru, so I know that it's existence is real. Unlike a lot of you who think this is a bunch of bs. What I saw was it setting in the east at sunset as the moon was rising. I don't know why Nibiru or the dwarf star are not more visible. Some people see them mostly during sunrise and sunset and some have photographed them using digital cameras and camcorders equipped with sun filters during the day. One thing is apparent and that is the dwarf star and Nibiru seen to be in the constellation Virgo. When it was first discovered it was near Orion. As it approached us it went through Gemini, Cancer then Leo. Now it is in Virgo. This corresponds to the blacked out area on Google sky maps. If you are trying to see or photograph it yourself, you might download Stellarium and use to locate Virgo.

The second event, the Earth's passage through the galactic plane, occurs once every 11,500 years. This video explains it.

I'm not sure if the Mayans made Nibiru & the dwarf star a part of their calendar but it is understood that the Mayan long count calendar tracks the procession of the sun through the galaxy. This 11,500 year cycle also seems to begin when we pass through the galactic plane and corresponds to the cycles of previous ice ages on Earth. <sup>1</sup>

The problem mankind is facing is that the people who know the most about this stuff are keeping it secret. So we, the general public, are left to extrapolate data from the various compartmentalized sources. The people studying the various aspects of what is happening now, namely the astrophysicists, scientists, astronomers, etc, don't have the big picture. So hopefully this article will help get more brain cells working to correct that situation.

I'm not going to begin to try and predict when these events are going to occur. I have 2 balls and neither one of them is crystal. But I have no doubt that these events will occur sometime in the near future.

Because of their dense mass and strong gravitational pull, Nibiru and the Dwarf Star will probably cause a geophysical pole shift. That is the earth's axis will change (as opposed to a magnetic pole shift which flips the polarity of the earth's poles). This will result in all kinds of earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanos, hurricanes and other earth changes. If the insider video is to be believed, our brains will get zapped by Nibiru too and get erased. That's the bad news.

The good news is that we are being transformed into a higher consciousness. This is a purification process that we collectively need to get through in order to prepare us for the upcoming spiritual awakening which is tied to the second major event, namely the trip through the galactic plane. The ancient Sumerians called Nibiru the purifier. That seems to be pretty accurate. Even now you may have noticed people you know that have been dying. The energy from Nibiru seems to be killing off those people that are not adapting to the new vibrational level that we are experiencing. This effect will no doubt increase as Nibiru and the dwarf star move closer.

The second major event, namely moving through the galactic plane, will be a lot more intense. There will be more risks and more rewards. The center of the galaxy was regarded as a deity by the Mayans. They considered it a holy place. The scientists of today know that a black hole exists at the center. They say that the black hole has squashed the gravity into a thin plane that stretches out as far as if not beyond our galaxy. Scientists say that the plane is thin, possible as thin as a piece of paper yet it forms the glue that holds all the celestial objects stuck on the galactic plane. As we pass from one side of this plane to the other, I'm thinking our magnetic poles will flip just like every other object that passes through the plane. I think that one side of the plane is one polarity and the other side the opposite.

In addition to the earth changes brought about by the passing through the plane we will also be passing through a photon belt, which represents the life force of the universe. It will trigger a spiritual awakening unlike anything that you could imagine. Our DNA will be instantly transformed. We will no longer have to speak. We will begin to communicate telepathically. Some of us will be able to heal people with their minds. We will begin to see 5 dimensions instead of 3. We will begin to see other forms of energy such as infrared. We will not know time as we did before. It may be that every moment is an eternity to us, but whatever it is our old view of time will disappear.

These are the tools we will be given and we will need to use them to survive. On the earthly plane all hell will be breaking loose as the mantle shifts in the Earth's core. While the pole flip is happening the Earth's magnetic field will not be working (shields will be down) which will allow radiation from space to plummet to the Earth. The Earth will become a radioactive wasteland. Meteorites will also be pelting the earth.

It is important to keep in mind that the Creator will not put you into any situation that you cannot survive if you are tune with the Oneness.

The whole point of all of these coming Earth changes are to bring us to another level of evolution. For those that achieve that level, they are likely to be transformed into another dimension and escape the Earth changes altogether. In the meantime, before your transformation to that other dimension is complete, you may need to use astral projection to seek a temporary refuge.

With the spinning of the earth's magma, it will turn the Earth into a giant electrical generator, triggering thousands if not millions of nuclear sized explosions.<sup>2</sup> There will be great groaning noises from the Earth. There will be lightning rising up from the earth into the sky. The sky will be pitch black. It will be a true nuclear winter complete with nuclear rain.

Continents will move, some disappearing under the sea while other new continents rise up.

While all these changes are going on they are only mirroring the changes taking place inside you.

After these changes take place, the world will have been transformed. It will be a strange new world. There will be strange and exotic plant and animal species emerge. Many people will have mutations.

There will be no need of money. People will freely give each other what is needed.

We will have new sources of electricity that will create no pollution and will produce abundant free electricity to all.

There will be no need of governments to run the world. Leaders will be chosen by their level of consciousness they have attained, as evidenced by their macro powers. Those powers include healing, astral projection, psychokinesis, clairvoyancy, precognition, reading auras, seeing new energy levels like infrared, and physically flying. The top leaders will be the ones that will be able to fly.

There will be no animosity between animals and man. All people will be vegetarians and will have an abundance of delicious new vegetarian foods with many tasting exactly like the meat dishes we used to eat.

We will have learned that it was necessary for mankind to experience those earth changes so that we could achieve a balanced world like this one.
